OPEN INVESTIGATION TO DECIDE CAUSE OF DIRIGIBLE DISASTER

Pension Measure Approved By Assembly

FINAL ACTION IS TAKEN ON BUDGET BILL

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 7.—(UP)—A liberalized old age pension measure which sailed through the assembly without opposition moved to the senate today as the legislature began a march through important bills previously held back pending final action on the 1937-39 budget.

Six hours after the lower house sustained Gov. Frank F. Merriam's alterations in the $438,000,000 budget bill, thereby enacting the document and clearing the way for action on appropriation measures, the members voted, 73 to 0, to pass the Hornblower pension proposal.

Introduced by Assemblyman William Hornblower, R., San Francisco, and 45 other members as AB1—the first bill to appear in the records when the legislature convened last January—the measure would liberalize the present pension act by guaranteeing $35 a month to eligible recipients and permitting a $15 side income without deduction.

In addition, the recipient could retain ownership of his home if it was not assessed beyond $8000. The allowable $15 side income might cover the value of food-stuffs produced by the applicant, income, rent or gifts.

The present requirements setting the age restriction at 65 and state residence at five years would

AS FLAMES ENVELOPED THE HINDENBURG, REDUCING DE LUXE LINER TO JUNK

Here is the scene that met the horrified eyes of hundreds at Lakehurst, N. J., Thursday night, waiting for the landing of the German dirigible Hindenburg, completing the first trans-Atlantic crossing of the year. Just a few seconds after the mooring ropes had been lowered, flames swept the ship after a blast. This Aeneas telephoto, transmitted from New York, shows the flames lighting the darkness, with the prostrate frame of the Hindenburg being made into an inferno.

At the extreme right is Hugo Eckener, Zeppelin chief who soon will be in the United States to aid in the inquiry into the tragic fate of the Hindenburg. Eckener declared only helium would be used in the future to fill the huge dirigibles. (Additional dirigible pictures on Page 29.)

MARTIN TELLS FLIGHT PLANS

Glenn L. Martin, in an interview with a Register reporter today, announced final details for the anniversary flight next Monday which will commemorate his history making cross-water flight from Newport to Catalina 25 years ago.

Use Clipper Ship

Expressing pleasure at the prospect of once more making the trip by air to Catalina and back, Martin revealed that one of the huge Pan-America clipper ships, manufactured in his Baltimore plant, will be delivered to him at Los Angeles harbor at 11:30 a. m. Monday. The ship will be moored off Cabrillo Beach just inside the breakwater. Guests and mail will be immediately taken on board and at 11:45 the ship will take off for the first leg of the memorial flight.

Flying southward, the ship will circle over the Newport harbor area, dipping oceanward in a salute to those on shore. It will circle once more and head out to sea from a point over the Newport Beach pier at 12:10 p. m. Martin recalled today, that it was at 12:10 p. m., May 10, 1912, when he headed his home made "hydro-aeroplane" over the Newport pier toward Catalina Island.

Banquet Arranged

The clipper ship will land in Avalon bay at 12:30 p. m. Guests will be taken off in small craft and will attend a banquet in Martin's honor at the St. Catherine hotel. At 2:05 p. m., the clipper will leave Avalon for Newport, where it will again circle the bay, and head for Los Angeles harbor to unload passengers. From that point it will leave immediately for Alameda.

DROPS PENSION QUIZ

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(UP)—Rep. Thomas F. Ford, D., Cal., announced today that he had abandoned plans for a federal investigation of the Townsend old age pension movement because it would "afford them another opportunity to raise a defense fund from the unsuspecting public."

32 PERSONS DEAD, MISSING AFTER BIG GERMAN AIRSHIP IS DESTROYED BY FLAMES

NAVAL STATION, LAKEHURST, N. J., May 7.—(UP)—Revised compilations today list 32 known dead or missing in the flames that destroyed the 800 foot dirigible Hindenburg, pride of the Reich.

United States sailors, trained for dirigible disaster work and stolid white jacketed survivors of the German crew poked among the tangled and seared wreckage for possible additional bodies.

American aviation authorities and German officials meantime converged here for formal inquiries to seek the explanation of the spark that enveloped the hydrogen-filled airship in flames just as she was landing last night on the completion of her first transatlantic voyage this year.

Ambassador Hans Luther came from Washington to head the German representation. Dr. Fred Figg, new head of the bureau of air commerce, was on hand for the commerce department, and Admiral Cook, chief of the bureau of naval aviation, flew here from Washington.

Experts Puzzled

As to the "why" of the explosion and fire that brought disaster to Germany's efficiency in airship operation over many years, the experts at the outset seemed as puzzled as did Capt. Ernst Lehmann, veteran Zeppelin navigator, who escaped from the flames murmuring "I don't understand, I don't understand."

In the words of Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, chief of the Lakehurst naval air station and himself a survivor of the Shenandoah disaster, all that was known definitely so far was:

"A fire appeared in the after part of the ship and worked progressively forward. The ship settled to the ground tail first and was practically completely ablaze for her entire length by the time the ground was reached."

What the investigators primarily sought to determine was the

HELIUM BILL GETS APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(UP)—The senate military affairs committee today decided to report, favorably the Sheppard helium bill, designed to strengthen federal control over production, sale and use of the non-inflammable dirigible gas.

The measure would put helium wells under direction of the U. S. bureau of mines, from which the army and navy would requisition gas for their needs. Any surplus helium would be sold to American individuals and corporations at prices established by the bureau.

Export of helium would be prohibited for military purposes as at present except with the express permission of the president.

Permission to ship small quantities of the gas abroad for non-military uses, however, could be granted by the secretary of interior. Committee spokesmen said that shipment of large quantities of gas, such as would be necessary for a dirigible, would continue to be at the discretion of the president.

"The explosion of the Hindenburg was a factor which hurried the committee in reporting the measure," Sen. Elbert D. Thomas, D., Utah, said. "It can be seen that there is a great need for helium."

1000 WOMEN AT COOKING CLASS

Another capacity house greeted Miss Nancy Baker, outstanding home economist and director of the Register's three-day all-electric cooking school, at the closing session today.

Approximately 1000 housewives from Santa Ana and adjoining communities availed themselves of the opportunity to attend the three-day post-graduate course in home making in American Legion hall.

On each of the three days the auditorium's seating capacity was taxed to its limit.

During the course of instruction perplexing problems of the home, diet preparation, party suggestions and other phases of home making were discussed by Miss Baker, who gave practical demonstrations on all topics.

In addition to the instructions, many valuable prizes were awarded daily, in addition to a distribution, among those attending of the delightful dishes prepared on the platform.

In addition to the instruction given during the three-day course, women attending the classes enjoyed the display of new kitchen helps, modern equipment, and labor-saving devices assembled for the school. Not only were the devices on display but practical suggestions for their use by the housewife who wants to increase kitchen efficiency to the point of allowing more time for other interests were given by Miss Baker.

According to many of the women who have regularly attended cooking schools sponsored by The Register, this year's course was the most comprehensive and valuable of any that have been given in the city.

MERRILL LEAVES TOMORROW

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., May 7.—(UP)—Dick Merrill, trans-Atlantic flyer, announced today that he expected to take off from Floyd Bennett field tomorrow for London and make the return trip across the Atlantic with pictures of the coronation. He said Jack Lambie would accompany him as co-pilot.

They will fly a Lockheed Electric plane which is equipped with a two-way radio and automatic pilot device. It will carry 1200 gallons of gasoline.

SEEK GUN IN TAYLOR CASE

LOS ANGELES, May 7.—(UP)—The re-opened investigation of the 15-year-old William Desmond Taylor murder shifted to the resort city of Santa Barbara, Cal., where investigators sought a pearl-handled revolver.

Mrs. Charlotte Shelby, mother of Mary Miles Minter, admittedly received the revolver as a gift from a Santa Barbara jeweler. She testified yesterday before the grand jury that the revolver was in her possession at the time Taylor, noted film director, was slain.

Deputy District Attorney Eugene D. Williams, in charge of the investigation, declared the gun, missing 15 years, is expected to prove an important clue in the inquiry if it can be located.

During Mrs. Shelby's testimony before the grand jury, which was preceded by that of her two daughters, Miss Minter and Mrs. Margaret Fillmore, the mother recalled she had the gun in her possession at the time of the Taylor shooting but did not recall what happened to it afterwards.

WITNESSES TELL OF EXPLOSION AND FIRE ON GIANT DIRIGIBLE

LAKEHURST, N. J., May 7.—(UP)—Scores of witnesses who watched the flaming hulk of the dirigible Hindenburg fall described the scene today as like a "horrible nightmare."

William Von Meister, vice president of the company, and Harry A. Bruno, press agent, were standing directly under the nose of the big ship as it settled close to the ground.

"Suddenly, there was a terrific explosion under the gall flippers," Bruno said. "Flames shot through the ship in a fraction of a second. I saw two passengers hurled out of the window."

"We turned and ran as fast as we could to get out from under the big hulk."

Calls For Sweetheart

From a hospital bed, 22-year-old Theodore Ritter, mechanic aboard the dirigible, called out in broken English:

"Gertrude, Gertrude, Gertrude." Authorities sent for an interpreter. Ritter, slightly injured, explained that he wanted his sweetheart back home in Halle-Schwabtsch, Germany, to know that he had survived.

"I was in one of the engine gondolas," he said. "There was no indication that anything was wrong."

"We stopped the engine. There was a flash of flame."

"Our gondola was ripped from the ship. When it hit the ground,

"I know I jumped out of the ship. It wasn't far to the ground. Then I ran away. Somebody stopped me and I was taken to a plane."

"I don't see how anyone escaped," said 14-year-old Walter Galliford, who was standing 200 yards away from the ship when it burst into flames.

"The stern hit the ground with a crash. The heat was terrific. It sounded like the fuel tanks were exploding one by one."

GAS CHAMBER BILL IS SIGNED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 7.—Gov. Frank F. Merriam today signed a bill abolishing hanging and substituting lethal gas as California's legal method of exterminating murderers.

The bill was introduced by Sen. James B. Hoehman, former warden at San Quentin prison.

Adoption of the new act marked the end, in this state, of one of the traditional habits of the old west—dangling criminals at the end of a rope.

Its approval will necessitate construction of lethal gas chambers at San Quentin and Folsom prison to replace the present execution rooms containing gallows.

Awaiting execution at Folsom are three men—the Brites brothers, Coke and John, and Charles McGuire.

A question was raised today whether their original sentence "to be hanged by the neck until dead" would have to be revised to meet conditions of the new act.

Belief was general, however, that they would be hanged, provided appeals for new trials or clemency fail, but that future condemned men will be placed in the gas chamber.

Firemen Lack Union Status

TYPE OF WORK HELD AS CAUSE FOR SITUATION

Since they are government employees, Santa Ana firemen who elected officers this week for the Santa Ana Fire Fighters association, cannot strike or take an active part in any sympathetic strikes, Frank B. McCowen, president of the group, announced today.

"Although our group is affiliated with the International Association of Fire Fighters, which, in turn, is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, the local group is, in no way to be considered a labor union," McCowen said. "Our position is entirely different from that of labor union men as we are organized to protect the lives and property of communities in case of fire or other serious hazards."

Creation of Harmony
The 35,000 members of the International association, in the United States and Canada have as the sole reason for organizing, creation of harmony and a better knowledge of fire fighting, he explained. Through the association, local members obtain magazines which are informative of latest methods of efficient fire fighting. "We wish to inform the people that this organization was created to place its members on higher plane of skill and efficiency and to encourage formation of sick and death benefits funds," said McCowen. "We also seek to establish a school of instruction and to cultivate fellowship among members. We are non-partisan and shall not be used for dissemination of partisan principles nor for the promotion of candidacy of any person seeking public office or preferment."

Officers of the local association also include E. R. Skaggs, vice president; E. C. Gates, recording secretary and J. J. Hansen, secretary-treasurer.

AIRSHIP FIRE FATAL TO 32

source of the spark that set fire to the explosive hydrogen and gasoline within the great ship as it was only 200 feet from earth.

97 Aboard Dirigible
According to the revised lists issued by representatives of the Zeppelin company, out of 97 persons aboard the Hindenburg, most of them Europeans, 66 were known to be alive. The 66 comprised 24 of the 36 passengers and 42 of the crew of 61.

In addition to those among the ship's company who perished, one civilian member of the Lakehurst ground crew died from burns suffered when he was unable to get out from under the falling craft. This made a total of 32 known dead or unaccounted for today. And there seemed little chance for six listed as "not accounted for."

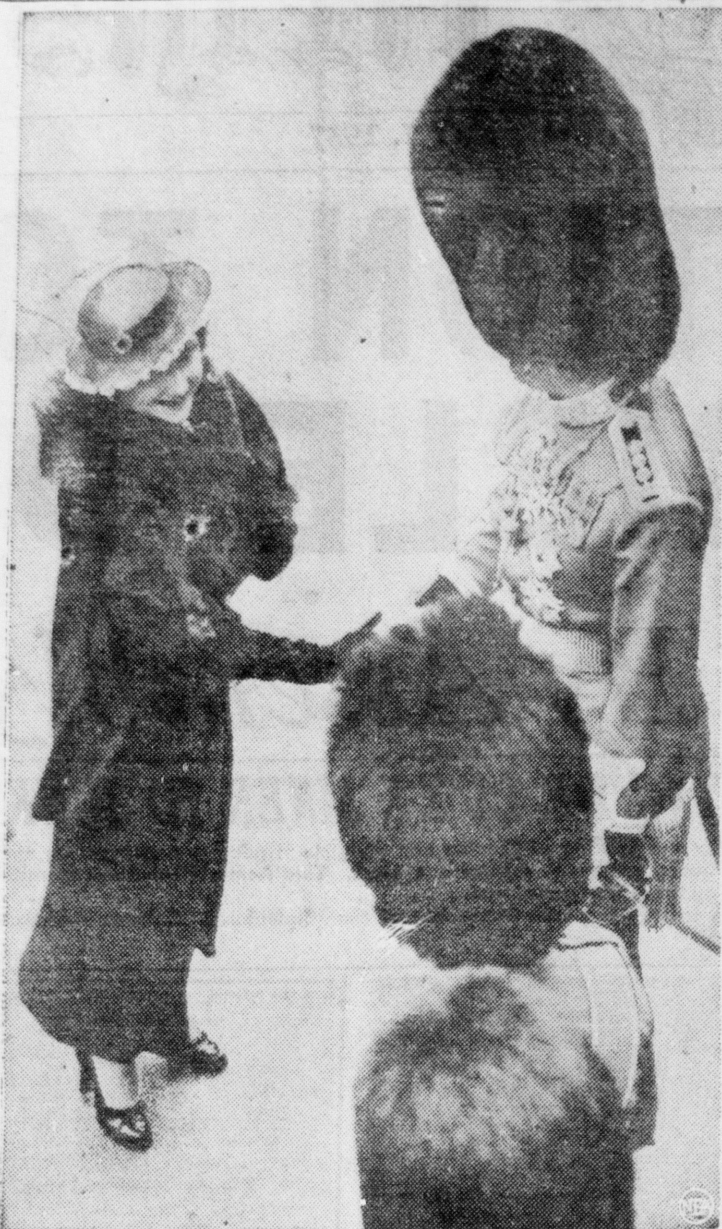

Compilation of a final death list was hindered by the fact that the seriously injured had been taken to several hospitals in nearby towns as well as to the air station's dispensary.

Commander Injured
Among the seriously injured were Capt. Max Pruss, commander of the Hindenburg, and Captain Lehmann, who commanded her last year but was an adviser on this voyage.

In Washington, the embattled little group in congress and the navy department who have maintained their faith in dirigibles despite the Macon, the Akron and the Shenandoah disasters, acknowledged that their hopes that America would again build dirigibles for military purposes had died in the wreckage of the Hindenburg. Sen. Royal S. Copeland, chairman of the senate commerce committee, announced that Committee Investigator Harold E. Hartney had been instructed specifically to try to determine whether sabotage caused the wreck of the German dirigible Hindenburg.

Simultaneously, Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper announced that representatives of the German government, the navy, and the state of New Jersey will be invited to participate in the commerce department's investigation of the disaster. Off Newfoundland the dirigible encountered headwinds, and she came down the New England coast yesterday 12 hours late. At 2 p. m.

QUEEN GREET'S ROYAL GUARD

The happiest soldiers in England would be those with whom Queen Elizabeth shook hands on Coronation day. It's not likely that she will have time for such informality on that occasion, but at a pre-coronation function she graciously greets an officer of the Guards' Brigade.

(PST) she appeared over the Lakehurst station, her American terminal, where the civilian ground crew was waiting. A thunder storm came up suddenly and with it, blinding rain. She soared off to await its end.

At 3 p. m. she came again over the field. The rain by now was a drizzle. As her great bulk settled closer and closer to earth, the crowd could see the passengers at the windows, waving and shouting; it heard the commands rumbling down from the control cabin through megaphones.

Flames at Top of Ship
Suddenly a shrill scream broke out from among the crowd of on-lookers. A puff of flame appeared at the top of the ship toward the rear, then raced along toward its nose. For an instant, the silence was so absolute that the rippling of flames was audible. Then screams and shouts and hysterical sweeping lifted toward the ship which by now was shooting up a great column of flame and smoke. There was a terrific explosion and for miles around window panes shook. Bodies came hurtling out of the ship, falling among the spectators and ground crew.

The instinct for self preservation seized the persons on the ground at the same instant. It looked as if a great mass of flame was falling directly upon them, and they scattered. Then courage returned to some and they turned back. The nose of the Hindenburg had gone up, her tail down, and she was bucking a little just aft of her middle where the column of fire now was centered. More bodies came pummeling down—passengers and crew who were saving themselves. Then, with a crash, the Hindenburg hit the ground, enmeshed in flames from one end to the other.

Then a bleeding figure staggered from the fire. It was clad in uniform that had been torn and ripped. Its face was begrimed and cut. Its blue eyes stared strangely. It was Captain Lehmann, a dirigible captain whose experience went back to the World War, next to Eckener in the Zeppelin works.

"I can't understand how it happened," he said shakily, addressing no one. "I can't understand how it..."

STATE YOUTH ACT APPROVED

SACRAMENTO, May 7.—(UP)—The assembly social welfare committee today reversed its earlier attitude and recommended for passage the California Youth act after amending the provisions calling for creation of a $20,000,000 fund to aid needy youths in their desire to continue their education. The amount necessary will be left to the determination of the ways and means committee.

The senate education committee refused to send to the upper house floor Assemblyman William Hornblower's bill to authorize the state to furnish free textbooks to private schools. This bill passed the assembly after a vigorous fight, but members figured it was killed by the senate committee's action.

California legislators paused in their drive through heavy stacks of bills to meet jointly in observation of a Mother's Day program. Edith Lorand, world famous Hungarian violinist, who recently completed a tour of 60 American cities, headlined the entertainment arranged by Lt. Gov. George J. Hatfield and Assemblywoman Eleanor Miller.

MARTIN TELLS FLIGHT PLANS

guests on board the ship will be Martin's mother, Mrs. Mina Martin, who has followed her son's progress since the days of his first airplanes. Other guests who will make the trip with Martin are Dr. Clark B. Millikin, president of the American Institute of aeronautics; Lester P. Gardner, secretary of the institute; General Oscar Westover, chief of the United States air forces. Guests at the banquet at the Newport Harbor Yacht club Monday night honoring Martin will include Rear Admiral Sinclair Gannon, commandant of the 11th Naval District, Col. Pirie, commander of the air forces at March Field, and representatives of Orange county and cities in the county.

WITNESSES TELL OF DIRIGIBLE FIRE

"It was a terrifying sight," Harry Thomas, a naval electrician, was one of the first to brave the heat and flames in an attempt to pull survivors from the wreckage.

"I saw a man pinned in one of the gondolas, screaming," he said. "I helped pull the man out and carried him away. He was a German electrician whom I met over here last summer. He had a broken leg and burns on his face and body."

Commander Horrified
Bruno told of seeing Capt. Ernst Lehmann, veteran dirigible commander, pick himself up from the ground and stare in horrified amazement at the mass of twisted girders that was the Hindenburg. (Ull) Robt. Wilson, New Jersey state director of aviation, said the Hindenburg appeared to be functioning perfectly before the explosion.

"As the fire swept forward," he said, "the rest of the ship settled. As it did passengers and the crew were either thrown, blown or jumped from parts of the ship in which they were standing."

"It is a miracle that so many were saved."

NEW ATTACKS ON LOYALISTS CHARGED

PARIS, May 7.—(UP)—Spanish Foreign Minister Julio Alvarez Del Vayo charged today that Germany and Italy were preparing "big scale acts of war" against the loyalist government. He said he learned, in the course of an eight day private visit to Paris during which he visited Premier Leon Blum, Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos, and other French cabinet members, that the Fascist-Nazi efforts against Spain would be intensified soon. In an exclusive interview, Del Vayo said: 1.—Germany and Italy soon will renew their pressure on loyalist Spain, despite non-intervention agreements. 2.—Blum will not fall. 3.—The Loyalist political and military situation was becoming better every day.

ASSEMBLY ADOPTS PENSION MEASURE

not be changed. Similarly, there would be no lightening of the provision that applicants with close relatives capable of supporting them would not be eligible.

Various technical changes were included to speed the certification of applicants and provide that aid would not constitute a lien upon property of the recipient.

Officials estimated the act, if approved by the senate and signed by the governor, would add only $5,000,000 to the biennial cost of the state pension.

Another pension bill, by Assemblyman John B. Pelletier, remained to be considered. It would raise the payment to $50, lower the age to 60, and increase the expense by more than $100,000,000 a biennium. Members conceded it no chance of passage.

Although admitting from the start they could not accomplish their aims, Assembly Democrats, with a majority vote, sought to over-ride each of the budget changes. They failed in every instance. They needed 54 votes and managed to muster only 48 as their high total on 32 items considered.

Separate Bills Needed
As finally approved, the budget retains $48,000,000 for unemployment relief. The $7,266,550 earmarked by the legislature for construction purposes at state institutions and colleges was removed and now must be provided in separate appropriation bills.

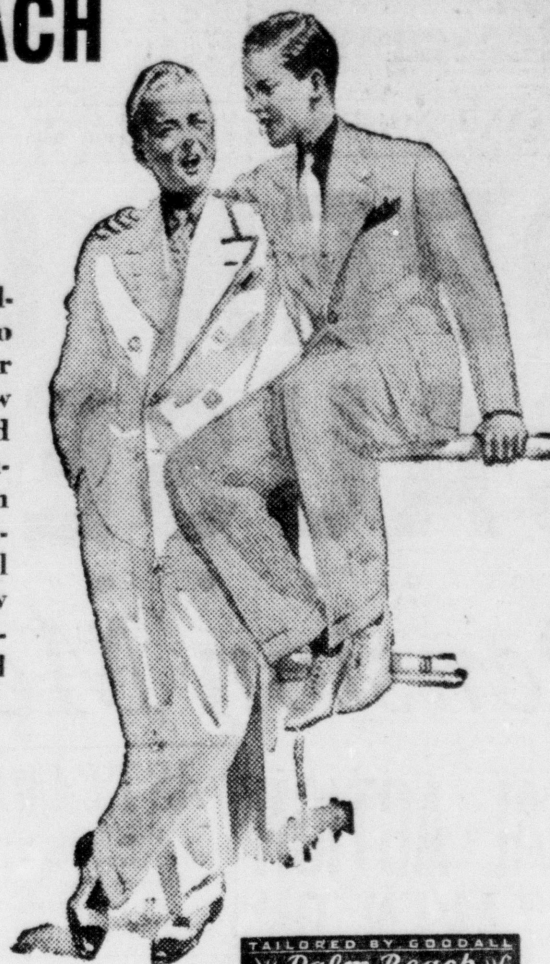

While the lower house was arguing on the budget, the senate spent four hours debating the Crittenden bill to compel railroads to increase their crews. The measure was defeated.

Senators adopted a new bill aimed at sit-down strikers. It would define a vagrant as any person who lodges in a barn, shed, shop, vessel or place other than that kept for lodging purposes, without permission of the owner.

TROUPE VISITS MINE
CLEVELAND—(UP)—To get "color" for their production of "The Black Pit," 27 members of an amateur theatrical society made a special trip to Pennsylvania coal mines.

DEATH NOTICES

A WORD OF COMFORT

It is not the things which you have done rather mechanically in worship and service for God that transform your life. It is the venture of wholehearted allegiance by which you determine to believe that God loves you most in the face of a temptation to feel that He has deserted you and left your life a barren waste.

Then the windows of vision are opened within your soul; with certainty you see that while the path ahead may be stormy and lonesome, it leads in the direction you want to go, and strength for your task wells up within your heart.

(Funeral Notice)
NICHOLS—Funeral services for Ellsworth Nichols, aged 75 years, who passed away May 5, 1937, will be held from the Winbiger Mortuary chapel, 609 North Main street, Saturday May 8, at 2 p. m. The Rev. E. L. Friend, pastor of the Full Gospel Assembly Church officiating. Interment in Anaheim Cemetery.

POSSIBLE ROW OVER EXPENSE REVEALED HERE

By GEORGE HART

Efforts of the county supervisors to induce Auditor Lambert to withdraw his court action, in the typewriter squabble, and accept arbitration by Attorney General U.S. Webb, may have had two motives. One, doubtless, was strategy. Webb favored the supervisors, as against the other officials, in his ruling on the board's authority over official fees. Lambert makes no secret of his feeling that Webb's office would favor the supervisors in any question raised. Perhaps the supervisors think so, too.

Special Counsel

The other possible motive of the supervisors may be even more compelling. While Lambert is spending his own money in taking the controversy to court, the supervisors will be spending money of the taxpayers. They have to hire special counsel, because the district attorney has ruled against them.

Under those circumstances, it may be the supervisors are uncertain how the taxpayers will feel about paying for supervisory ambition to control all county patronage, as the purchasing agent calls it.

Cites Implication

There is nothing on record to indicate that the taxpayers feel the supervisors are more capable of running the business of the elected officials than are the officials themselves. There is nothing on record to indicate that the taxpayers care a whoop whether the supervisors have the privilege of dealing out county patronage, or somebody else does it.

Of course, the position taken by the supervisors carries the implication that such is the case. It further implies that the elected officials do not possess either the judgment to run their departments efficiently, or the conscience to act fairly. The supervisors' position reserves all those qualities exclusively to themselves.

Smith "Absolved"

But it isn't surprising if the supervisors are a bit dubious whether the idea is unanimous. After all, the taxpayers may not want to admit that they are entirely cockeyed when they reposed confidence in the officials they elected to office. Nobody wants to pay the cost of proving himself wrong.

Chairman Willard Smith should be absolved of complicity in the purchasing policy of the supervisors. He is no party to it.

More women than men live to be centenarians.

Motorist Halts Traffic As Car Does Serpentine

T. A. Crane, 63, not a police officer, of South Main and Private streets, stopped traffic here yesterday. When Officers George Boyd and Ed Lentz were called to investigate activities of an alleged drunk driver, they found seven cars "parading" behind Crane's car.

"Crane was zig-zagging all over the street and not one of the motorists could get past him," Boyd explained. "We had difficulty getting through traffic to the head of the column, where Crane was."

Examined, Crane was pronounced "very drunk" and booked on county jail on drunk driving charge. He was arrested at Fifth and Fairlawn streets.

GERMANS PLAN INVESTIGATION

BERLIN, May 7.—(UP)—An official investigating commission started for New York today while Germans mourned the loss of their dirigible Hindenburg as a national disaster, and pledged themselves to keep their flag flying on new and better ships.

Representatives of the air ministry, the air research bureau and the Zeppelin companies left by airplane from Bremerhaven, to sail on the liner Europa for New York and investigate the explosion which wrecked the Hindenburg.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, chief of the Zeppelin companies, left Vienna by automobile for Berlin to see government leaders.

The air ministry said that he probably would fly on to Cherbourg, France, and board the Europa tomorrow to accompany the official commission.

Seek Money For Ship

Sources close to Adolf Hitler said he was preparing a proclamation to the German people which was expected to urge the donation of money to build a new ship similar to the nation's contributions after the Echterdingen Zeppelin catastrophe in 1928.

Knut Eckener told the United Press by telephone from Friedrichshaven that the favorite already was being fitted on the hull of the Hindenburg's sister ship, the LZ-130 and that a trial flight was expected on schedule late in September unless the work is ordered expedited.

Engineers are already putting final touches to blue prints on another ship, the LZ-131, construction of which will be begun when the LZ-130 leaves the hangar for its trial flights.

Zeppelin authorities said they were determined to carry through their present South American schedule with the Graf Zeppelin, as well as to continue construction of new airships. Der Angriff announced that dozens of contributions already have been sent to the chancellery during the day, earmarked for a ship to succeed the Hindenburg.

LEACH BACK ON JOB

Detective Sergeant Hunter Leach of Santa Ana police resumed his official duties today, following a two weeks' vacation, part of which he visited at Twenty-Nine Palms, in the desert country near Palm Springs and Indio.

At one time the Federal Trade Commission issued a complaint against a Rhode Island yarn manufacturer for using the name "Angora" to describe yarns made entirely of Angora goat hair. The commission held that "Angora" applied only to rabbit hair.

CAFE BANDITS DRAW TERMS IN COUNTY COURT

Two young cafe bandits from San Pedro, loaded themselves with gin and then staged armed forays into Orange county coast areas, were sentenced today by Superior Judge James L. Allen to double terms at San Quentin, for first-degree robbery.

Lafe Burns and Lew Bowers, alias John Gray, arrested near Tustin April 17 after the hold-up of Marie's cafe at Doheny Park, were sentenced to terms of from five years to life on each of two counts, to which they had pleaded guilty. One was the $72 hold-up of John Rodgers Jr., at Marie's cafe, the other being a $25 cafe hold-up near Huntington Beach April 10.

Jackson Sentenced

Because they were armed, the pair was not eligible for probation, and the court also refused them the leniency of making the sentences run concurrently, but ordered consecutive terms.

"It is a serious matter when a young fellow gets hopped up with liquor and starts out with a gun holding people up. If any of these victims had resisted, probably there would have been a murder charge here instead of robbery. The only way to provide safety for our people is to give them the protection of the law," said the court in pronouncing judgment.

R. H. Jackson, who pleaded guilty to drunk driving and injury of a motorist, Charles Baker, at Brookhurst road and Commonwealth avenue, near Fullerton, April 15, was sentenced to one year in the county jail by Judge Allen today.

Col. Finley To Embark May 21

Col. S. H. Finley, Santa Ana Rotary club's delegate to the International convention of the organization, to be held this year in Nice, France, will leave May 21 for Europe. He will be accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Finley.

Colonel and Mrs. Finley will leave Santa Ana for Vancouver, B. C., and from there will go to Montreal where they will embark for France. Following the convention they will tour Europe, visiting Cairo, Egypt, Palestine, Italy, Switzerland, France, Belgium, Holland and the British Isles before returning to Santa Ana some time in September.

Colonel and Mrs. Finley will make the trip to Europe with the American delegation to the Rotary parley.

CECILIAN GROUP READY TO GIVE LOCAL CONCERT

Offering a program of great variety and highest musical quality the Cecilian Singers, under direction of Halstead McCormack, will give their second concert of the 1936-37 season at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday in the Little Theater of the Santa Ana high school.

In addition to the inspiring chorus numbers arranged for presentation by the group, Edwin C. Dunning, outstanding baritone soloist from Los Angeles, will appear on the program as guest artist. He will be accompanied at the piano by his wife, Winifred Andrews Dunning.

The first group of solos by Dunning will include the operatic aria "Eri tu," by Verdi. His concluding group will include "Life," by Beulah Parker, member of the Santa Ana Music Arts Club.

Excerpt From Cantata

The Cecilian Singers will open the program with the appropriate "To the Spirit of Music," by Percy Rector Stephens and follow with an excerpt from the Bach cantata "Praise Our God Who Reigns in Heaven"; Schuetky's "Emite Spiritum Tuum," an dthe dynamic "Let Their Celestial Concerts All Unite," the closing chorus of Handels oratorio "Samson."

Later the Singers will present a group of selections describing the beauties of Spring. Soloists for this group will be Elizabeth Morgan and Laura Joiner.

The third group to be presented by the Singers will open with Joseph Ciokey's musical description of "How Summer Came." The Singers will close the program with two numbers, "Invocation to Life" and "Take Joy Home." Esther Vogt will accompany the Singers in all choral numbers.

Tickets for the concert may be obtained at the Santa Ana Book Store or from any officer or member of the organization. Officers

MODERNISTIC IS THE WORD

Following the general merchandising trend, the Mission Bootery recently moved into its remodeled and modernized store on East Fourth street. The new front and lobby of the store is finished in Vitrolite glass, with Taraza flooring with harmonizing cream and blue coloring. The remodeled store and front were designed by Ray Spangler, Santa Ana architect. H. R. Tipping is manager of the store.

100 Couples To Attend Jaysee Dance Tonight

Upwards of 100 couples are expected tonight at the Spinster's Spree, annual formal dance of the Santa Ana Junior college woman's service club, to be held this year at the San Clemente Country club. Stan Bortz's orchestra will provide the music for dancing.

Tonight's dance will be the Spinster reunion. All members of the Spinster alumni have been tendered invitations. Letters were in charge of Barbara Knuth and Virginia Sheppard.

Other committees for the dance include Virginia Scott, chairman; Mary Ann Newcomer, Virginia Wilson, and Wayline Filer, of the orchestra committee, Elaine McReynolds, Marjorie Kenyon, Delphia Wollert and Betty Hammond compose the location committee. La Vonne Frandson, Jane King, Gloria Kirchner, and Virginia Sheppard are on the refreshment committee. Evelyn Chapman is the general chairman.

Girl In China In Local Will

An $1,105 estate is left to a girl attache of an American missionary hospital in China, Mary Bushnell Wylie, in the will of her mother, the late Sarah A. Bushnell, the document being now on file in superior court for probate.

The daughter is at the Dowd hospital conducted by the American Presbyterian mission at Peking, China. Petition to probate the will was filed by Mrs. Edith L. Culp, of Brea.

Pianist Included In Church Affair

Bill Beeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Louis Beeman, 910 French street, will present a short piano program of popular melodies prior to and during intermission of the Unitarian church lecture-forum-tonight.

Atty. Horace Head will introduce the featured speaker, Atty. John C. Packard, who will present a talk on "Recent Developments in the Labor Movement." He will defend the sit-down strikers.

JOBLESS AIDED BY 43 STATES

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Forty-three states have enacted laws to provide unemployment aid to some 18,500,000 workers.

All these laws conform with the unemployment compensation provisions of the Social Security Act, although they vary greatly in their own provisions and will offer varying incomes when payments two years after first contributions to compensation funds have been made.

The act is essentially an enabling statute, levying an excise tax upon the payrolls of all employers of eight or more persons except those employing agricultural and domestic workers and certain other types of non-commercial and non-industrial workers.

The federal tax, collected by the bureau of internal revenue, is 1 per cent of payrolls for 1936, 2 per cent for 1937 and 3 per cent thereafter. States require additional taxes from employers, and a few states require contributions from employees.

Tax Credit Allowed

An employer is allowed a credit up to 90 per cent of the Federal tax on the amount of contributions to his state compensation fund, which requires a payroll tax averaging between 2 and 3 per cent.

The amount of compensation in most states is 50 per cent of an employee's regular wages, with a $15-per-week maximum, and in some states there is provision for partial unemployment. The most frequent minimum figure is $5 or three-fourths of the weekly wage whichever is less.

The usual limit of the period during which a jobless worker may draw benefits is 15 or 16 weeks, after which he is eligible for no compensation until he has had another period of employment.

Compensation may be denied for the waiting period between the end of employments and the beginning of compensation extended if a man lost employment through a strike, quit voluntarily, been discharged for misconduct or refuses to accept a job offered him. However the Federal law requires that a worker cannot be denied compensation if he refuses a "strike-breaking" job or if wages, hours or working conditions are unfair.

Five States Not Included

Laws have not been enacted by the legislature of Delaware, Missouri, Illinois, Nebraska and Florida, all of which were believed waiting for the Supreme Court to rule as to the Constitutionality of the Federal excise tax on payrolls. Hawaii and Alaska were also without laws, but the District of Columbia has one.

There has been a general tendency toward broadening the protection which is a minimum requirement under the Social Security Board. Without approval a state is not eligible for the 90 per cent refund of Federal payroll taxes for Federal grants to cover the cost of administering the state law.

The laws of the District of Columbia, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Idaho and Minnesota cover employers of one or more persons, and other state laws apply to employers of three or four or more.

In only one state, Wisconsin, has the payment of compensation begun. Wisconsin enacted its statute before the Social Security act was passed. It is the only state in which each employer's account is kept separately, all others have "pooled funds" accounts or modifications.

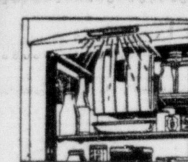

169,000 VISIT CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND (UP)—Mark Egan, manager of the Cleveland Convention and Visitor's Bureau, said in a report that 26 conventions during the first quarter of this year brought 169,000 visitors to Cleveland and that future conventions booked to date would bring 300,000 more.

GLENN MARTIN DAY SET HERE

Honoring Glenn L. Martin, former Santa Ana and outstanding figure in American aviation circles, who built and flew the first seaplane from Newport harbor to Catalina 25 years ago, Mayor Fred C. Rowland, in a proclamation today, named May 10, anniversary of the flight, "Glenn Martin Day" in this city.

The proclamation follows: "Whereas, on May 10, 1912, 25 years ago, aviation history was made when Glenn L. Martin negotiated from Newport harbor, Orange county, California, the first seaplane flight over any part of the Pacific ocean; and "Whereas, since that time Glenn L. Martin has risen to fame as the designer and builder of great air liners, particularly in the construction of the trans-Pacific Clipper ships, and "Whereas, on May 10, 1937, Glenn L. Martin will re-enact his flight from Newport harbor, Orange county, to mark a quarter of a century of progress in aviation; "Now, Therefore I, Fred C. Rowland, mayor of the city of Santa Ana, do, as a tribute to the distinguished designer and builder, hereby declare May 10, 1937, as Glenn L. Martin day in the city of Santa Ana, and invite all citizens to join with me in this public testimonial to our former citizen and resident."

SCOUT HEADS TO CONVEY TUESDAY

Scout executives from all Southern California counties will meet at Camp Irvine Tuesday to prepare the training program for scouts who will attend the Jamboree to be held this year in Washington, D. C.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief
Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 2 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

THIS MAY HAPPEN TO YOU!

Sonja Henie, born in Oslo, Norway, on April 8, 1913, probably never dreamed she'd "crash" the movies. But that didn't bother her, for when she came to Los Angeles not so long ago and presented an exhibition of skating, the house was packed. She was a beautiful "streak of lightning" and her rhythm was as natural as the flow of the seasons. Her audience went mad! That did it! But why? Because she had been SEEN by noted producers. How do YOU know that the same thing cannot happen to you? Fill in that application! There's everything to gain—and nothing to lose.

ANAHEIM PAPER WINS BANQUET ATTRACTS 163

For the second time in three years the Anaheim Anoranco last night was awarded the perpetual plaque for the best all-around Orange county high school newspaper at the fourth annual Santa Ana Junior college journalism banquet at the Green Cat cafe.

Sam Hayes, noted radio reporter, was the featured speaker at the banquet, attended by 163 county high school journalism students, county newspapermen, and local college journalists.

Other Recognition
Anaheim's five-column weekly edited by Dan Brosnan won from 10 other competing county high school publications. The Anoranco won its first leg on the perpetual plaque in 1935. Anaheim has also received journalistic recognition for having won All-American honors for five consecutive years for their school yearbook, John B. Kennedy is the school journalism director.

Other high school awards made last night include:
The Brea-Olinda Wildcat News for the best paper inserted in a local weekly.
The Tustin Broadcaster received the best sports story award.
Best feature story honors went to the Garden Grove Argo-Log.
The Orange Reflector had the best editorial and the Huntington Beach High Lights gained the best news story prize.

Explains Clarity
Newscaster Hayes, speaking in the same rapid-fire fashion that characterizes his news broadcasts, told of the differences in writing for radio and the newspaper.

"News for the radio audience must be written for quick listener digestion. It must be simplified. Pronunciation of the 450,000 possible words used in broadcasting must be correct. And above all, it must be interesting," Hayes said.

Seven staff editors of El Don, local college weekly, were awarded keys last night for outstanding work on the paper during the past year. Editor Bob Swanson, Gerrie Griffith, Frances Was, Dorothy Gist, Franklin Guthrie, Ray Foster, and Harvey Baker received keys.

Jack Gardner was given the special El Don award for being the best first year boy journalism student at the college. Delpha Wol-bert and Eleanor Brady tied for the best girl honors.

Soloes Heard
Neil McDaniels, Associated Student president at the college, greeted the assemblage and invited them to the college Fiesta, Friday, May 14.
Two vocal solos, "Danny Deever" and "Without a Song" were sung by Robert L. Brown. Miss Ruth Armstrong accompanied on the piano. Winifred Crist and Onie Saunders presented a trumpet duet accompanied by Eleanor Buckles.

Judges for the high school newspaper contest were Neil Shaw, city editor, Santa Ana Register; Frank Rospaw, editor and publisher of the Placentia Courier and Jack Ellwanger, managing editor of a local daily.

"WOMEN FOLK" TAKE LEAD IN PINGO CONTEST

Two of Santa Ana's "women folk," the little Misses Edna Tipton and Mary Alice Love of McKinley school, ran one yesterday afternoon at Birch park, among winners of the Pingo contest, held under auspices of The Register and Walker's theater. The third winner was Harold Love of Willard school.

This afternoon, the final park contest is being held. The two winners today to join Misses Tipton and Love and Harold Love in another contest on the stage at Walker's tomorrow afternoon. Winner of tomorrow's contest, to be presented with a pair of roller skates, next week will vie with other stage winners of the past four weeks to determine how the $25 cash award shall be divided among them.

will be held on Walker's stage Saturday, May 15.

During the Thursday, Friday and Saturday contests of the past several weeks, all Pingo players have been given free Milky Way candy bars. On Saturdays, each winner received a pair of roller skates. Much skill has been developed by the contestants and next week's competition should reveal some "classy" Pingo. Pingo is played with paddle and celluloid ball, object being to bounce the ball on the paddle, elbow, foot or head, skillfully, the most skillful being named winner.

Free Foot Clinic Is Opened Here

Dr. A. Reed Shoe Co. of 318 North Sycamore street, today announced a free foot clinic week which will begin today.

Never before has Orange county had a real offer of free consultation and expert advice to cure foot troubles, the store manager declared.

Richard A. Bradford, W. H. McVicker and Gene Soler, with Dr. A. P. Browne, chiropodist, are in charge of the clinic.

Townsend Topics

By W. F. Rockwell

(Editor's Note: The comment and opinions of W. F. Rockwell, as appearing in this column are not necessarily those of The Register.)

Mr. Mapes' club No. 6 will have a box supper Tuesday evening, May 11, in Townsend hall, 509 West Fourth street. If you think there won't be fun there, you are "way off" because fun is just exactly what "there won't be" anything else but. Come. Bring a box of lunch for two and table service. Coffee will be served free. Remember the time, 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, May 11, at 509 West Fourth street. It's going to be one big funny fun fest.

C. Jasper Bell (who was elected to congress in the Kansas City district where so many fraudulent election convictions were made since the election last November) says: "Something ought to be done to break up the Townsend movement once and for all after disclosures of our investigations." What do you know about that? "Our investigations" have been held up to ridicule by leading newspapers all over the nation and conceded to be outrageous.

It has been found necessary to reopen the Townsend office at 213 East Fourth street, where you can buy Townsend Weekly papers as well as at 509 West Fourth street.

At the meeting of the administration board of Santa Ana Townsend held Wednesday night, W. A. Zimmerman was president pro tem as Grant Henderson was unable to be present on account of illness. P. F. Benthien was elected treasurer to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Mapes, who leaves soon for Spokane and other northern points. Benthien and W. F. Rockwell were appointed as solicitors and collectors for ads on the wall. The whole setup is much improved and becoming more valuable to advertisers.

One of the ladies who were making flowers at Townsend hall Thursday was Mrs. K. C. Burbanck, president of club 3 in Cost Mesa. This club meets every Tuesday evening. Last Tuesday was "stunt night" when each person either sang a song, spoke a piece, told a story, danced or did any other stunt. Anyone failing to do so was fined 10 cents. Next Tuesday a good speaker will give an interesting talk.

C. W. Philo of Los Angeles will be the speaker at Townsend the Rev. Mr. Tatum, who will be here May 23.

The Rev. T. W. Ringland will speak at Fullerton Monday, May 10, instead of Rex Barr.

(h) An annuitant may at any time terminate his right to receive annuities under this act by a sworn notice to this effect filed with the post office department for forwarding to the secretary of the treasury. At the time he files same, satisfactory proof must be produced that he is the annuitant in question. Upon receipt of such notice of termination, the secretary shall eliminate such persons as an annuitant in making future distributions. Such termination shall not, however, affect the right of such person to again apply for annuities under this act.

(i) Any annuitant may likewise waive his right to a portion of the annuity upon filing a like sworn notice and satisfactory proof that he is the annuitant in question, and any applicant for annuities may apply for a lesser amount than the $200 per month maximum. In such cases the secretary shall, after the prorata, or full monthly annuity figure is arrived at on the 20th of any month, deduct any such amounts that may have been waived, or not applied for, from the amounts to be sent to such annuitants. Such waiver of or failure to apply for the full amount shall not affect the right of any person to file a new application at any time for the full amount to which he would otherwise be entitled.

Administration Provisions

Sec. 6. (a) The secretary of the treasury shall have general supervision of the distribution of the annuities under this act and shall be caused to be paid by checks mailed out by him from Washington at regular monthly intervals, to each person who lawfully qualifies to receive annuities under this act, such amounts as shall become due the respective annuitants lawfully qualifying under this act.

"RACKETEERS IN EXILE" TO OPEN

Showing for two days only, a double feature program with "Racketeers in Exile" and "Too Many Wives" opens today at the Broadway theater.

"Racketeers in Exile" is the dramatic story of a public enemy who makes religion a racket and then falls prey to his own false, eloquent teachings. George Bancroft heads the cast, with Evelyn Venable as his home town sweetheart and Wynne Gibson as his big city "moll." Driven to cover by government officers, the racketeer turns to evangelism as a new type of lucrative racket.

The fast-paced romantic comedy, "Too Many Wives," deals with a hectic love-at-first-sight affair between an adventurous heiress and an ingenious young man who creates jobs for himself. One of these jobs, however, brings riotous complications. The cast features Anne Shirley and John Morley.

Short subjects include the new March of Time release, a Grantland Rice Sportline, a cartoon and world news events.

Grand Prelate Installed Here

Harry A. Georgie, Los Angeles, was installed as Grand Prelate of the Knights of Pythias Wednesday night, at an impressive ceremony held at the Santa Ana Pythian Castle, Deputy Supreme Chancellor William U. Handy, Los Angeles, was the installing officer.

Knights from Los Angeles and nearby communities attended the installation and heard plans for an intensive membership campaign outlined by Grand Prelate Georgie. He said the goal for Santa Ana lodge has been set at 50 new members.

Pay to See Mystery Flower

COLOMBO, Ceylon. (UP)—Queens form up every day at Nugegoda, near here, to see a mystery flower which botanists have identified as a rare species of arum lily. Admission is charged to see flower and smell it. One of its peculiarities is an extraordinarily strong scent.

SIX OFFICERS TO TAKE RADIO EXAMS TODAY

Six members of Santa Ana police department went to Los Angeles today to take third class radio operator's examinations under direction of Federal Radio Communications commission representatives, preparatory to beginning operation of the city's new two-way police radio system.

Under order of Police Chief Floyd Howard, every member of the department must go to the Reeves-Strong building in Los Angeles, where the examinations are being conducted, by next Friday.

Assistant Chief Harry Fink, Capt. R. S. Elliott, Sergeants J. E. McWilliams, W. E. B. Sherwood and B. A. Hershey, and Officer Francis Norton, made the trip today. Officers W. B. Moreland and Burnett Lane were reported to have taken the examinations. Moreland is in charge of constructing the two-way police radio system here. First of the seven cars to be equipped with the two-way system is ready for testing. Within a few weeks, the system will be put into operation, Moreland said.

TOASTMASTERS VOTE IN FAVOR OF FORUM HERE

That a public forum is a good thing and that it should be a part of the city's activities, was the thought voiced by most of the members of El Camino Toastmasters club last evening at a meeting at Daniger's.

E. M. "Sunny" Sundquist, member of the club and also on the committee of the Forum for Political and Economic Education introduced the subject as a table topic. Half a dozen of the club's members have been speakers on the Forum.

Principle of Art

Tom Orr, toastmaster of the evening introduced a program of educational subjects. Dr. Merrill W. Hollingsworth led with a talk on proportion in the ratio of 5 to 8 as it occurs in art, being a principle used by painters from the early masters to the present. Dr. Hollingsworth gave instances illustrating that it is a principle in nature.

That local fire fighters number 10 trades among their accomplishments in addition to being trained in fire prevention, salvage, life saving and other work, declared Ralph Raitt.

Continuing a series, T. P. "Ted" MacBird showed how the use of color depends chiefly on applying principles connected with the three primary colors.

The career of Henry Ford as an example of what one man may achieve was the talk given by Roland Kloess.

Robert Haven gave his initial talk before the club. He told of new methods of recording family histories.

HOW AMAZING SOAP WORKS TO END SCRUBBING, BOILING

... And Why It's So Safe For Colors And Hands

Now all that hard scrubbing that wears out clothes is completely unnecessary. For this new soap, OXYDOL, brings you a "no-scrub, no-boil" way to wash that is safe as can be! At last a fast-washing, white-washing soap that is perfectly safe for colors and hands!

Developed by the makers of gentle Ivory soap, OXYDOL works on an utterly new principle. You soak clothes just 15 minutes to the tubful... no scrubbing, no boiling... and white clothes wash 4 to 5 shades whiter. You cut washing time 25% to 40% in tub or machine. You save clothes from washboard wear and tear. And best of all, you save your hands and colored things, too. For OXYDOL is so safe that every washable color comes out sparkling, brilliant, fresh! Even sheer cotton prints, washed 100 consecutive times in OXYDOL suds, showed no perceptible sign of fading.

Do as millions are doing — switch to this amazing "no-scrub" soap today! You'll find that OXYDOL is very economical, too. Tests show that one package will go 1/4 to 1/2 again as far as even the latest soap chips on the market. Procter & Gamble.

Speech Will Be Delivered Here On Strike Issue

Attorney John C. Packard of Pasadena who will lecture on sit-down strikes at the Unitarian church at 7:30 p. m. today, is one of the most celebrated labor attorneys of Southern California, the Rev. Mrs. Julia Budlong announced. It was he who handled the famous "Banana Case" for the maritime unions during the maritime strike last year, when a United States marshal ordered a cargo of bananas to be unloaded from the S. S. California. The celebrated "Vote-Fraud Case" during the Sinclair campaign saw a writ of prohibition won by Packard from the state supreme court to prevent the whole-sale disfranchisement of Epic voters. Of pre-revolutionary and pioneer

American stock, and a World war veteran, Packard has been a Pasadena resident since boyhood. He attended the Pasadena high school and U. S. C. He received his law degree from the latter institution in 1916, and has practiced since in the city, state and federal courts of that city, and Southern California. The meeting Friday night is the postponed weekly News Review from the preceding Wednesday night. It is open to the public and forum privileges will be accorded. The subject is "Recent Developments in the Labor Movement."

PROSECUTORS IN GALLERY
TOLEDO (UP)—Portraits of 21 former Lucas County (Toledo) prosecuting attorneys have been hung in the present prosecutor's office. The idea was sponsored by Frazier Reams, retiring prosecutor. The gallery was dedicated in the presence of friends and relatives of the 21 former officials.

NEWSPAPER STREAM-LINED
TOLEDO (UP)—The Toledo News-Bee has completely "stream-lined" its appearance. Larger clearer type of extremely simple design is a feature of the paper's new dress. Headlines, once black, are set in white type with thin lines. Only initial letters of words are capitalized.

Closeup and Comedy by ERSKINE JOHNSON-GEORGE SCARBO

JIMMIE FIDLER IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, May 7.—It strikes me that Robert Taylor is paying too much for the act of God over which he has no control. The guy is being crucified because he is unduly handsome. He has become the target of unkind publicity through every medium of public expression. If it continues, I fear it will have one of two effects: (1) It may break down his confidence in himself, or (2) it may sour him on life.

On his return from a recent trip, Bob said to me, "I'd like to have a mountain cabin, in which to hide out until the public finds a new top. I feel like I'd been clawed by wild cats." The remark was not made with any show of resentment. Rather, it reflected mental confusion.

A studio press agent who accompanied Taylor on his trip told me that Bob took rough neck dives that were enough to call for pistols at dawn. Had the actor recently been physically more handsome and these dives from studio bosses and the women wanted to him, the press agent said, "and most of the men wanted to fight him."

In years gone by, I watched Wallace Reid and Rudolph Valentino struggle through the same maelstrom of adulation and abuse which seem to go hand in hand. It is this controversy of opinion that makes a movie star front page copy. Anything that is written about him, good or bad, will find sympathetic readers. I wonder how often Bob gets that panicky feeling that someone is not worth it all, yet he dares not release his grip. Like a mad bull, he'll hang on, and hell if he lets go.

The Chamber of Commerce will not refuse the remark which Andy Devine uttered his young son made. Maybe the youngster did say it, too, because that proud gleam in Andy Devine's eye looked neither better nor worse at the time. At any rate, after weeks of rainy, foggy weather in California, the sun came out one day. And the young Devine (so says Andy) led his son to the window, pointed to Old Sol, and inquired, "Daddy, what's that?"

I think this is funny, even though it has cost me money. Before Joe E. Brown departed on his last cross-country trip, he said, "I'll bet I can send a letter from every town I visit on this trip, and it won't cost me the price of a stamp." I waved a dinner he could not eat. I told him how Joe tricked me. He addressed his envelope to Jimmie Fidler, Hollywood, California, and in the return address corner he wrote precisely the same. Then he mailed the envelope without stamps. You know what happened, of course: Uncle Sam came to me for "postage due" every time one of those letters arrived.

Over tea and cinnamon toast one recent day, Grace Moore told me of a time in her life when she literally "lived by her wits." A road-show stranded and she used up all but $1.68 of her money getting back to New York City. Hungary and tired, she read in a newspaper that a titled woman had just left for Europe. She conceived the smart idea of going to this woman's former Park avenue apartment house, where she told the manager that she was a friend of the departed lady who had recommended that she (Grace) read the vacated quarters. The impressed manager leased her the apartment willingly.

"I was scared silly," Grace laughingly recalled, "but I was also hungry. So I bluffed it out by calling the most expensive restaurant in town and ordering that dinner he sent up my swanky address turned the trick: the restaurant extended the trick: the restaurant extended the trick and I lived and ate that way for a week, knowing what eventually would happen. Then a gift from Heaven came in the form of a job, but it was months before I could pay my bill."

Identical Twins; Don't Look Alike

These 8-year-old blue kids are identical twins—but they have science baffled. They were born on Catalina Island, Calif., of Mexican parents. Rudolfo has dark skin and black hair; Humberto, an albino, has white hair and fair skin. Both are sturdy.

NAZIS OVERHAUL KITCHEN TRAINS

BERLIN.—(UP)—Germany's two up-to-date automobile caravans have returned to the "round house" for overhauling.

The primary function of these two highway motor trains, with their huge kitchens, beds, workshops, loudspeakers and so on, is two-fold: to serve the multitudes which assemble at national functions of the state and Nazi party; and relief work at disasters.

The trains, as described by the German official news agency, travel as complementary sections. The "Deutschland" houses the technical department in its 34 cars, which are to be increased in number to 50. It carries 50 miles of rubber cable and 100 miles of electric wiring. The train has facilities for supplying emergency electric light to 25,000 homes at one time.

Five hundred loudspeakers are designed to bring the words of Hitler to the ears of 2,000,000 persons simultaneously—"the main purpose of the system," comments the German official news agency.

The "Deutschland" can accommodate 100 beds. It carries a central power plant in one of its cars, cabinet and iron workshops, water and fuel tanks, laboratories, radio and film equipment in others. The unit, which serves as the office of the train's director, has a movable stage which can be raised through the top of the car to a height of 21 feet. The train's speed is 40 miles an hour.

Early packs of playing cards were full length, one way cards. They were in use more than 400 years before an unknown genius invented the double-headed card now in use.

Driver Prospects Asked to Appear On New Schedule

Because Capt. H. C. Moehan head of the Orange county California highway patrol unit, wishes to keep most of his men on the highways, patrolling as a major of accident prevention, operators licenses will be issued to successful applicants only on Thursday and Friday, each week, between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Applications may be entered on either day and driving examinations as well as written examinations, taken consecutively, at time of appearance. Applicants must appear at the patrol headquarters, 5005 North Main street, at the Santa Ana-Orange city limits boundary line.

WOOSTER TALKS ON WAGNER ACT FOR REALTORS

The Wagner act may be less of a hazard than its enemies fear and less of a benefit than its friends hope, according to Ernest S. Wooster, deputy county auditor, who spoke at noon today before members of the Santa Ana Realty board, meeting at Rossmore cafe.

"Let us consider ourselves mere onlookers for a few moments," he said. "We are quite likely to make ourselves participants, to take partisan attitudes, and to let emotions rule our thoughts. But just consider for a little while the trend of events, the shifts of power, the rise of labor's strength, and the conditions of today. Look back a few years over industrial history."

Third Party "Out"
"To get just the right attitude, think of yourselves as consumers. Capital and labor fight their battles, but the consumers are frequently the unfortunate bystanders who get hurt. For years their injuries have been a cause of comment, but nothing ever has been done about it. Laws are passed intended to benefit capital or labor, or to restrain one or the other, but no one ever gives the third party—the biggest of all—any thought."

"But the Wagner act is the public's first protective law. Not a very strong one perhaps, not entirely intended for that purpose we may admit, and likely to be many initial laws, not particularly effective."

"Yet it is the entering wedge. It will be strengthened. Already there are demands for this. They will increase."

Consumers' Rights
The speaker read from reports and articles indicating that employers by no means will be so badly treated as many seem to think, and also that labor may find itself required to take a wholly responsible attitude.

"The cause of Communism is not

SOLDIERS' DRESS REHEARSAL FOR CORONATION

The tramp of marching regiments, the beat of martial music, the splendor of parade uniforms are increasingly evident in London as every effort is bent toward making the coronation of King George VI an unmatched spectacle. The Scots Guards march behind skirling pipers, resplendent in huge shakos, colorful tunics and polished brass, just as they will be in the coronation parade. In the background is grim Tower of London.

advanced by responsible bodies of men and women. If unions must make contracts and abide by them, if they find themselves parties to legal documents, they are quite likely to be sobered into a better understanding of their duties. There has been, too frequently, an irresponsible attitude on the part of employers, and not less frequently a similar attitude on the part of employees. Both are going to have to wield something in the interests of the rest of us, we consumers who are going to demand that our rights be considered."

OBSERVE BIRTHDAY
WINTERSBURG, May 7.—The birthday anniversary of Alvin Kratz was observed at the family home when his mother entertained a group of friends in his honor at an afternoon party. Birthday cake and jello and tea were served the group following the playing of games.

Included were the honor guest, Alvin Kratz, Fred Pupka, Junior Dier, Kenneth Lawton, Ida Kratz, Betty Kratz, Elvin Kratz.

GUEST SINGER

Allan Watson, bass-baritone, of Los Angeles, who will be the guest soloist at the concert to be presented in the Santa Ana High school auditorium Tuesday evening, May 18. The program will be under auspices of the Cantando club.

CANTANDO CLUB TO GIVE MUSIC PROGRAM SOON

Music lovers of Orange are looking forward with pleasant anticipation to Tuesday evening, May 18th, when the Cantando club, male singing organization of 50 voices, will present the final concert of its 11th season, in the Santa Ana High School auditorium.

By popular request, they will be assisted again by Allan Watson, bass-baritone of Los Angeles. Watson was guest soloist for the February concert in 1934 and his voice and pleasing personality won for him a host of friends in this locality.

Watson was born in Vancouver, British Columbia, and studied music from early childhood with some of the finest teachers in his home city as well as in Los Angeles.

He has sung in the operas, "Suzanne's Secret," "Barber of Seville," "Falstaff" and "Hansel and Gretel" in the Shrine and Philharmonic auditoriums in Los Angeles, in addition to a number of concert tours throughout Western Canada and the United States.

For the past two years, Watson has devoted most of his time to singing in motion pictures, handling individual roles in addition to quartette and chorus work. Most notable of the recent pictures in which he has appeared are "Maytime," "Singing Marine," "Golden Dawn," "Born to Dance," "New Faces" and "The Woman I Love."

WATER COLORS EXHIBITED
FULLERTON, May 7.—Many lovers of art viewed the exhibit of 21 water-color paintings that have been displayed for the past week in Fullerton Union High school art gallery by Miss Lucile Hinkle, head of the Fullerton Junior college art department. The exhibit was open to the public from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily and was made up of pictures ranging from the abstract to realistic.

Southern California furnished a number of themes for the artist. "Sand Dunes," suggested by the desert near Holtville; "Hills of Harvest" a pastoral scene near Van Nuys; and "Patterns in the Marsh," an impression of changes in tide in the Newport-Balboa bay region.

THREE MEN NABBED ON BENCH COUNTS

Three men were arrested on bench warrants yesterday by city police. Manuel Contreras, 36, 2002 West Fifth, was arrested at his home on complaint of Clemente Flores, same address, who charged Contreras committed assault and battery. Both men were taken to county hospital.

Builders Group
To Meet Tuesday

Members of the Orange County Builders' Exchange will hold their monthly meeting at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday in Peninsula Cafe, Balboa, according to G. A. Bassett, secretary-manager of the organization.

Bassett said an interesting program has been arranged for the meeting and that it is important that each member of the organization attend the affair. Bassett also announced that the annual picnic of the Exchange will be held in Irvine Park, in June. The exact date for the frolic has not yet been announced, he said.

TEACHERS ELECTED

WESTMINSTER, May 7.—The election of teachers of Westminster schools has been held by the trustees of the district, S. E. Davies, Everett Hylton and Percy Lawrence. Orion Bebermeyer, for four years connected with Westminster schools and for the past two years in the capacity of superintendent, was elected to this office for a three-year term.

The other teachers in the school who will again take their classes with the beginning of next term are Francis Dell, Nevin Otis, F. M. Harder, Miss Nellie French, Miss Helen McCoy, Mrs. Robert Erdman, Mrs. Iola Vall, Mrs. Happy Palmer, Mrs. Fred Cook, Mrs. Alethea Ryckman, Mrs. Elsie Black, Mrs. Ethel Paulk.

ROOSTER INJURES BOY, 2

REMOPOLIS, Ala. (UP)—Two-year-old Jackie Poole was seriously injured in a battle with a rooster in a neighbor's barnyard. Jackie was playing in the yard when the rooster attacked him. He suffered serious laceration on the head and the face before an older brother came to his rescue.

16 Local Drivers Get Tickets On Speeding Charge

Continuing efforts to cut down Santa Ana's traffic accident toll, city police yesterday ticketed 16 speeders, seven motorists who operated cars without operator's license, two boulevard stop jumpers, one person having no registration certificate and one, using defective muffler.

At the same time, City Judge J. G. Mitchell fined six speeders as follows: Gale Harmon, Santa Ana, $5; Earl Halverstadt, La Canada, $8; W. D. Solesbee, Placentia, $7; Essie Haines, Los Angeles, $9; Julia Hayward, Laguna Beach, $8, and John Suiter, Long Beach, $8. Douglas, Cogswell, Santa Ana, was fined $2 for leaving his car parked with motor running. Mrs. Edith Redford, Santa Ana; Julia Hayward, Laguna Beach and Bronson Barber, Laguna Beach, each paid $2 fine for boulevard stop jumping.

HOME BUSINESS ASSOCIATION TO ENLARGE GROUP

Cooperation of the Home Owned Business Association of Orange County in the state-wide membership campaign of Home Owned Businesses of California, Inc., was pledged here today by James Metzgar, manager of the county organization. The Orange county association is affiliated with the state group.

According to plans announced by David Keeble, president of the state group, a goal of 15,000 new members has been set by the state organization. The Orange county group already has 125 members enrolled, principally in Santa Ana, and is preparing to campaign for members in other county communities.

F. D. R. Cementing Louisiana Ties

Not completely without its political significance is President Roosevelt's fishing trip, as this picture of him dining with Louisiana's young and energetic Gov. Richard Leche shows. While the President drank his demitasse he also further cemented the allegiance of the old Long political faction to the New Deal.

Educational Benefits
The new plan of organization entirely supersedes the local unit activity and is far more comprehensive because it includes active legislative and educational benefits of a state-wide character. The numerical strength, under the state plan, will place the organization in an advantageous position. The legislation for which Home Owned Businesses now is working is designed to secure for the independent dealer opportunities equal to those of larger buyers. Measures in particular which will bring this about are the Junior Robinson Patman bill, now up for passage in the assembly, amendments to the Unfair Practices act, being considered in the senate, and the Tydings-Miller bill proposed by both houses of the United States congress.

Community Prosperity
Home Owned Businesses also is working for a bill to create a Compliance Board or Fair Trade Commission whose function will be to secure enforcement of all legislation designed to get a square deal for local independent businesses.

Additional benefits of the organization of independent merchants are to be expected from an extensive educational work to raise the standards of business practices through sales training work and a program to carry over to the public in various ways the message of independent business—community prosperity.

CAMERA CLUB HERE ENJOYS EXHIBITS

Two outstanding pictorialists of Los Angeles were guest critics and speakers last night at the monthly meeting of the Orange County Camera club. The speakers and critics were George Phillips, photographer for the Bell Syndicate, and Clark Thomas, publicity director for the Riviera Country club polo teams, and editor of the monthly magazine published by the Los Angeles Athletic club.

In addition to speaking, Phillips exhibited a number of his prints. Among prints of "Desert Scenes" exhibited by members of the Orange county group, those by Burr Shafer, Santa Ana, and Gordon Ethington, Huntington Beach, were highly complimented by the critics.

FARMERS LACK SEED
BROOKINGS, S. D. (UP) — The drought and depression years have drained South Dakota of practically all reserve seed and are causing the most serious shortage in the state's history, according to Ralph E. Johnston, South Dakota extension agronomist.

There were 567,718 American-made cars sold to foreign countries during 1935.

No. 29,295-M
IN BANKRUPTCY
Bankrupt's Petition for Discharge and Order Thereon
In the District Court of the United States, for the Southern District of California—Central Division.
In the Matter of WENDELL C. FELLOWS, Bankrupt.
To the Honorable Judge of the District Court of the United States, For the Southern District of California—Central Division.
WENDELL C. FELLOWS of Orange, in the County of Orange and State of California in said District, respectfully represents:
That on the 29th day of January last past, he was duly adjudged bankrupt under the Acts of Congress relating to bankruptcy, that he has duly surrendered all his property and rights of property, and has fully complied with all the requirements of said Acts and of the orders of the Court touching said bankruptcy.

WHEREFORE HE PRAYS that he may be decreed by the Court to have a full discharge from all debts provable against his estate under said Bankruptcy Act, except such debts as are excepted by law from such discharge.
Dated this 30th day of April, A. D., 1937.

WENDELL C. FELLOWS, Bankrupt.
Order of Notice Thereon
United States of America, Southern District of California, ss.
On this 3rd day of May, A. D., 1937, on reading the foregoing petition, it is ORDERED BY THE COURT, that a hearing be had upon the same on the 12th day of July, A. D., 1937, before said Court, in the PACIFIC ELECTRIC BUILDING, Room 100, at Los Angeles, in said District, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and that notice thereof be published in the SANTA ANA REGISTER, a newspaper printed in said District, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at the said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED BY THE COURT, that the Referee shall send by mail to all known creditors copies of said petition and this order addressed to them at their places of residence as stated. WITNESS the Honorable PAUL J. MCCORMICK, Judge of said Court and the seal thereof, at Los Angeles in said District, on the 3rd day of May, A. D., 1937.

Music Regarded As Medical Aid In Nerve Cases

BOSTON (P)—If Arthur Flagler Fultz' experiment is successful, physicians will be carrying around portable phonographs along with pills and stethoscope and hospitals might become "concert halls."

Fultz, a Boston University graduate student, is studying musical co-therapy, the application of music to cases to personality disorders.

"Any personality or nervous disorder responds to music," he says. "Music can make the whole personality smile. If a person listens occasionally to the type of music his personality requires, it will help him to get a new grip on life."

Too much music, however, is harmful as it prevents concentration, he says.

CROCODILES SABOTAGE PLANE

NAIROBI, India (UP)—Crocodiles on Lake Victoria are sabotaging the Empire flying-boat service, according to reports reaching here. Rubber buoys anchored in the lake for mooring the flying-boats have vanished. Investigations show that the crocodiles puncture the buoys and sink them.

VOICE SHATTERS GLASS

LONDON—(UP)—John Lovering, Welsh baritone, stands alone among most singers. He has broken a wineglass with his voice. It was at a banquet that Lovering first realized his strange power. He sang a high G loudly—and a wineglass at a distant table was shattered by the vibrations.

LATE NEWS OF ORANGE AND VICINITY

LEADERS ARE SELECTED BY CHURCH GROUP

ORANGE, May 7. — Officers were elected at a meeting of the First Christian church Missionary society held yesterday when plans also were completed for a missionary tea, May 12 in the home of Mrs. M. O. Ainsworth, Mission court, with Mrs. Ainsworth's sister, Mrs. Grace Strickland as hostess.

Mrs. Angeline Courtney, who served as president last year, was re-elected to the office of leader. Other officers selected were: First vice president, Mrs. Rebecca Pope; second vice president, Mrs. Frances Conner; secretary, Mrs. M. E. Bivens; treasurer, Mrs. Alice Cole; literary chairman, Mrs. Inez Spangler; World Call chairman, Mrs. Anna Todd; publicity, Miss Emma Granger; pianist, Mrs. Grace Knoll; chorister, Mrs. Grace Strickland; membership, Mrs. V. D. Johnson.

The nominating committee was composed of Miss Anna Granger, Mrs. A. R. Smith and Mrs. Anna Todd. Installation ceremonies will take place in June. A picnic of all women of the church will be held June 4. Mrs. V. D. Johnson acted as program chairman, conducting the devotional services. Songs were given by Mrs. Harold Long and Mrs. Leon DesLarzes, who sang a duet, "Whispering Hope," while the former sang as a solo, "Sunrise Tomorrow," Mrs. DesLarzes accompanying.

A stewardship talk was given by Mrs. Alice Cole who spoke on "Our Own Church." Mrs. A. R. Smith discussed "Schools and Literature in the Congo," telling of the difficulty of translating the Bible into the language of the Belgian Congo. Mrs. Robert Winters discussed "The Church in the Congo." Mrs. William Holder, wife of the pastor, who spent a number of years in the Congo with her husband in missionary work, spoke on "Medical Missions in the Congo." The topic for the afternoon was "The Pageant of a Climbing Race."

Guild Meets At Home of Leader

ORANGE, May 7.—The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Methodist church, met at the home of Mrs. Helen Archibald, the president, on West Chapman avenue, Thursday evening, with Mrs. Eva Purdie as co-hostess. Mothers were honored guests of the members, and Mrs. Carrie Riddhough of the mothers led the devotion and gave a sermonette. During the business meeting which Mrs. Archibald conducted, three quilt tops were presented to Miss Ellen Saffern, a missionary to China, home on furlough, to take back to that country.

A social hour followed the meeting, the hostesses serving strawberry short cake on trays with green dillies and bearing a red rose bud for each one. Mothers were also presented corsages, and dozens of roses from the Archibald rose garden were used for decoration. Eighteen were present.

George A. Hooper Services Held

ORANGE, May 7.—Funeral services for George A. Hooper, 61, who passed away Tuesday at a local hospital, were held Thursday afternoon at the C. W. Coffey funeral chapel, with the Rev. Floyd Thompson, pastor of the Southside Christian church, Santa Ana officiating.

A mixed quartet made up of Graden Slater, Lawrence Davis, Floyd Thompson and Mrs. Floyd Thompson, sang, "As the Life of a Flower," "Asleep in Jesus," and "Just Beyond the Rolling River."

Pall bearers were Stanley Savers, Earl Britton, Walter Toy, Ed Gantenbein, W. O. Nichols and Evan Julian. Burial was in Westminster cemetery.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Edith M. Hooper, North Main street, and a brother-in-law, R. H. Britton, near Olive.

MOTHER, 38, HAS 19TH CHILD

UNIONTOWN, Pa.—(UP)—Mrs. Roy Hostetter, of Collier, near here, has her 19th child. She is only 38; her husband is 42. Of the 19 children, 13 are living.

Shower Held In Honor of Olive Bride-To-Be

OLIVE, May 7.—Miss Grace Trapp, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Trapp, of Olive, who this month will become the bride of Glen Sharp, of Anaheim, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given last evening in the Santa Ana Canyon home of Dr. and Mrs. Martin Hamrick. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Don Peemster, Mrs. Dare Culley, Mrs. A. J. Lee, and Mrs. Hamrick.

Coolie was the diversion of the evening and after several tables were played, prizes were presented to Mrs. George Lemke and Mrs. W. W. Beatty. Refreshments of fruit jello, cake and coffee were served at the small tables which were laid with white linen covers and napkins decorated with silver wedding bells. Following the refreshment period, Miss Trapp was presented with many lovely gifts from her many friends.

Those bidden were the guest of honor, Miss Grace Trapp, her mother, Mrs. Alfred Trapp, and Mrs. Frank Maxwell, Mrs. George Lemke, Mrs. George Greder, Mrs. Anna Heitschusen, Mrs. J. Fred Heitschusen, Mrs. O. Linnartz, Mrs. J. H. Peemster, Mrs. Clara Peffey, Mrs. Henry Lemke, Mrs. Bert Tackett, Mrs. Donald Dickson, Mrs. James Crawford, Mrs. A. R. Harner, Mrs. W. W. Beatty, Mrs. Ben Holmes.

The session will be opened with a 6:30 o'clock dinner and those attending are to bring either a vegetable salad or a pie. Reservations are to be made by 9 a. m. Wednesday with the chairman of the home department of the center, Mrs. H. H. Gardner. Ralph Hull will give the director's report, W. C. Armstrong will preside.

FLOWER SHOW AWARDS ARE MADE AT ANNUAL CLUB EVENT

ORANGE, May 7.—Interest yesterday at the Flower show progressed at the Woman's clubhouse centered in awards for the various exhibits, the beauty of blossoms and flower arrangements making the task of the judges a difficult one. County club baskets were placed in the foreground of the stage with Santa Ana Better Gardens club carrying off first prize, San Clemente Garden section of the Woman's club, second, and Anaheim Ebbl third.

Tables set for porch breakfasts and formal luncheons entered by sections of the Orange club were new features of the show as were the delicately lovely shadows of flower arrangements seen in the shadow boxes. Prizes for the tables for formal luncheons went to the Third Economics section, first; club chorus, second; Second Economics, third. Porch breakfast table awards went to Junior Matrons section, first; Second Toastmasters, second; First Toastmasters, third.

Judges for the exhibits were Mrs. T. E. McLeod of Santa Ana; Mrs. C. M. Roberts, of Yorba Linda, who judged flower arrangements; Mrs. J. T. Wilson of Santa Ana, and Mrs. E. A. Watson of Tustin, who judged perennials and annuals; Mrs. J. E. Paul of Santa Ana, and Mrs. Emil Wilson of Corona, who judged roses, tables and other sections of the show.

The school exhibit was entered by the Cypress street school of which Mrs. Frances Hippard is principal and showed great beauty and care of detail.

SERVICES FOR PIONEER ARE CONDUCTED

ORANGE, May 7.—Funeral services were held Wednesday at St. John's Lutheran church for Asmus Peter Jacobsen, 74, pioneer resident of Orange, and prominent church member. Services were conducted by the pastor, the Rev. A. C. Bode, and the assistant pastor, the Rev. Kenneth L. Ahl, with a short prayer service at the Shannon Funeral Home preceding the church service.

Organ music was given by the church organist, Theodore Hopmann, and vocal music included congregational singing. Floral offerings were many and beautiful. Interment was made in St. John's cemetery.

Pall bearers were Fred Eckhoff, Fred Bandick, George Beckman, Ed Dierker, George Ahlefeld and George Dieker.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Marie C. Jacobsen; two sons, L. W. and Ernest J. Jacobsen, both of Orange; two daughters, Mrs. A. D. Munson, San Francisco, and Mrs. A. V. Nichols, Long Beach, and three grandchildren, Alfred and Donald Munson, San Francisco, and Robert Nichols, Long Beach.

Visitors were the Rev. and Mrs. Willard Learned, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Weaver, Mrs. Virginia Clark and Mrs. George Mosher. The group also called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Atherton also former missionaries in Africa, thus making it possible for 10 former workers in the Congo to renew a happy fellowship.

All of the visitors were attending a church conference at the Orange avenue Christian church.

SEA SCOUTS TO START WORK ON TRAINING POST

First work on construction of the permanent Sea Scout training base at Newport Harbor will be started next Saturday.

According to Harrison White, Orange County Scout executive, the city of Newport Beach has donated all material necessary for construction of a seven-foot fence around bay front property recently acquired by the Sea Scout organization for use as a training station.

Sea Scouts, representing the various ships in the county, will report for duty at the harbor training site next Saturday and, assisted by carpenters, will construct the fence.

According to White, construction of the fence will be followed by the construction of docks and floats in the harbor, adjacent to the property, for the accommodation of boats and equipment owned by the various Sea Scout ships.

Several weeks ago regional directors of the Sea Scout unit of the Boy Scouts of America, acting on the recommendation of Regional Commodore Vesey, approved a plan for establishing a permanent training base for Sea Scouts at the harbor.

The Newport Harbor city council and chamber of commerce assisted the organization in securing 150 by 150 feet for use as training station which will be open to Sea Scouts from all parts of Southern California.

Officials of the Sea Scout organization expect to have the training base completed in time for use during the Regional Sea Scout Rendezvous to be held at Newport during a portion of June.

General HUGH S. JOHNSON

WASHINGTON, D. C.—What is our federal policy on business? Is it a new era of trust busting as Mr. Cumming's letter on the anti-trust laws seems superficially to say? Or is it a return to the idea of letting 'em grow big and then regulating them as the Guffey Act implies?

The president's letter on the Tyding's retail price maintenance bill is no indication, except perhaps that he believes that state laws are no good for price regulation. As a matter of fact, though strongly pressed, NRA would never permit the principles of the Tyding's act. Careful reading of the Cumming's letter gives no hint of the federal business policy. It intimates the anti-trust laws are emasculated but it doesn't tell in what direction amendments should go. So what is federal policy on business? Nobody knows.

What is federal fiscal policy? This town hums with talk of a balanced budget. Once it was thought by congressional leaders that the administration really favored a ten per cent budget slash. The president knows how to do that. He once cut the budget horizontally 25 per cent. But the famous 15 per cent "impounding amendment" is no slash at all. It just takes away from congress 15 per cent of its duty to appropriate money and gives it to the president. That plus a one and a half million lump-sum relief appropriation moves a large part of the power of the purse from the capitol to the White House.

That still leaves the question of fiscal policy undetermined. It is now clear that the Hopkins-Wallace-Ezekiel idea of taxing away all "excess savings," to take from all who have to give to all who have not, is taking the form of doctrine to split both parties from the bottom—with Mr. Wallace as the 1940 model of Huey Long and Share the Wealth. But is that as yet the fiscal policy of our government? Nobody knows.

What is its price policy? In 1934, in the interest of the debtor class, it was to get prices back to the 1926 level and thereafter to keep the purchasing power of the dollar there by rubberizing it. But in the vertical price-rise that followed, the government was able to boost wages throughout the country faster and further than the rise in the cost of living. That was the first time that had ever happened in a broad price-upswing. In the 1937 price-spurt, it didn't happen.

The buying power of wages lagged. The government couldn't do anything about wages so it cracked down on prices. But does that change the 1934 price policy? Is 1926 still the goal? Maybe it will be if the administration can get a wages-and-hours bill on the books again. But in the meantime, what is the government's price policy? Nobody knows.

What is its policy on housing, public works, and the rebuilding of the merchant marine? At one time we seemed to be going full steam toward all these necessary courses. But now Bob Wagner's little baby (housing) is a little Orphan Annie. Joe Kennedy does impress his friends as a man with zeal on the threshold of a great enterprise. Public works are momentarily shelved in the price strategy.

What is the federal policy on labor as between Mr. Lewis and Mr. Green, and on national defense and precisely on agriculture? Nobody knows.

That ain't all. Nobody's going to know till the court fight is decided. It looks like a sit-down strike in the Gulf of Mexico against all functions of national government.

It Seems to Me by HEYWOOD BROUN

STAMFORD, Conn., May 7.—In America we are adage addicts. Any short and pithy statement is accepted as true once it has gained currency. I do not purpose to lash out and try to bring all the proverbs tumbling down, but I have grown so annoyed at the remark that the early bird catches the worm that I decided to put it to the test.

I don't mean that I disguised myself as a worm or that I imitated bird calls. I just got up early one morning. The fallacy as to the success of the more precipitate of our feathered friends rests upon a lack of research. The average American who lives in the suburbs makes the 8:48 train. Crossing the lawn of his front yard in a great hurry, he sees no worm and only a few belated birds. It is easy for him to accept the axiom that the early bird catches the worm.

Taken for Granted

It saves mental stress. The householder does not need to worry about what has become of all the worms. If he thinks of their fate at all it is with an inner glow of satisfaction.

The careerist identifies himself with the early bird. He goes to the office promptly each morning in order to earn a living wage and, for that matter, to catch approbation rather than hell. And it comforts him to think that he is one with the starlings and the robins and that the way of the world is to rise early in order to provide provender for the little nest.

Not for the world would I callously disturb the illusions of anyone who has put something down and is paying the balance just like rent. But sooner or later the facts must catch up with us, and the story of the early bird and the worm is sheer bunk. At least it isn't true in Stamford, Conn.

Put to the Test

I rose at 6:30 yesterday and went straight to the apple orchard in my yellow pajamas. There was not a bird in sight. Of course, I am referring to daylight saving time, but since that is universal in our neighborhood, it should not confuse the worms or the birds at this late date. Seemingly some sort of tacit agreement exists between these traditional enemies. Any early bird would have been doomed to disappointment, because there wasn't a worm in sight at 6:30.

I sat lonely upon a rock in the middle of the orchard, and not a living creature joined me until the stroke of 9, when a large robin flew down from an apple tree and began to get to work just in front of me.

Apparently the yellow pajamas were a kind of protective coloration, for the robin conducted himself in an extremely gross and greedy manner. Having been brought up on the nature books, I assumed that a bird's first duty was to his family and friends. I pictured the head of a nest as flying out at dawn to bring worms and other goodies to his faithful mate who sat home upon the eggs.

P. J. Gets to Work

This was a very business-like and self-centered robin, and I made the surmise that he was known among his associates as P. J. At any rate, P. J. ate a hearty breakfast all by himself. He kept sticking his beak into the grass and coming up with something edible each time. Whether he stuck entirely to worms or tried a balanced ration I couldn't say. But he was interested in the health and comfort of P. J. first and all the time.

Every now and then he would strike a bad grub or worm, and then he would holler bloody murder and complain that the service wasn't what it used to be.

Here, again, I hate to be an iconoclast, but I am convinced that the shrill noises which the birds make are not singing in any sense of the word. On the contrary, these high notes constitute profane utterances thrown in while drawing up a bill of complaint.

P. J. was evidently in a dither about the state of the world, although the sky was fair and he seemed to be making an excellent breakfast. His coat was red but his attitude decidedly reactionary. His mind appeared to be dwelling upon some golden age during which the insects and the worm leaped up out of the ground in order to be eaten. Just the business of having to bend over annoyed him.

At last he caught sight of me and realized that I was an interloper and not a flowering shrub. This increased his rage, and he hopped upon the nearest low branch and uttered a denunciation. As far as I could gather, he wanted the Indians back again. He was no early bird, but merely a late Republican.

England's Bank To Be Immune Against Bombs

LONDON (UP)—Nine hundred men, toiling in secret, are making the new Bank of England an impregnable fortress that will defy fire, flood, burglary and air bombardment.

No workman engaged on the job is allowed to give information concerning the new building and bank officials have sealed lips.

Behind its stately facade the new bank contains many wonders. Fifty feet below street level are the world's strongest strong-rooms, capable of holding $750,000,000 in gold bullion. There are 50 underground vaults, each surrounded by a wall of steel and concrete eight feet thick. Dynamite would be useless against them and heavy bomb attacks would not shake them.

Massive steel doors, guarding the entrances to the vaults, are opened and closed by electric power. In the event of invasion or any emergency, it would be possible to flood the vaults.

As a further precaution, the new bank has also its own electric power station.

FIRST FLIGHT AT 92

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—(UP)—"Why, there's nothing much to it," said the sprightly little man as he relinquished the controls of the Stinson airplane in midair. A few moments later he was stepping from the plane and thanking the pilot for "the best birthday I've had in 92 years." The celebrant was Joseph Bauer, Civil war veteran.

As of January 1, 1936, there were 3,000,000 automobile radio sets in use.

BOXING CHANGES COMING

California's state senate has approved a bill calling for extensive revision of the present method of amateur boxing regulation.

The reforms will go in effect at the Orange County Athletic club, as well as at other arenas, if and when the assembly and Governor Merriam pass the measure.

Under a bill presented by Senator Walter McGovern, shows of four two-minute rounds, or three three-minute rounds would be allowed.

At present amateurs may fight four rounds of three minutes each. Value of merchandise prizes would be reduced from $20 to $10.

Mixed shows, defined as one "in which boxing contests, matches or exhibitions are held in conjunction with vaudeville shows, dances or other entertainments," also would be banned.

Instead of the former license fee of $12, plus a bond of $1000, clubs sponsoring amateur shows would be required to post a bond and pay an annual fee of an unspecified amount.

My old friend Tige Clinton has been milling around the pug-uglies as long I wonder if he's getting a little "punchy" himself.

Against the admonition of his pals, Tige carded Howard Cantonwine at the top of last week's wrestling bill. Cantonwine ruined the show by running out—as he had done on two previous occasions.

Nothing daunted, Matchmaker Clinton announces today that Sandor Szabo will headline next week's show. Her Szabo is the rascal who "took a powder" here a year or so ago and was forever after barred by Promoter Sam Sampson.

Directors of the Santa Ana Country club, headed by smiling Bob Fernandez and Of-Time Champion Eddie Holmes, are enthused at the reception the golfers have given their "summer membership" plan.

Something in the neighborhood of 30 members have flocked into the club on the strength of the generous offer which for $5 a month (plus tax) gives newcomers full privilege, except charge accounts.

These special memberships are offered only during the months of

May, June, July, August, September and October. The player must sign up for at least three of those months, the memberships running consecutively.

I'm told on good authority that most of the big-time coaches in Southern California will be on deck tonight when Santa Ana junior college opens its three-game spring football series in the Municipal Bowl.

Howard Jones and "Jeff" Cravath of U.C. will be down. Loyola's Tom Lieb is coming and so is "Fox" Stanton of Caltech. Westwood Will Spaulding may be an added "starter."

Bob McNeill, who coaches at Pasadena, joins the U.C. staff in the fall but that is not the cause or the unseemly interest of the big fellows.

Reason is that Coach Bill Cook is supposed to be springing some revolutionary stuff tonight, having gone overboard for Ernest Butterworth's rugby tactics as introduced here by the Canadian counsellor, Jones, Lieb et al are going to open up next season. They think they can pick up a pointer or two from the Dons.

CANZONERI MAKES LAST FIGHT STAND

NEW YORK, May 7.—Tony Canzoneri, 32-year-old man of the prize ring, seeks his third title in the lightweight division tonight with a fighting heart that keeps him going long after Father Time told him to quit. He has had 150 fights.

ARMING HIM FOR DUTY

No arm gets more tender treatment or attention than the million dollar wing belonging to Master Robert Feller, sensational young strikeout artist of the Cleveland Indians. Trainer Lefty Weisman applies hot towels to the speedball pitcher's arm to bake out the soreness. Feller strained his arm in his first start of the campaign. The Iowa farm boy struck out 11 St. Louis Browns in six innings.

Relax And Guard Against Crouching When Putting—Nelson

Byron Nelson urges you to relax and be comfortable when putting. Left, Nelson shows what he considers the wrong way to put. He is crouching too much and is too tense. Right, the winner of the 1937 Augusta Masters' Tournament shows how he puts today—rather erect, weight evenly distributed on both feet, and club swinging in pendulum fashion. Upper center, the young professional shows the overlapping putting grip popularized by Johnny Farrell. He has found it most effective. Center, he advises petite Mrs. Nelson to cut down her backswing when she finds herself over-running the hole.

"Bring on Riverside," growled Manager Ray Smith today, the pre-National league schedule of his Santa Ana Stars completed with seven victories and a tie in nine starts.

Admit Three Inland Clubs To National Night League After Bitter Finance Row

By EDDIE WEST

Surviving another of its periodic sick spells, the National Night Ball league was back on its feet today and, like Barnum's circus, bigger and better than ever before.

For the first time in years, the old National wheel had a membership of eight. Count em: Santa Ana, Huntington Beach, Anaheim, Westminster, Orange, And Riverside, San Bernardino and Colton.

It will start off—as advertised—next Tuesday night with Riverside opening in the Santa Ana Bowl, Westminster at Huntington Beach, Orange at Anaheim and San Bernardino at Colton.

The rest of the schedule has not been drawn. As expected, Riverside, San Bernardino and Colton last night at Garden Grove asked and received permission to operate National league franchises, thus burying for one season at least the remains of the American division. Riverside, San Bernardino and Colton hope to reorganize the National next year; but for this term they are in the National and subject to its rules and regulations.

The enrollment of the inland trio almost ran second in the news that broke at a stormy meeting of National league managers . . . The circuit almost fell to pieces before the newcomers were voted in.

Brainchild of Ben Gelker, the scrappy old head from Olive who is still in the confederacy as "vice-president" of the Westminster club, a motion was offered providing that all gate receipts be divided on a 60-40 basis, the home team taking 60 per cent instead of all as at present. Fred Grable of Huntington Beach moved it, and the second came from Francis Penhall, head of the Westminster team.

This has long been a tender subject with the "big clubs" and Santa Ana's veteran business manager, John Wilcox, was on his feet in a flash to fight the motion.

"Count Santa Ana out of the league if it passes," warned Wilcox.

President Walter Wentz also protested the motion, not as a rule but because he argued it was eleven-hour legislation that threatened the life of the league.

"Wait until the semi-annual meeting in the fall," pleaded Wentz. "Fight it out then, not now."

After considerable sparring, during which Gelker shouted that he would put a team in Santa Ana himself if Wilcox withdrew the Stars, the motion was tabled without vote.

During the debate, representatives of Riverside and Colton were noncommittal. Huntington Beach, Westminster and Orange were favorable; San Bernardino and Anaheim joined Santa Ana in opposition.

At the height of the discussion, Wilcox resigned as vice-president and his post was given to Sid Olin of San Bernardino, who was president of the now defunct American league.

Eight Marks in Danger At Southern Conference Meet

SAN DIEGO, May 7.—The finest collection of track performers in the history of the Southern California Intercollegiate conference gathers at San Diego State college's Aztec field Saturday for the annual all-conference championships. San Diego State will defend a title it has won for the last two years.

It is generally conceded that the conference has more outstanding individual performers this year than ever before, and the records they have turned in bears out the contention.

Such marks as 21.2 in the four-mile run by Randolph Carter of Whittier, 1:57.2 in the 800 by Dick deMouplod of Whittier, 4:26.1 in the mile by Frank Hervey of San Diego State, 14.3 in the high hurdles by Selwyn Hartigan of San Diego, 24:7 in the broad jump by Leland McPhie of San Diego, and 49:1-2 in the shot by John Raitt of Redlands would stand up well in any intercollegiate conference in the country.

All-conference records in eight events—220, 880, mile, high hurdles, shot put, discus, high jump and broad jump—already have been surpassed by athletes who will compete Saturday. The 100-yard dash record of 9.8 sec. has been tied on numerous occasions, and marks for the quarter-mile, low hurdles and relay have been threatened.

This indicates a wholesale breakage of conference records Saturday, with the only marks that appear really safe being in the two-mile run, the javelin, and the pole vault. Following is a summary of best marks turned in by conference trackmen, with all-conference meet records included in parenthesis:

Timely Tips on Outdoor Life

By JED WELSH

This is supposed to be a report on fresh-water fishing in Southern California, but how can I give a report on something if there isn't any? Boy! did we anglers take a beating at the opening of this season. But we all had a good time and we are used to taking a beating anyhow, so what's the difference?

I want to apologize for suggesting Little Rock Dam. I understand that if the fish were biting there must have been biting each other, because few were caught. There were so many fishermen they could have held hands and danced around-the-rosy all around the lake. Big Bear could have had a double row and a few extras, too. Lake Arrowhead came through with some good fishing with many limit catches made on salmon-eggs and spinners. Crystal Lake was fair, with experienced anglers getting some nice fish. The water was entirely too high at Santa Anita, San Dimas and Big Tujunga.

The streams did not live up to advance notices, either. The water is so high and there is so much natural food in the creeks that the fish are not feeding on worms and salmon-eggs that have hooks in them.

This always makes poor fishing during the first of the season, but it does make fishing better later on. As the streams and lakes recede and the food begins to get scarce, the fish start looking for more food and the anglers start getting even for the embarrassing moments of May 1.

The upper ends of both East and West forks of San Gabriel were pretty fair, especially for those using worms. Big Rock Creek was o. k. and will be for the next few weeks. Deep Creek offered easy fishing for the expert and fair catches even for the amateur. The water is so high in Deep Creek that the successful angler must use heavy sinkers to get his bait down on the bottom. Flies are out of the question and spinners just don't go deep enough. Try Deep Creek for some fine fishing in about a month.

The high Sierra country is still covered with snow and the upper lakes won't be open for some time yet. The Owens river is not too good because the fish haven't started to feed after their winter's fast. In fact fishing all over the south is not going to be good until the extremely high water goes down. Bait will be the best lure for another month at least.

Crappie were hitting in Henshaw, and bass fishing was satisfactory in Mono and Upper Otai. Plugs and spinner-fines seemed to be getting best results.

Barney Reese Tops Boxing The PAYOFF

WAR ADMIRAL 'SOLID HORSE' OF BIG DERBY

By HENRY MCLEMORE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7.—Louisville was flooded again today—with the golden, negotiable dollars of those who like War Admiral in the 63d running of the Kentucky Derby.

The son of Man o' War—ol' Big Red himself—stood at 8 to 5 in the betting marts and was a cinch to be hammered down to even money by post-time (12:45) tomorrow.

War Admiral had no reason to feel proud over his position as favorite, however, because it was given to him in the form of a left handed compliment. He is getting the play because of his rivals' weakness.

Only Horse Without Flaw

Outside of the Admiral there isn't a three-year-old in the field who hasn't displayed his flaws in public. The Admiral may display his tomorrow, but there is no getting around the fact that right now he is the only solid horse in the bunch that will shoot for the $50,000 prize. That is, off three-year-old form, and that's the only form the smart boys and girls care about. The Admiral won the Chesapeake in Maryland in impressive fashion, and his workouts have been of the highest order.

All the others have blown hot and cold, Pompoon particularly. The winter book favorite looked okay in the Pumonok, died in the stretch in the Wood Memorial and has been hustling beautifully in his workouts.

Dellor Sluggish

Reaping Reward was licked in the Derby "trial" but has been practicing like a champion. On the other hand, Dellor, Reaping Reward's conqueror in the prep race, has been sluggish in trials.

Hunch players were going for the Three D stable's Heefly, a handsome article which has been scorching the track in daybreak trials. But those who are supposed to know, think Heefly is strictly an exhibitionist, and will fold when the running is for keeps.

Bolled down, the situation strictly is this: On three-year-old performance War Admiral is a shoe-in; on two-year-old performance there are half a dozen or more colts fully capable of winning. The question is: Can they carry the load for a mile-and-a-quarter with stake weights on their backs?

for it to get the feel of things and then run in an entirely new team. Every member of the entire squad probably will see service at one time or another.

Team No. 2, probably will line up with Seannacher and Alexander at ends; Milligan and Nehrig at tackles; Crawford and Moyer at guards; D. J. Lentz at center; Joy quarterback; Timken and Lehnhardt at halfbacks; McCarter, fullback.

Team No. 3—Montgomery and Knoff, ends; McNeill and Johnston, tackles; Nunn and Fitzpatrick, guards; Nesmith, center; Tucker, halfbacks; Mann and Phoenix, quarterbacks; Kaufman, fullback.

Larry Todd, Mel Boehner, Jack Jenkins, Holderman, Bill Nelson, Larry Sherwood, Les Monnell, Del Beard, Walt Gray, Merle Griset, Lyndon Carmen, Glenn Cave, Tommy Sullivan and Clyde Files are among the new gridders sure to get a call.

General admission is 25 cents. Children will get by the gate man for 15.

FULLERTON CHOICE IN BIG J. C. MEET

By DUNCAN CLARK

Santa Ana will be represented by 16 athletes tomorrow at Long Beach in the Southern California junior college association track and field meet.

Some 250 athletes from 13 junior colleges will be present to argue the jaycee track supremacy of the Southland, which seems destined to land right here in Orange county in the hands of the high-spirited Fullerton tracksters. Last week Fullerton walked off with the Eastern conference title at San Bernardino. Coach Harold Lang's Yellowjacket brigade will have a stiff fight on its hands, however, from the three outstanding Western division teams, Los Angeles, Glendale and Santa Monica.

Don entries: Hurdles—Bob Reif; Shot and Discus—Ray Cokerley; Javelin—Bob Clark and Harry Stanley; High Jump—Blas Mercurio; George Griffith, Les Huhn and Elton Gaebe; Broad Jump—Willard Luton; Pole vault—Erwin Youel.

McLemore Delays Naming Winner Until Tomorrow

By HENRY MCLEMORE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHURCHILL DOWNS, LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7.—(UP)—Tomorrow I will give you the winner of the Kentucky Derby. I could do it now, for I already have this information, but I fear the consequence. Too many dreadful things might happen. A revelation at this time would surely rock the universe, and who wants to be all shaken up like a vanilla frappe?

If I blow the whistle now, as we say over at the club, can you guess what will happen? Well, in the first place, there'd be no use in running the Derby. Col. Matt Winn could just pay off the winner and we'd all have to go home. But I'm not quite ready to go home, for Louisville is a delightful place in the spring. You may get hold of a warm julep and a cold blonde once in a while, but you can't blame that on the town—it is likely to happen in Zanesville or Peoria just as easily.

But that isn't what I'm getting at. My disclosures would have far deeper significance than just the social side. You remember Black Friday, don't you? Well, that holocaust wouldn't hold a candle to McLemore Saturday. Factories would shut down. The breadlines would be endless, railroads and steamships would stop.

Baseball's Grand Old Man

By DUNCAN CLARK

Connie Mack, with the duties of president added to his managerial worries, is still going strong after 51 years in organized baseball and 37 seasons as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics. Baseball's grand old man was struck by a thrown ball during spring training and it was feared that he would not be able to be on hand when his Athletics opened up the season in Washington, but Connie responded to treatment and was back on the bench with his boys in a few days, wigwagging his score card as smartly and spryly as ever.

FINAL FRIDAY SHOW OFFERS TRIPLE EVENT

Running the gamut from 100-pound Barney Reese to 190-pound Ernie Shive, a triple windup is Matchmaker George Stewart's boxing offering at the Orange County Athletic club tonight.

It will be the highway arena's final Friday show. Beginning next week, Thursday will be "Fight Night."

Main Event No. 1 rematches the tiny Atwood fury, Reese, with Ray Ima, 108-pound Los Angeles Japanese, Reese and Ima met a couple of weeks ago in a fight that had the fans howling every minute. Reese was given the decision, but many fans thought Ima won.

In Main Event No. 2, Tustin's massive heavyweight, Ernie Shive, will face 190-pound Johnny Otama in a scrap that is likely to end up with one of the big guys on the canvas. No battle Shives has been in yet has gone the limit. He either knocks 'em out or is smacked down himself.

George Nelson, 175-pound L. A. battler, is expected to furnish plenty of stiff opposition for Jack Jones, outstanding amateur from Newport Beach who has been bowling over the best of them in Southern California arenas. Jack will bring 200 roosters with him from the Harbor district.

The semi-windup sends Ontario's pride, Tony Mendez, conqueror of Everett Jure, against Kid Buddy, a clever Negro who lacks only a punch.

Pat Quillon of Anaheim launches a comeback in the special, meeting Bobby Sois, tough 116-pounder. Fernie Baca runs into Victor Covos, who has been featured in main events in most of the clubs. Gene (Wildman) Dagupa will mix it with Robert Navarro of Placentia. The curtain-raiser will see "Inky" Caldwell battling B. Jimenez.

This Washington crew is one of the truly great boatloads of collegiate galley slaves and there is little doubt but that it will further demonstrate the fact between the railroad bridge and the finish on Mynheer Hudson's river.

JAYSEE NINE ENDS SEASON TOMORROW

Santa Ana junior college's hard hitting but "hard luck" baseball team had high hopes today of putting a rosy ending to an otherwise dismal Eastern conference baseball season by defeating Coach Al Claves' second-place Citrus Owls at Poly Field tomorrow.

Arnold Fickie, the best south-paw pitcher in the Eastern conference if he had control and the ability to last a ball game, will get the starting call. Duane Teel will catch. Art Nieblas and Fred Erdhaus will be relief hurlers.

With an average chucker Santa Ana might well have won the Eastern conference flag for its hitting has been good. The Dons return as a unit next season except for Erdhaus and Fickie.

Erwin Youel, regular shortstop, will go with the track team to Long Beach, making it necessary for a switch in the Don infield. Verne Rutledge will play short with either Erdhaus or Nieblas at first base.

DONS AFTER SECOND SPOT IN SWIMFEST

One hundred and fifty of the best junior college swimmers gathered in Chaffey junior college's spacious new 50-meter pool tomorrow afternoon to settle the Southern California jaycee aquatic championships for 1937.

Fullerton's "dream team" and winner of the dual meet championship of Southern California will be conceded first honors, with the battle for second place between Santa Ana, Pasadena and Los Angeles.

Drennan Ahern of the Dons is expected to place well up in the 220 and 440 free-style event. Dave Phoenix and Walker Davis should be in the money in the 50 and 100 yard free style events. George Bisset and Prescott are hoped to place in the breast stroke. Barney Spicer and Kenny Oliphant should pick up points in the back-stroke.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT HOW TO PLAY GOLF

but others are just as good. Just as important as putting is your work around the greens—run up shots and chips and explosions from traps. On your chips use an open stance to insure relaxation. On run-ups keep your blade slightly closed, hit the ball off the right foot and keep your hands ahead of the clubhead.

Playing out of a trap you should first set yourself firmly in the sand, using the open stance so you can cut the ball and get it into the air. The most common fault of many amateurs is that they take too much sand, and not enough ball.

Man o'War Colt Like Sire

War Admiral

Favored in the betting War Admiral is one of the fastest of this year's Derby candidates. The husky brown colt is the speediest son of Man o' War to come along in many a year.

War Admiral is as fast as Pompoon and better bred as far as distance running is concerned. There was some fear in regard to his ability in the mud until War Admiral was brought out to a sloppy Havre de Grace track for a one and one-quarter mile workout, April 21. Thorough a driving rain the colt went the full Derby distance under a stout hold in 2:15 2-5, really remarkable time under the bad conditions. At no time did War Admiral appear bothered by the deep going. He maintained his smooth, easy stride throughout.

"That was all I wanted to know," says Trainer George Conway. "I believed that he would be all right, as he is bred to run in mud, but I wanted to be sure by having him work in it. Now I don't care how the track is on Derby day. I believe that War Admiral is going to show you some real running in the Derby. The rest had better keep stepping along if they want to stay close enough to this colt to give him a battle."

Conway developed Crusader, American Flag, War Hero, War Glory and others.

Clyde Van Dusen, the last son of Man o' War to bag a Derby, hooped it home in the mud in 1929.

War Admiral runs in a manner that reminds old-timers of his illustrious sire, Like Man o' War, he prefers to jump out in front at the start and hang onto his lead, using his blistering early speed to race his contenders into submission.

KURTSINGER TO RIDE FAVORED WAR ADMIRAL

The Kentucky Derby will be broadcast by KECA about 2:30 p. m., Orange county time.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7.—Col. E. R. Bradley's Billionaire, now listed as a 20 to 1 shot, was the first of 20 horses entered today for Saturday's Kentucky Derby.

Next in line was Court Scandal, owned by Townsend Martin. Third was Melodist, Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wood Memorial winner, and fourth was Heffly, sensational sprinter owned by the Waggoner brothers.

The field was swelled to seven with the entry, in order named, of William du Pont, Jr.'s Fairy Hill, Walter A. Carter's Clodion, and J. Louchheim's Pompoon, the winter-long favorite.

The eighth entrant was I. J. Collins' Bernard F. The stable has not secured a boy to ride him.

War Admiral, Samuel Riddle's favorite, was the ninth entry. He will be ridden by Charley Kurtsinger, who piloted Twenty Grand to victory in 1931.

The Milky Way stable of Mrs. Ethel V. Mars entered only two instead of three, Reaping Reward and Military were named while Case Ace, which was expected to start, was left out.

Earle Sande, rider of three Derby winners, swelled the field to 13 when he dropped in the names of the two horses he trains, Sceneshifter and Fencing. Jimmy Stout will ride Sceneshifter and Jackie Westrope Fencing.

CUTS CORNER: COSTS $516.08

Cutting a corner in Santa Ana cost Lee Boyle, local service station operator, $516.08 yesterday afternoon.

That was according to judgment made by Judge Kenneth Morrison in Santa Ana justice court, after hearing the suit of E. J. and Frances Culbertson against Boyle and Boyle's counter-suit against the Culbertsons.

The Culbertsons alleged Boyle cut a corner at Main and McFadden streets on Sept. 21, 1935, his car colliding with theirs, operated by Cecil Mahoney, damaging it and injuring Frances Culbertson. They asked and received $148.95 for damage to their car, $10.15 court costs and $367.18 for injuries to Frances Culbertson and for doctor bills. In his cross-complaint, Boyle asked $182, alleging Mahoney was at fault. Boyle admitted cutting the corner, court records show, but alleged Mahoney swerved the Culbertson car into his, negligently.

PHILIP HENDRY, Sybil's brother.
DOROTHY STARK, Joan's girlhood friend.
CHARLES NORTON, California mining promoter.

Yesterday, Philip arrives in Seattle to check on Joan, fails to learn anything useful, and proceeds to pray on the Eastman high school secretary for more information.

CHAPTER XV
ON Tuesday evening, Bob had dinner with Mr. Hendry in Green Hills.

After dinner, they went into the living room, and there in front of the fire, they talked.

"I suppose I might ask you what you'd like for a wedding present," Mr. Hendry suggested, eventually.

Bob looked perplexed. "That's nice of you, J. H.," he said, a trifle shyly, "but I can't think of anything. Perhaps if you asked Joan—"

Hendry puffed on his cigar quietly for a moment, before saying: "I did something else for Joan today, though I'd rather she didn't know it. Might as well tell you, however. I changed my will."

Bob looked at him in amazement. "What's that, sir?"

"I made a new will. Left a third to Joan."

BOB searched for words appropriate to answer this surprising announcement.

"But, Mr. Hendry," he said finally, "that's a pretty big thing to do. It seems too much, somehow. You know how I'm fixed. You've done enough for me so that I can always take care of her. Ample, I think."

Hendry nodded. "I know you can, Bob," he agreed. "But it gives me a certain pleasure to do this."

"It's fine of you, of course..." The older man looked into the fire for a moment, recalling past dreams... When he spoke, there was a tender sadness in his words:

"I loved a girl once," he told Bob. "And every time I look at your Joan, I see my Nancy in her. Thirty years ago I brought her to this house... she didn't live very long afterward. There were many things I might have given her, but we had very little money in those days. Sybil and Philip are well provided for as it is; they'll have more when I'm gone. But if Nancy had lived, we might have had a daughter like Joan. That's why I'd like to do something for her. It's no reflection on you, my boy."

"I understand, sir," Bob replied quietly, and his voice was husky with emotion.

"There's one thing more. I'd like Joan to have this house. Oh, I know you have your heart set on a fine place upon your hilltop. You can have that, too. But this place is very dear to me. It's—it's a sort of shrine, I guess you might say, to Nancy. I don't want it to go to Sybil or Phil. They don't understand how I feel about it. Why, Sybil would scrap it for junk. But Joan will understand. I'd like her to keep it for me, if you don't mind. As long as Abraham is alive, it is to be his home. After that, well, let her rent it out to some young couple who would appreciate it—not for the money, but more for the happiness they might find here."

"Joan would do that," Bob assured him. He was a little over-come. That Mr. Hendry had liked and admired Joan, he knew well enough, but never to so great an extent as this!

AS soon as he could trust his voice to be light, he added: "Suppose you plan to live here until our children are married—this would be a fine place to start them out!"

Hendry chuckled. "That's the idea! I never thought of that. Well, I must tell you, I'm counting on another 20 years at least. Don't let my little talk fool you... Bless my soul!" He slapped his thigh vigorously: "When I look at Charles Norton, after all these years—well, tell me now, would you ever think that fellow was 64 years old?"

Bob raised an eyebrow in surprise. "Sixty-four, is he? No, I certainly would never have guessed it."

Hendry took another cigar from the box on the table and bit off the end. He stared at it meditatively before starting to light it. "Yes, sir, Bob, Charles's a great fellow. We prospected together, out in the Sierra Madres, some 40 years ago, I dare say. Yes, sir, we were kids at the time. Couldn't have been more than 20, myself. And Charles's a year or two older, if anything. He was a great pal. Saved my life, once, too."

"He did? Bob looked up in interest, a little taken back to discover this new angle to Norton's character. "In what way?"

"It was somewhere south of Placerville. We'd come upon an old shaft—abandoned, so it seemed. Of course, foolhardy like young fellows are, we had to examine it, right off, without a thought of the danger. I went down ahead. I remember, while Charles scouted around the surface. But I got no more than 30 or 40 feet down that shaft when the whole shebang caved in on me. I tell you, I thought that was the end..."

"You were buried beneath it?" Hendry nodded. "Buried under a couple of tons of dirt and rock. And forty feet below the surface at that. Fortunately, there was a sort of cave to one side of the shaft, and I just naturally fell into it. There must have been enough air, too, to keep me going."

"How long were you down there?"

"Well, I don't rightly remember. It seemed like 20 years, believe me. But Charles said it was only a matter of 10 or 12 hours. In the meantime, he was digging frantically down the shaft to get me out. Somewhere, he happened on a couple of other men, and the three worked to clear away the dirt. I don't remember much about it. Guess I was pretty nearly out of the picture when they finally brought me up. Gosh, almighty, I'll never forget how tickled I was to wake up and see that big black face of Charles Norton."

"Life must have been plenty thrilling," Bob put in, "out in the old West."

"It was that," Hendry agreed heartily. "A fellow never quite knew what sort of fortune lay in store for him, from one day to the next. Prospecting in the old days was a rough gamble. But we had our fun out of it—Charles and I. There was another fellow, too, Jerry Jordan. The three of us roamed the mountains of California together for nearly 10 years."

"What happened to him?"

"Oh, that's a nasty story. Jeremiah was killed. Murdered. And by some young fellow he'd done a great deal for. Made quite a bit of money, Jerry did, and he had a nice little business. This fellow was his confidential assistant. One day some easy money came through the office, and I guess it was too much for him. He shot Jordan. Shot him in the back."

Bob frowned. "They got him later?"

"Yes, they got him, all right." Bob stared into the fire, shaking his head. "Imagine a rat like that, can you? Shooting a man in the back. And for a few paltry dollars! It makes you stop and think twice before you make a new friendship, doesn't it?"

(To Be Continued)

The console has two manuals and the entire framework is moveable. Although there are 3,600 connecting wires in the workings behind the walls of the new room, there are only two connections from the console itself to the pipes.

After the special dedication services, Mrs. Guy Koons will be heard at the organ for regular services.

Why Wrathful Duke of Windsor Sued 'Coronation Commentary' Author Told By Glance AT Book

BY BRUCE CATTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

Just what is there in Geoffrey Dennis' book, "Coronation Commentary," that caused the Duke of Windsor to file a libel and injunction suit against the author and his publishers?

Dennis, a distinguished English novelist, wrote this book—or most of it—a year or so ago. It was designed as a coronation-time specialty, apparently.

Largely a review of the history of British kingship and British coronations, closing with a glowing tribute to the then king, Edward VIII.

Just as the book was finished Edward abdicated, and Dennis added a final chapter on the abdication. The book appeared, and the Duke of Windsor promptly sued both Dennis and the publisher, house of William Heinemann, Ltd., for libel, asking also an injunction against further publication of the book.

The book then was withdrawn from sale in England, but the American edition has been released by Dodd, Mead & Co.

What is in it to stir the former king to such wrath?

The Reasons

You need only to read Dennis' chapter on the abdication to find out.

In it, discussing the reason why the British public refused to let Edward retain his throne and marry the American Wallis Warfield Simpson, Dennis says:

"She came too far below, she clashed too crudely, with the nation's idea and ideal, dream and myth, of feminine royalty. Queen Elizabeth, Queen Victoria, Queen Alexandra, Queen Mary, the ladies of York, Gloucester, Kent—which ever standard, among these variant high ones, of English queenship your own might happen to be, the new aspirant did not fit it. Ideals are ideals. Ideals must be idols. She WOULD NOT DO. The comedown from Queen Mary to Queen Wallis was too steep."

"Roystering Invaders"

Dennis also takes some pot shots at the free spending, heavy drinking set of American expatriates in London with whom, he complains, Edward had cast his friendship. So here is this paragraph:

"The invaders, of course, were not beloved. They were as a rule no credit to the great country they had exploited and deserted, nor to the one in which they now were roystering and ruling. . . . They were cock-a-hoop, and since Edward's accession were getting insolent and out-of-hand. There was but one more world to conquer. The first woman to sit in the ancient commons was a divorced American; why not then also—?"

Geoffrey Dennis

Mrs. Simpson

Duke of Windsor

And this:

"England is proud, and minded seeing her throne provide a music-hall turn for low foreign newspaper. . . . The country bitterly resented the other country's brazen delighted cheapening of its high possession—the tabloid press jeering, interfering—and in its anger naturally, if ungratefully, ignored the correct and cordial tone of most Americans and of the good American journals."

And this:

"Much of those days' exciting news was evidently based on fact. What was not so evidently based did also its bit; the rumor and hearsay, fantastic . . . spies, crimes. . . . Hitler—never surpassed in the rich long history of scandal-mongering. Whether they were wholly true, or wholly untrue, or something in between, those stories heaped—already half in revenge—upon the head of a woman unable to defend herself sealed finally her fate. If such stories—true or not, no matter—were in circulation about you, you were not fit to be Queen of England."

Other Things

Even the working class, long friendly to Edward, consented to his departure, says Dennis:

"He left his land with kingly dignity. . . . We saw him go with love, and pity, and cynical relief. Was it so heartless of those South Wales film audiences, unemployed, entrance half-price, stonily not to cheer him? He was a tragic, broken man; but he was off to the sun, and the white snow . . . and they—"

In one place, Dennis discusses the common statement that Premier Baldwin never would have taken so strong a line with Edward "unless there were other things." He goes on to say:

"Unfortunately, there were. Things done and said in his infatuation; his lover's prodigality. In moments of recourse to other sources of courage as well. . . . Papers curiously, neo-Kaiserishly, annotated. The affair of the Egyptian treaty. No sound understanding of the technique or limitations or necessary dignity of the office. Irregular hours, irregular habits. . . ."

"Deficiency of Pity"

Yet it is not only Edward and the "set of fast trans-Atlantic wisecrackers" who come in for Dennis' condemnation. Admitting that there were "aspects not admirable" about England's reaction to the abdication, he says this:

"There was slander about, as well as sense, baseness as well as beauty. More smut than even the circumstances called for, and a fair amount of deliberate cruel lying. Amid such English good nature, a deficiency of pity. . . . With no un-English self-doubting, a good, average display of English self-content. If hypocrisy not above average, thick calm smooth oceans of complacency, Complacency, COMPLACENCY."

Large Volume

A total of 4,658,495 pounds of avocados were marketed during December through March, and comprise the 358,115 packed flats which will receive the "four per cent flat refund" about May 12. This repays a four cent per flat increase made in the marketing costs or "retain" immediately following the freeze, as a safety measure. The marketing retain will be reduced the four cent flat from April through the remainder of the season. The refund, plus a very favorable March final, and the April partial payments will be received by growers at the same time.

During April a total of 1,213,000 pounds of avocados were harvested and delivered by cooperative growers, compared with 1,145,000 pounds in March. This April tonnage was the largest normal-month volume for two years.

More Than Anticipated

Greater fruit receipts than anticipated and revised estimates for May have reduced the January freeze loss from 33 per cent to 33 per cent of the total crop indicated last fall, Stephens adds.

This greater avocado tonnage plus the record sideline business to date this season are held largely responsible for the grower rebate announced last week.

Sign your applications and get in!

This is the cry that went out today in connection with the Register-RKO hookup in the current plan to determine who from Santa Ana or Orange county shall have a bona-fide screen test in the near future at the RKO studios in Hollywood.

Everyone knows now that four persons were selected to compete in the finals when the aspirants went on the stage of Walker's theatre Wednesday night. Who will be included in the four next Wednesday? It all depends on you! Fill in the application and turn it in immediately at Walker's, and you will be notified when to appear for an audition.

Take Your Hints

Coincidental with the announcement, Max Factor, famed Hollywood cosmetician, who is to personally take care of the winners from all parts of the country, issued the following statement in connection with the present talent quest:

"Motion pictures today are a free beauty school for women of the world!"

"Most screen stars reveal at least one or two beauty secrets in every picture, which could be used to good advantage by the average woman."

Excellent Pointers

"Ginger Rogers, for example has mastered the technique of properly applying her lipstick," says Factor. "She uses it to accentuate her lower lip making her mouth appear full, sensitive and alluring."

Jane Lang can give milady excellent pointers on hair dressing. Her coiffure is moulded to her head; designed to exactly fit the contours of her face. There are scores of other examples."

FAST PROGRESS MADE ON 1937 AVOCADO CROP

Eighty-four percent of the 1937 season avocado crop is now harvested as compared with 66 per cent a year ago at this time. Production Manager B. C. Stephens of the Calavo Growers of California, reported today. A total of 7,666,000 pounds of avocados had been harvested to May 1 this season by cooperative growers, compared with 4,400,000 pounds a year ago. Supplies will soon decline rapidly, as but 16 per cent of the total crop now remains.

Large Volume

A total of 4,658,495 pounds of avocados were marketed during December through March, and comprise the 358,115 packed flats which will receive the "four per cent flat refund" about May 12. This repays a four cent per flat increase made in the marketing costs or "retain" immediately following the freeze, as a safety measure. The marketing retain will be reduced the four cent flat from April through the remainder of the season. The refund, plus a very favorable March final, and the April partial payments will be received by growers at the same time.

During April a total of 1,213,000 pounds of avocados were harvested and delivered by cooperative growers, compared with 1,145,000 pounds in March. This April tonnage was the largest normal-month volume for two years.

More Than Anticipated

Greater fruit receipts than anticipated and revised estimates for May have reduced the January freeze loss from 33 per cent to 33 per cent of the total crop indicated last fall, Stephens adds.

This greater avocado tonnage plus the record sideline business to date this season are held largely responsible for the grower rebate announced last week.

Pianist And 'Cellist
Present Brilliant Program

By the Reviewer

Miss Esther Vogt, pupil of Minnie Phillips Heard was presented in piano recital last night in the Y. W. C. A. rooms, where a brilliant program was given by Miss Vogt and her assisting artist, Earl Talley, cellist who is studying with Edward H. Burns.

Miss Vogt's Beethoven was good, her Grieg and Rachmaninoff were excellent, and in her Chopin numbers the young pianist brought greatest pleasure to an appreciative audience. Last evening she demonstrated her command over the bass octaves in particular, playing with a firmness that commanded attention.

Possibly the greatest brilliance in her playing was attained in the Chopin "Scherzo in C Sharp Minor," the technical difficulties of which were surmounted easily. A similar climax was reached in the Rondo-Finale of the Beethoven Sonata opus 26, which opened the program.

Other selections were the familiar Nocturne No. 2 and a Valse opus 42. Grieg's "Wedding at Troldhaugen," with its open fifths and melodic movement proved to be the most interesting of the pianist's numbers. Also included in the last group were Valse Triste of Schubert and "The Lark" by Glinka-Balshew.

Earl Talley's selections were "Air" (Bach), "Rondino on a Beethoven Theme" (Kreisler), "Habenera" (Ravel) and "Evening Star" from Tannhauser (Wagner). Music lovers in the audience expressed special pleasure in the tone developed by the young pupil of Mr. Burns.

Esther Vogt will be heard again next Tuesday evening in the Little Theater at Santa Ana High school, as accompanist for Cecilia Singers.

Mrs. Ash Is Hostess
At Dessert-Bridge

Tent Members Stage Annual Spring Event

Coming as a highlight in events of the year for Sarah A. Rounds tent Daughters of Union Veterans was an annual mother-daughter luncheon yesterday afternoon in First Christian educational building.

Although the affair was planned in compliance to wives of widows of Civil War veterans, there were a number of other guests present to fill the rolls of the mothers of the day.

Sharing honors were Mrs. Anna Pendleton, mother of Mrs. Addie Gardner of D.U.V.; and Mrs. George Campbell, mother of Mrs. Ethel Vincent and Mrs. Violet Wade, members of the tent. Mrs. Campbell is wife of Commander Campbell of Sedwick G.A.R. post.

Tables for luncheon radiated from an improvised fountain filled with flowers in a riot of color.

Equally as attractive were the blossoms which decked the tables, which were appointed with corsage clusters for each member and guest. Decorations and other features of the day were in charge of Minnie Cowan, Margaret Robertson, Geraldine Beall, Florence Perry, Fern Hill, Lucile Hilla, Elsie Smith, Adna Cowan, Anna Cosad and Mrs. Beren Baker, president of the tent.

Cora Graham opened the program with a song, "Just Before the Battle, Mother." Mrs. Lena Hewitt gave a toast to Mothers, with Mrs. Campbell responding.

Mrs. Sarah M. G. Brown was among those giving short talks. Several original poems were read by Gazelle S. Sharp, Mrs. Elizabeth McLeod read a poem; Mrs. C. F. Bennett gave a talk in tribute to Daughters; Mrs. H. S. Nickes sang solo; Patriotic Instructor Clara McCord gave the history of the organization; Dorothy and Esther Hermon gave specialty numbers, accompanied by Mrs. L. L. Buell; Mrs. Blanche Owens sang solos, with Mrs. Olga Hald accompanying; Mrs. Graham closed the program with a song.

Guests were Hannah Maryatt, Emma French, Helen Grass, Cassie Ferguson, Anna Pendleton, Mary Eisele, Angie Taylor, Melie Vance, Frances Spencer, Laura Darby, Elizabeth McLeod, Gazelle S. Sharp, Marietta Phillo, Jennie Anderson, Dora Warner, Sarah M. G. Brown, Retta Campbell, Rose Barton, Helen Bennett, Mary Sawyer, Laura Boyd, Lucinda Hamilton, Laura Wilkes, Annette Thompson and Kate Sutton.

D.U.V. members in the group were Beren Baker, Lena Hewitt, Jennie Johnson, Jennie Lane, Addie Gardner, Adna Cowan, Fannie Nels, Ella Smith, Emma James, Florence Price, Pearl Nelson, Nellie Griswold, Dorothy Kelly, Fern Hill, Clara McCord, Jessie Hogland, Elizabeth Smiley, Geraldine Beall, Lucile Hilla, Ethel Vincent, Violet Wade, Gladys Ward, Elizabeth Rupert, Adna Sheffield, Thelma Williamson, Cora Graham, Minnie Cowan and Florence Perry.

Order of Beauceant

Plans for a benefit luncheon June 23 in Masonic temple were made by members of Social Order of Beauceant Wednesday afternoon in the temple, with Mrs. E. R. Roehm presiding.

Members decided to observe annual reciprocity day in the fall instead of the spring, when the program usually is given.

Mrs. W. A. Patterson and Mrs. E. A. Pagenkopp served refreshments at the afternoon's close.

Faculty Members Are Guests At Tea In New Home

Bringing together members of Edison school faculty, of which she was a member for several years, Mrs. John McCoy entertained with an informal tea Wednesday afternoon in her pretty new home, 1207 Louise street. The occasion gave several of the group their first opportunity to view the home, of which the McCoy's so recently took possession.

Guests arrived at the home at the close of school in the afternoon. Mrs. McCoy had all in readiness for the serving of tea from a prettily arranged table lighted with tapers to match the purple tones of the centerpiece of pansies. Mrs. Nellie Hughes poured tea.

In the group were Mrs. Duane Smith, the former Miss Edna Hearn, who was a member of the faculty at the same time as was Mrs. McCoy; and present faculty members including the principal, Mrs. Hazel Maxwell and Mesdames Nellie Hughes, Grace Reid, Margaret Alexander, Lyle Mitchell, Mary Block, Marion Valley and the Misses Eva Marshall, Dorothy Jessee; with the hostess, Mrs. McCoy.

Many Santa Anans Expect
To Attend State Conclave

When California Federation of Women's clubs 36th annual convention opens next Wednesday at Hotel Del Coronado, Santa Ana will be represented by delegations from four different groups, including Ebbl society, Junior Ebbl, Girls' Ebbl and Woman's club of Santa Ana.

In session May 12, 13 and 14, the convention will have as its theme, "Existence Justified through Service Rendered." Tuesday, May 11, "pre-convention" day, will be featured by a reception honoring State President Mrs. W. D. James, and state executive board members. The 2 o'clock meeting will feature an address by Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, General Federation president. Presentation of district presidents will take place during a 9 p. m. banquet Thursday.

Election polls will be open Friday from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. Junior membership program will be presented at 8 p. m. that day, with installation of officers taking place at 9 p. m.

Forums
Mrs. Clark McEuen will be chairman of all forums, with "An Examination of the Conscience of California Federation of Women's clubs" as the theme.

Among those serving as convention hostesses will be Mrs. Archibald Edwards, Orange County Federation president.

Many of the local club workers who will be in Coronado for all sessions of the conclave will be joined by several others on Thursday, May 13 when General Federation President Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson will give her address, it was reported.

Tri-Quad Club Members Shower Bride-Elect With Gifts

When Miss Grace Anderson attended a meeting of Tri-Quad bridge club Wednesday evening in the home of Miss Margaret Young at 1615 North Main street, she discovered she was honoree at a troupe-sean shower, Miss Cleora Fine and Mrs. Robert Lufbery assisted Miss Young in planning the party.

Miss Anderson's marriage to Walter Templeton of Los Angeles will be an event of July 2.

A blue and white color scheme was carried out through the use of bouquets of iris from the Milan Miller gardens. Miss Anderson received a corsage of iris from the hostess.

Mrs. Henry Onsted won first prize in hearts; Mrs. Thomas Pangie, second; and Mrs. Vern Schaupner, consolation. The guests then gathered in the dining room where gifts for the honoree had been placed on a large table with a centerpiece of white stocks and tall white tapers.

The three hostesses served a dessert course at the close of the evening, when small tables were decorated in blue and white.

Present with the hostesses and the bride-elect, were Mesdames Edward Miller, Wilmington; Thomas Pangie, Robert Allen, Fullerton; Kenneth Hill, Anaheim; Michael Reid, Long Beach; Vern Schaupner, Donald Baldwin, Miss Louise McBride, Los Angeles; Miss Blanche Siegel, Costa Mesa; Miss Marion Dickey, Newport Beach; Mesdames Robert Moore, Carl Lacy, Joseph May, Henry Onsted, Verlin Anderson, Christine Anderson, Virgil Reid, Everett Lutz, Gerald English, Misses Rose Allen, Helen Allen, Jeannette Jorgenson, Edna Mae Heim and Grace Wurster of this city.

Thursday's session will open at 9 a. m. First readings of resolutions and of revisions will take place.

Woman's Club
Mrs. F. A. Martin, retiring president of Woman's club of Santa Ana, and President-Elect Mrs. R. A. McMahon will head the group of members from that organization. Others who expect to attend are Mesdames Fern Tarbox, William Whitehead, Charles Oakes, J. D. Watkins, W. C. Watkins, R. G. Carman, William Wells, James McCracken and Miss Linda Kroeker.

Opening Session
The convention will open Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. There will be reports of state officers; presentation of past presidents and general Federation officers, chairmen and guests. Words Of Modern Poet
Inspire
Pegasus Club Program

Inspiring one of the most refreshing programs ever shared by Pegasus club members, one of Anthony Ewer's oft-quoted poems was theme for a meeting held yesterday afternoon following luncheon in the Balboa Island home of Mrs. Nelson Visel.

Mrs. Walter Foote had selected the poem which provided inspiration for a variety of original manuscripts. The lines, by Ewer, are as follows:

"As a beauty I am not a star,
There are others more handsome by far;
But my face, I don't mind it
Because I'm behind it
It's the people in front that I jar."

Mrs. Caleb Jackson gave a review of the works of Ewer, who is a resident of Portland, Ore. Mrs. Frank was contributed a sketch account of the travels of her son, Frank Was Jr., who recently returned from a voyage aboard the Stranger.

Mrs. Glenn Tidball, new member of the group, read "Aspirations"; Mrs. Frank Lansdown, "Impressions"; Mrs. Justus Birchard, "No Apologies"; Mrs. Malcolm Macurda, "Receptacle for Beauty"; Mrs. Visel, "Laughter"; Mrs. Charles Fuller, who is attending P. E. O. convention in San Diego, had sent in poems, "Logic" and "Encore" which were read by Mrs. Charles Brisco. Mrs. Brisco also read a letter from Mrs. George Bond, member who is vacationing in Oregon.

Mrs. Foote read a poem "My Silhouette." She also gave an interesting report of poet's day at the recent Wistaria fete in Sierra Madre. Members were interested in learning that one of Mrs. Foote's poems, "Return" was read early this month in a program broadcast over WLW in Cincinnati. Mrs. Earl Morley read "The Burning Torch."

Completing the group of members present yesterday were Mrs. Bernice Thompson and Mrs. Roe Havelly.

The program followed luncheon served in a pretty setting to which Paul Scarlet roses contributed colorful charm. Several members arrived at the Island in time for an enjoyable stroll preceding other events of the afternoon.

The group will be entertained May 20 in the home of Mrs. Lillian Geraghty in Glendale.

Merry Party Marks
Little Lad's
Fourth Anniversary

Honoring Donnie Wilson, who celebrated his fourth birthday yesterday, Mrs. Josh L. Wilson of 2064 South Van Ness avenue entertained a group of her small son's friends and relatives at the family home.

A feature of the luncheon served on a large table was a huge birthday cake designed in Maypole style with animal crackers placed at the base of the Maypole. The host was the recipient of many gifts including a birthday cake from Mrs. John Jacobi. Guests spent the afternoon playing with toys.

Invited to share the happy occasion were Mrs. Della Wilson and Mrs. S. P. Truitt of Pasadena; Mrs. George Fleming and Philip Fleming of San Gabriel; Mrs. I. L. Ball and Ivan and Dickie Ball of Los Angeles; Howard Neighbor of Berkeley; Mrs. R. M. Lindsey and Joanne Loughton, Danny Spencer, David Sauters, George Benson and Paul Benson, all of Santa Ana.

Guardian Council Has Party In Carlson Home

Dinner and bridge were enjoyed by members of Job's Daughters Guardian council Wednesday evening in the C. F. Carlson home, 313 Normandy Place. Small tables were centered with bud vases of red roses during the dinner hour.

Prizes in bridge were won by Mrs. William Dean and Harry Crowe, high; and Mrs. Frank Sawyer and Guy Christian, low.

The group will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Plummer Bruns June 2 for chicken dinner at Dixie Castle.

Included with the hosts were Messrs. and Mesdames William Dean, Plummer Bruns, Frank Sawyer, Harry Crowe, R. R. Rosset, Guy Christian and Claude McFarren.

Children
SHOES

The shoes that children wear during the summer months are most important, for during this time their feet grow rapidly.

It is very wise to purchase children's shoes at a store where special attention is given to children's shoes. It is particularly important that growing children be well shod, for their health and happiness throughout life depends on it.

Hairdresser Gives His Slants On Coiffures

According to a famous New York hairdresser, the woman whose face is quite round should expose her forehead, and insist upon waves which slant diagonally from temple toward crown.

"The thin, long face needs graceful, subtly slanted waves. The hair should form a delicate frame, flowing back off the face and forehead, exposing as much of the face as possible."

The coiffeur says that a pointed face presents somewhat of a problem because of the narrowness of the lower half. It requires a simple hairdress with feminine curls to soften hard lines of neck and jaw. If your face falls in this category, a good deal of experimentation is in order.

The square jaw always must be softened, and a fairly long bob generally is advisable, especially if it is finished with curls just behind the ears.

Before you decide to adopt a new coiffure, view it from every angle—with hats as well as without them. Unless it looks as attractive from back and side views, as it does from the front, try something else. For example, heads which are flat at the back ought to be built up, either with curls, a special kind of cut or a high chignon.

Curls or softness behind the ears break the hard line of a particularly bold jaw and make the profile more feminine. Tiaras or fantastic evening ornaments are not for small featured, petite girls. Extremely short bobs or exaggerated swept upward arrangements are not for those with very long necks.

Remember, of course, that any coiffure is at a disadvantage if you ask him to work with hair which is not gleaming with health, flexible and not too dry or too oily. Shampoo once a week, renew your attention to nightly brushing, use a tonic to correct any scalp defect you have and try to get some sunshine now and then. See that your hair is in excellent condition, then make an appointment for a new hairdress.

Mother's Day Gifts

Any one of these handsome presents will make Mother's Day memorable. The "two-face" gloves, with white glaze palms and backs of white suede and white glaze with a slenderizing line of stitching to separate the two leathers, are accessories de luxe. The bath ensemble (lower right) includes bath salts, dusting powder and a huge cake of soap. The orchids, tied up with white satin ribbon, are sure to make Mother happy. For the travel-minded mother, there's a small, lightweight iron, which fits into a leather case. The handbag (upper left) comes in natural pigskin as well as black, brown or navy calfskin. The Mixing Bowl
By ANN MEREDITH

Mounting meat prices make the lowly hamburger or its more exclusive running mate "chopped round steak," welcome visitors where once chops, steaks and roasts had the entire. Cleverly done, even the price tag disappears in the ohs and ahs of those who eat. Several days ago I described to you a way to broil ground round steak or hamburger. The method was this:

Take up loose handfuls of ground meat, drop on a shallow oiled baking pan, shape lightly into mounds or cakes, depress with spoon, put chunk of butter in hole and season with mixed poultry seasoning, salt and pepper. Broil from 15 to 20 minutes.

So far, so good, for the steak. Let's go a step further and provide the broiled steak with a sum-shus sauce, called:

Celery Savory
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
2 tbsps olive oil or butter
Salt, pepper and pinch of cayenne
Fry slowly until soft, season and serve around the steak patties. Rinse steak pan with boiling water, boil up, and pour over the dish.

Rare chopped steak and hamburger appear daily on the menus of our Safe and Sane reducing diet. With green vegetables in salads and cooked dishes, it isn't hard to live on this diet. Users emerge from it with weight reduced, strength built up, in fact an improvement in health all along the line, BECAUSE this diet is scientifically built.

Get it, today. It costs nothing but the required stamped envelope, addressed.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Oyster Souffle
From a pint to a quart of small count fresh oysters

SAUCE

Blend together:

1 tbsps flour with
3 tbsps butter
1 medium onion, ground
1 tbsps minced parsley
Salt, pepper, paprika and dash of cayenne

TOPPING

Mix 2 cups hot mashed potatoes with 4 tablespoons grated cheese, some butter and enough cream to whip to a moist light texture.

Arrange washed and drained oysters in a buttered casserole. Pour the sauce over them and arrange the potato in little mounds, smoothing top over with knife dipped in hot water. Bake 30 minutes in a hot oven. The recipe serves six.

This cheese dish is nourishing, a change from meat, and within your budget at all times.

Cheese Pudding With Chipped Beef Sauce

8 slices stale bread, buttered lightly and cut in inch squares
1 1/2 cups grated yellow cheese
Salt, pepper and paprika
2 eggs beaten and mixed with 2 cups skimmed milk
2 tbsps butter for top of dish.

Have bread and cheese arranged on a shallow baking pan (the charm of the dish lies in its crunchiness). Pour egg and milk over bread, dot with butter and season. Bake 30 minutes in a 375 degree oven. Serve in large squares with this sauce.

Shred ten cents worth of bulk chipped beef and fry in butter (3 cups) until crisp. Blend two tbsps flour with butter and beef and stir in two cups skimmed milk. Cook until thick, add no salt, but some pepper.

Any recipe using chipped beef is improved in flavor if the beef is first fried in butter before it is added to the sauce.

Saturday: Eat and Grow Slim menus for three meals.

ANN MEREDITH.

Dessert Bridge

Roses centered tables in the home of Mrs. Edward Walker, 525 East Chestnut street Tuesday afternoon during the serving of a dessert course which preceded bridge play enjoyed by club members.

Three tables of cards were in play during the afternoon. Scoring first and second high were Mrs. Asa Hoffman and Mrs. Lucy Hollinger. The next meeting will be held in Mrs. Hollinger's home in Pasadena.

Convention Activities
Prove Of Interest
To Local Group

In session recently in Stockton, department convention of G. A. R. and affiliated orders was attended by a large group of Santa Anans, several of whom took special part in the various activities which marked meetings of the six patriotic groups participating in the conclave.

C. F. Millen of this city, who now is junior past commander of Sons of Union Veterans of California and Pacific, presided over meetings of that organization. Also, he was master of ceremonies on stunt night. Millen now is Council Member No. 1 of Sons of Veterans, C. and P.

Mrs. Lena Hewitt of this city was elected department patriotic instructor of Auxiliary to Sons of Union Veterans. Mrs. Hewitt is president of General W. S. Rosecrans auxiliary No. 2 of Los Angeles. Historian of that organization is Mamie Deems, past national president of the Auxiliary, who last year was department president of California and Nevada W. R. C. Mrs. Hewitt also served as assistant guide for all sessions of the Auxiliary to Sons of Veterans.

Dr. Ralph R. Barrett of Huntington Park, who is well known in this community, accompanied the local group of delegates north. He was national representative for Sons of Veterans throughout all sessions of the convention.

Mrs. Rowena Croust, member of Union Veterans of this city, as department chaplain, officiated at various sessions. Mrs. Della Bishop of Orange took part as department counselor.

VISITING IN CANADA

Enjoying reunions with old friends in Canada, their former homeland, are Mrs. Arthur Wade and Mrs. Robert Wade of this city, who left recently for a leisurely trip on which they were accompanied by Dr. A. S. Wade of Renfrew, Ontario, Can.

Dr. A. S. Wade, who had been visiting here since early in the year with his sons, Dr. Robert and Arthur Wade, now has returned to Renfrew, where he is mayor. Mrs. Arthur Wade, formerly of Ottawa and Mrs. Robert Wade, former resident of Montreal, are visiting with old friends at the present time. They plan to leave Canada May 25, making the trip home by automobile.

RIDING CLUB

Members of a riding club were entertained yesterday by Ida Brinkman at the Brinkman cafe in Balboa. Riders met at the ranch home of Mrs. Frank Waer on Harbor boulevard and rode to Balboa where they were served a chicken luncheon.

Present to share the hospitality of the hostess were Mrs. Harry Merrill of Garden Grove and Mesdames Clarence Fowler, Charles Killingbeck, Glenn Copeland, Clarence Applebury, Gerald English, Delos Patterson and Frank Waer.

Local Pastor Leaves
Soon To Attend
Assembly In Chicago

Opening May 28 in Chicago, Ill., General Assembly of United Presbyterian church will be attended by delegates including the Rev. A. E. Kelly, pastor of the Santa Ana United Presbyterian church. Leaving Monday, May 17, for the east, the pastor will be accompanied by Mrs. Kelly and their two children, Mary and John.

The family group will go to Tarkio, Mo., to visit with Margaret and Robert Kelly, students at Tarkio college. Mrs. Kelly, Mary and John will remain there with the two students while the Rev. Mr. Kelly continues to Chicago for the assembly.

At the close of the school term, Mrs. Kelly and her sons and daughters will go to Xenia, Ohio, to meet the pastor. There the family will be guests in the home of Mrs. Kelly's mother, Mrs. Jeanette Ervin. The group will spend some time in Pawnee, Neb., with the Rev. Mr. Kelly's mother, Mrs. Ida Foley. The travelers plan to return home in six weeks' time.

RUPERT HUGHES GIVES TALK TO ORANGE GROUP

Rupert Hughes spoke yesterday at the Orange Rotary club in the interests of the American Society of Hard of Hearing. More than 300 members of the club and their guests were present.

Hughes, best known to the public as an author, revealed himself in a new role that of humanitarian.

Voices Plea

The hard of hearing have votes, they are organized, and they only want their right to take their place in the world, said Hughes. Stanley Manser acted as program chairman. H. D. Nichols presided and Hughes was introduced by Miss Ruth Bartlett, lip reading teacher of the adult education department of Santa Ana, who was presented by W. H. Lowry, Orange Union high school teacher.

Songs were led and a number of solos were sung by Miss Mary Louise Bowler of Pasadena. Others introduced were Mrs. Marie Webb of Anaheim, president of the Orange County Hard of Hearing League, Mrs. Drusilla Mackey of Fullerton, vice president; Mrs. Golden Weston, head of Santa Ana adult education; Mayor A. Croxton of Orange, and Miss Helen Scriber of Los Angeles, vice-president of the Pacific zone of the league.

GREEN REFUSES STRIKE ACTION

HOLLYWOOD, May 7.—(UP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, today refused to become involved in jurisdictional aspects of the Hollywood film strike.

In a telegram replying to messages from leaders of the striking Federated Motion Picture Crafts Union, Green declared that the A. F. of L. had not ordered the strike and therefore could not be held responsible for differences between local unions.

The FMPC, which is seeking union recognition from the studios, had protested that the international Alliance of Theatrical Stage employees, recognized by producers, not only refused to join the walkout but was furnishing strike breakers to the 10 studios affected by the strike.

Pickets continued their slow march around the studios again today, the seventh day of the strike. Edward A. Fitzgerald, representative of Secretary Perkins, arrived in Hollywood today. Fitzgerald announced he was investigating the strike of 6,000 film technicians under Madame Perkins' orders.

Support of a theater boycott came from John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization. Local CIO men prepared to picket Los Angeles theaters showing films from the 10 strike-bound studios.

From Detroit the national executive board of the CIO's United Automobile Workers' union wired that it "pledges the solidarity of the 300,000 automobile workers in your fight for decent conditions in the motion picture industry."

Crane Presents Film at Parley

Ross E. Crane, assistant Orange county farm advisor, presented motion pictures of the biological survey's recent study of animal life in the United States at the Brea 4-H club meeting in the Brea Christian church last night.

Routine business was conducted under the direction of Hollis Lawson, president.

Several members of the club reported on their projects, which Crane said are successful.

Parents Support Students' Strike

GLEN ECHO HEIGHTS, Md., May 7.—(UP)—Superintendent Edwin T. Broome returned to the Glen Echo-Cabin John school today and found things in a terrible state, with 60 of his pupils staying away from their classes and many parents supporting their strike.

The strike began early in the week and reached serious proportions yesterday when parents, angered because a little girl had been seriously injured while waiting for the school bus to arrive, decided to keep their children at home until the school board "did something" about the bus service.

In order to be picked up by the school bus, the children must walk to intersections where streets from the heights cross Conduit road, a heavily traveled highway. The parents demand that the bus make loops through the heights section to pick up the children.

300 BARCELONA FIGHTERS DIE

PERPIGNAN, France, May 7.—(UP)—Three hundred persons, injured in the anarchist revolt street fighting, died overnight in Barcelona hospitals from lack of medical care, frontier reports said today.

Hundreds more were reported by the government to be dying at Saint Paul hospital, in Barcelona, victims of the insurrection which flared anew today through all the autonomous Catalan state.

Anarchists, making a desperate bid for power denied them in recent governments, were reported to have issued an ultimatum to the two-day-old government, composed of a four-man dictatorial directorate.

Disband the government assault guards immediately, the anarchists said, or face an attack by tanks and poison gas. Anarchists told their adherents to remain calm and assemble at their headquarters because "the hours to come will be one of the utmost seriousness."

French warships in Barcelona harbor were asked to land 200 bluejackets as street fighting threatened the safety of their consulate.

Anarchists, already in control of suburban Hospitalet, a city of 40,000 persons adjoining Barcelona, were reported to have extended their sway as far as the French border.

PARDON DEAL FOR CAPONE IS CHARGED

NEWARK, N. J., May 7.—(UP)—Chief, would have been pardoned by President Hoover in a "deal" negotiated safely, Paul H. Wendel testified today in a federal court, charged that Ellis H. Parker sr., if the kidnaped Lindbergh baby was refuted today in the kidnap trial of Parker and his son, Ellis Jr.

"If the baby was returned," Wendel said, "Capone was to be pardoned by President Hoover through a contact Parker had through a colonel in Washington."

Parker and his son are being tried on an indictment charging them with violation of the federal Lindbergh kidnaping law, through conspiracy to kidnap Wendel and "corrupting" him into a confession to the Lindbergh kidnaping. The alleged confession delayed execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann three days.

PAYS $110, JAILED

Dewey M. Curtis, 35, Long Beach, convicted of drunk driving and ordered to pay $150 fine or go to jail for 15 days, but $110 available. He paid the $110 and went to county jail last evening to begin serving 20 days to make up for the lack of $40. Records show that Curtis was arrested on the same charge in Orange county a year ago.

BUDGET NAMED TO AD FARM BUREAU PLANS

Appointment of Lewis W. Budget, attorney, to work with the stock committee of Farm Bureau members was approved by the Board of Directors at their meeting in the new Farm Bureau headquarters yesterday.

"City Conditions"

"Orange county is farming under city conditions and the Farm Bureau is willing to cooperate with the Board of Supervisors and the Planning commission in restricting the rural areas," Secretary R. D. Flaherty said in explaining the action.

At present Dave Bushard of Talbert and Hugh Thompson of Orange are the only two members of the planning commission that are not from the city areas. There are nine other members and ex-officio members.

The report of the hog raising ordinance and the developments in restricting the importation of outside garbage to Orange county was made by R. W. Hull of the Farm Bureau livestock committee.

The Ways and Means and the Organization committees will work together this summer to analyze conducting of the Farm Bureau activities and make a report not later than September when the new working year begins.

Gains 145 Members

Plans for the Bureau Picnic, May 15, were approved and L. P. Haldeman, chairman of the newly organized recreation department reported on the activities of the Farm Bureau chorus made up of 70 voices.

The chorus will present a musical program June 27 under the direction of Frank Pierce. The place has not been designated.

The board of directors also instructed the water and ways and means committees to study the proposed water bond election and to work out a policy for the bureau to follow.

A meeting will soon be called at which time this committee will present the views of the supervisors and decide on what steps the bureau will take.

The membership department reported that 145 new members had been added to the roster since January 1.

JAILER WILL TAKE PRISONERS NORTH

TAYLOR MURDER CASE QUIZ RECALLS TRIAL IS SLATED HERE BETWEEN PRINCIPALS

Litigation between Mrs. Charlotte Shelby and Mrs. Margaret Fillmore, mother and sister of Mary Miles Minter, which flared into a reopening of the William Desmond Taylor murder case of 1922, had its inception in Orange county, and another scene of the feud between mother and daughter is scheduled to be staged in superior court here May 24.

That date is set for trial of a dispute over title to the sumptuous Laguna Beach dwelling occupied by Mrs. Shelby, at 1330 Hillcrest Drive.

Claims Purchase

The Shelby family feud, which brought a rift between the mother and her elder daughter, but apparently has closed an old rift with her younger daughter, the former film star, began when Mrs. Shelby ejected Mrs. Fillmore from the house at Laguna Beach.

Title to the property was said to be in Mrs. Fillmore's name, but Mrs. Shelby claims she purchased the property, in the name of her daughter, under an agreement to retain control and use of the property during her lifetime.

Relations further were strained when the mother attempted to have her daughter declared insane.

Charges Theft

Subsequently Mrs. Fillmore filed suit in Orange county superior court to quiet title to the Laguna Beach home in her favor. She also brought suit in Los Angeles courts, charging her mother with theft of $48,000 from a joint safety deposit box in Los Angeles.

This action was transferred briefly to Orange county, as the home of the defendant, Mrs. Shelby, but later was returned to Los Angeles county, for the convenience of witnesses. It was while Mrs. Fillmore was giving a deposition in that action that she made statements which led to reopening of the Desmond murder case by District Attorney Byron Pitts. Mrs. Fillmore said she had protected her mother in that case.

Attorneys Harvey and Harvey and Forgy, Reinhaus and Forgy, of Santa Ana, are counsel for Mrs. Shelby in the title litigation here.

HEATER SURVEY IN ORCHARDS IS MADE

A survey of orchard heater performances during the last year is being conducted by University of California, College of Agriculture, and the Orange County Farm Adviser's office, Harold E. Wahlberg announced today.

This survey will attempt to find the shortcomings of the various types of heaters used and determine the ones giving the best performances.

More than 100 representative orchards are being studied in the survey. Leonard Scott has been assigned to Orange county by the university to assist Wahlberg and his staff in conducting the survey.

A four-page questionnaire has been sent to growers to obtain the information desired. Another survey will be made after the harvest of the crop preparatory to completing the study.

Police News

Sheriff's officers today were investigating theft of 800 feet of knotty pine lumber stolen recently from W. J. Messecar, West Ball road, one-fourth mile east of Brookhurst avenue.

Employees of the Young ranch, Placentia avenue, today reported finding two abandoned and stripped bicycles on the ranch. One was a Hawthorne, No. X-8629, the other, a Traveler, No. 194993.

Fifty Rhode Island red chickens and 25 peculiarly marked March Daisy chickens were stolen last night from the J. E. Jones ranch, Ball road at Stanton road, Jones said in asking a sheriff's office investigation.

John Williams, 63, Orange, was jailed here by Orange police yesterday and charged with assault. He must serve 30 days.

UNION AGREEMENT SIGNED

PITTSBURGH, Calif., May 7.—(UP)—James C. Wood, owner of the Redwood Manufacturers' association plant here, today announced the company had signed an agreement for a closed shop policy with representatives of the Carpenters' and Joiners' Union of America.

CLUB WILL MEET

The Ladies Townsend Afternoon club will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Morris, 515 South Broadway, tomorrow at 2 p. m. Arrangements will be made for a speaker, and all interested in the Townsend movement are cordially invited.

A SURE WAY TO TURKEY PROFITS

The Sperry way of feeding turkeys is to use two mashers during the life of the bird. A builder mash for the first 14 weeks—a finisher mash for the 15 weeks to marketing. This method is based on the principle of GROWTH CONTROL—which in turn is based on the turkey raiser's necessity of growing birds as rapidly as possible and getting the most prime birds with lowest mortality and lowest cost per pound of gain.

FUNDS FOR TWO WPA PROJECTS ARE ALLOCATED

Allocation of funds for two WPA projects representing a total of $43,502 to be expended was announced today by Dan Mulhern, Orange county manager for WPA.

The first is a state forestry project providing for construction of fire suppression barracks at two points, and other work. The federal appropriation for the project is $29,345 while the sponsor will provide $8089 of the total of $37,434.

The second project for which funds have been allocated provides expenditure of a total of $6088 for a bandstand and ground improvements at the Orange city park. Of the total amount the federal government will provide $4573 and the sponsor $6088.

NEW YORK-PARIS RACE IN AUGUST

PARIS, May 7.—(UP)—Air Minister Pierre Cot ruled today that the Lindbergh anniversary airplane race from New York to Paris would be held in August as scheduled, overriding the American objections.

Twenty-two entries in the Lindbergh race were filed before the entry lists closed here May 1.

Aviation leaders in the United States wrote the International Aeronautical association here suggesting that the air race be postponed a year. The association authorities left the decision to Minister Cot inasmuch as the French air ministry is sponsoring the race and putting up the prize money.

Col. Charles Lindbergh, American flyer now living in England, flew from New York to Paris in May of 1927.

NAVY CONTINUES DIRIGIBLE STUDY

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(UP)—Secretary of the Navy Claude A. Swanson said today the navy department will continue to study the possible use of lighter-than-air ships for naval purposes despite the crash of the German dirigible Hindenburg.

Swanson conceded that investigation heretofore has indicated that the utility of dirigibles in naval service "does not justify the funds necessary for their construction and operation," but said that continued study "may develop otherwise."

He pointed out that the crash of the Hindenburg was directly attributable to the use of hydrogen gas, a condition which would not pertain to American dirigibles which would be inflated with non-inflammable helium.

HONORS WON BY PLACENTIA HIGH

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Cal., May 7.—(UP)—Three judging teams which will represent California in the national Future Farmers of America contests at Kansas City were announced today after eliminations at the California State Polytechnic school.

Placentia high school won the livestock judging division, with Jack Adams of El Centro high school as high individual judge.

The winning dairy cattle judging team was from Tomales high school with Irwin Fisterola of Tomales high judge.

Electricity Theft Brings $100 Fine

William W. Howell, 26, South Sullivan street, told court officials he lost his job as electrician here as a result of his arrest for theft of electricity from the Edison company, was fined $100 by Judge Kenneth Morrison, Santa Ana justice, today.

Howell was allowed 20 months to pay the fine; a six months' county jail sentence was suspended. Howell was accused of fixing the wiring so that electricity used would not register on the meter.

1000 MEXICANS TO HOLD FIESTA

More than 1000 Mexican residents of Orange county are expected to gather on the high school athletic field at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow for the annual celebration of Cinco de Mayo, sponsored, this year by the Mexican Youth Progressive Club of the Y. M. C. A.

Official observance of Cinco de Mayo, commemorating the defeat of Maximilian's French troops by Benito Juarez in 1865, thus saving Mexico from French control, was held on Wednesday May 5 in most areas. The Orange county celebration however, was delayed until tomorrow because of the many school students who are participating in the event and because the high school athletic field was necessary to conduct the field and track meet being held in connection with the Fiesta.

High lights of the Fiesta will be the coronation of Katherine Sepulveda, descendant of one of the earliest Californian families and resident of Tustin, as Fiesta Queen, and the address by Renato Lara, Mexican consul in Los Angeles. Consul Lara, in his address will explain the significance of Cinco de Mayo to the Mexican people. Joe Serba will speak briefly telling the purpose of the Fiesta.

TAXATION EXPERT TO ADDRESS LIONS

Dixwell L. Pierce, secretary of the state board of equalization and nationally-recognized authority on taxation, has consented to be principal speaker at the Santa Ana Lions club meeting next Thursday noon at Masonic temple, according to word today to Program Chairman Don Jerome, from J. P. Greene, equalization board public relations secretary.

Lions from surrounding cities and local equalization board employees have been invited to attend. Pierce will discuss California's taxation system with which he is familiar. Invitation to Pierce was extended by Ray Edgar, member of the state board of equalization from Southern California following conference with Jerome and W. C. Shay, board tax administrator for Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties. Edgar also will be present for the meeting, he said.

James B. Utt, state inheritance tax appraiser, will be chairman of the meeting and will introduce prominent guests.

'WALLY' ARRANGES MARRIAGE DETAILS

MONTES, France, May 7.—(UP)—Mrs. Wallis Simpson worker today on the list of those to be invited to her wedding with the Duke of Windsor. It was understood that the invitations would be sent only at the last moment in order to keep secret the date selected for the ceremony.

The Duke is reported to have telephoned his youngest, favorite brother, the Duke of Kent, last night and told him the date. Kent is expected to be best man.

The Duke and Mrs. Simpson made their first public appearance since their reunion today when they motored to Semblancy, 10 miles from Monts, for lunch. Detective cars preceded and followed the duke's car. Movie camera cars followed also and a fight developed when police tried to keep photographers from snapping the duke and Mrs. Simpson.

HEIRS TO SHARE BIG DEFICIT IN BEQUEST LISTS

All heirs of the late Norman Greenwald's $225,000 estate in Santa Ana, whether kin or strangers, must share proportionately in the estimated $19,500 deficit in payment of bequests under the will, which total $245,000, Superior Judge George K. Scovel ruled at a hearing late yesterday.

The ruling will be appealed to higher courts by kindred heirs, who claim preference over stranger legatees in distribution of the state. Judge Scovel, in deciding the case yesterday, held that under probate law, kindred legatees are entitled to preference where there is no contrary intention shown in the will, but he ruled that such a contrary intention had been shown, and that the will provides for proportionate sharing of assets of the estate.

Decrease in Estimate

The ruling was given on a petition by the First National Bank in Santa Ana, as executor of the will, asking instructions on the point. All of the kindred legatees, whose legacies aggregate $70,000, as against $175,000 willed to strangers to the blood, responded to the notice of hearing and presented their claims of preference through Attorney R. C. Mize.

George Ross, one of the stranger legatees, was represented by Attorney L. A. West, and presented the opposite side.

Greenwald died December 11, 1930, leaving an estate originally appraised at $303,741.70, but now estimated by the executor at $225,450. As stated, the legacies aggregate $245,000.

The kindred heirs, who seek preference in distribution, are: Harold Greenwald, legacy of $20,000; Herbert R. Greenwald, $10,000; Russell Rohrs, Marvin Rohrs, Eleanor Rohrs, $5000 each; also the following minors: Lois Rohrs, 17, Bobby Greenwald, 10, Ruth Greenwald, 13, Darrell Greenwald, 14, and Mabel Greenwald, 12, each being willed $5000.

RHODES FINLEY IS EMPLOYED IN EAST

Rhodes Finley, son of Col. S. H. Finley, has just obtained employment as clerk with the Whitin Machine Works, in Whitinsville, Mass., a letter received today by Justice Kenneth Morrison and justice court attaches, revealed. Finley formerly was deputy justice court clerk with Judge Morrison.

En route east, Finley acquired a new car at Chicago, visited Niagara and other cities. He reports his new employer hires 3600 men on group bonus basis in connection with piecework production. He said he is on a five-day work schedule and receives "time and a half" for any Saturday work.

"The people from Boston and other Massachusetts cities tell me they have had the warmest winter on record," Finley wrote.

200 Members At Bureau Opening

More than 200 members and guests attended the open house of the Orange county Farm Bureau in its new headquarters at Orange yesterday. Roland D. Flaherty, executive secretary and staff, showed the visitors through the new headquarters.

Members expressed themselves as being well pleased with the new setup and added facilities for the Farm Bureau to carry out its work.

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

"I always enjoy visiting our children, but aren't you glad we don't have to live with any of them?"

FEEDING YOUR LAWN

Modern, complete, scientific plant food offers gardeners definite advantages over old-time fertilizers, such as manures and organic materials, like bone meal. In the first place, they are complete and scientifically balanced; and in the second place, they are clean and odorless—pleasant to handle.

Because modern complete plant food is concentrated, it is essential that it be applied with care. The first essential in the use of a complete plant food is to make even distribution, otherwise, just as in the case of sowing seed, you will have an uneven, spotted growth. Next, keep in mind that the excessive use of plant food should be avoided. It is wasteful and may result in at least temporary injury from overfeeding. Many gardeners have found that frequent, small applications give them best results.

Here are a few pointers to keep in mind: Never apply plant food when grass is wet. Do not put it on the leaves or stalks of flowers or vegetables, or in direct contact with seed or the roots of plants. Where water is available, brush the plant off the blades of grass by running back of the rake, or a light weight door mat, over the lawn. This may also be done by sweeping with a broom.

Rarely is feeding recommended for lawns and perennial beds. Put it on before plants start growth. Applied at that time, it is unnecessary to water the plant food into the soil. Early application also eliminates any possibility of even temporary injury to plants.

Complete plant food may be applied by hand, with a kitchen colander, or a plant food spreader. There are now on the market a number of inexpensive plant food spreaders at very reasonable prices.

Year Around Salad Garden

Green salads are a staple in every well-planned menu. The consumption of lettuce in a generation has increased beyond estimate, and the same is true to a lesser extent with tomatoes, cucumbers, endives, Chinese cabbage, celery and others.

A small home garden of limited extent can be put to no more efficient use than to be converted into a green salad garden. Of small dimensions, it is easily cared for and fancy salad materials can be grown.

It might seem ridiculous to suggest growing dandelions in a garden, as they will probably do their best to overwhelm it anyway, but the dandelion is the first green salad of the year available for gathering. It isn't such a foolish idea to encourage a row of good healthy dandelion plants, seeing to it that they don't go to seed. The best method is to set a flower pot or a box over the plant early in the spring. It then blanches and produces creamy foliage which is tender and excellent salad material. There are cultivated varieties to be had with better leafage than the native.

Next in season is leaf lettuce, followed by head lettuce and the cos lettuce, the best for the hotter part of the lettuce season. This will carry well into July. By that time the earliest tomatoes will begin to ripen, with the earliest cucumbers and a little later the green peppers will join the salad procession to go through July and September.

Radishes for the spring salad, summer and winter radishes for the later season salads are useful. The endive, both the broad leaved known as escarole, and the handsome curly varieties, will pick up the green salad schedule for September and October and even into November, and late planted corn salad will take you into the cold weather. Then, French endive rounds out the year. This must be planned in the spring.

Philadelphia's Port History Has Salty Air

PHILADELPHIA, (UPA) History of Philadelphia's port, written in the crisp, salty language of the sea, has been discovered in the archives of the State Navigation Commissioners.

The records of the Board of Wardens of the Port of Philadelphia, on parchment paper, are being copied by WPA workers from their mouldy leather bindings.

The Port Wardens were organized in 1776 to control and judge shipping. Stephen Girard, Robert Morris and Alexander Hamilton held office in the Port Wardens, which is 1907 became the Navigation Commissioners.

Until a few years after the American Revolution, upkeep of the port was in charge of the Wardens. Most of them derived their income from marine trade. Sale of salvaged anchors and lines swelled the organization's treasury.

ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE MICROPHONE WITH HOMER CANFIELD

(Homer Canfield, who usually presides over the column is vacationing tonight he has called in Hal Styles to bat for him.)

By HAL STYLES
Well, H-E-L-L-O, Neighbors! Your Uncle Canfield said, when "Help Thy Neighbor" first went on the air, that it "would soon hit the big-time bracket to the accompanying applause of all radio." I remember those kind words well.

In fact (since I lost my local sponsor) I have re-read that sentence, and wondered if Homer was wrong. You see, when I first conceived the idea of helping people by radio, I reasoned that all humans, regardless of racial or other lines, were but brothers and sisters under the skin. I have had many thrills in the past year or so, not the least of which have been going down in a diving suit and standing in a cage surrounded by thirty-six lions and tigers. Never, however, have I experienced a greater thrill than the ringing of the telephone during a broadcast of "Help Thy Neighbor," announcing a job for some applicant.

Former bankers, lawyers and executives of all types come each Sunday to rub elbows with dishwashers and laborers—white, black and yellow. Fathers, sons and women whose husbands have deserted them—people of every creed and race—all with their desperate tales—seeking "just an opportunity" to earn an honest living.

More than 100 letters and phone calls daily made nights when I went home depressed. And I thought my worries were important! However, soon the spirit of "Help Thy Neighbor" spread—and congratulatory messages (one from President Roosevelt) poured in from all over the nation. Organization "endorsements" came.

Aside from the twenty-five or more jobs which came in during each broadcast, almost ten per day rolled in to the sick. Picture celebrities presented "lavettes" to the new-born—and the spirit of "helpfulness" caught on until at this writing almost 700 former jobless neighbors have found gainful employment.

Suddenly, in the midst of apparent success, my sponsor found the expense a bit too much to continue. But the office of "Help Thy Neighbor" just had to go on. Then Lewis Allen Weiss, general manager of KJH, came to the rescue. Such a "good-will service" was destined for greater things, he reasoned, and accordingly gave me the facilities of the entire Don Lee network. In the meantime, however, the operating expenses are mine. And now—that expense has me a bit worried.

Can "Help Thy Neighbor" go on? Is it the greatest "good-will" program ever to hit the airwaves, as evidenced by hundreds of "testimonials"? Well, you neighbors know the answer as well as I. And so (as I say in my broadcasts) letters by volume, addressed to me at KJH, might solve my problem.

But here, I see I haven't given a "testimonial" story of "Help Thy Neighbor"—or have I? Well, anyway, I notice the column is ending, so—"so long, neighbors"—and thanks Homer. I'm hoping your prediction is correct. In the meantime, I have my fingers crossed and I'm telling myself (for a change) to "keep smiling."

GARDEN AND HOME

ANNUAL POPPIES BRILLIANT

"Poppy magic" and all the allusions to flash and delicacy contained in their infinity of grace and charm are yours if you will plant this lovely flower this spring. These "visionary tints" of which the poet sings, painted on your garden floor like crystal specks which sparkle in the sun, will lend an atmosphere of soft and quiet finish.

Plant them to roam at large in your garden to so sow and re-sow themselves with an unending spread of color. Their brilliancy will not be surpassed.

Poppies are Brilliant Garden Subjects

by any other annual, and following the June perennials as they do, they will prove a happy flash before the later phlox and annuals have had a chance to bloom.

Shirley poppies are the most satisfactory. They are considerable work to be done in thinning the tiny seedlings from the lawn after the fall broadcast seeding, but the final effect is well worth the trouble.

Fall or winter sowing over the frozen ground will produce the same effect; the poppies germinate during cool weather and myriads of them appear with the spring thaws when they may be thinned. They naturalize easily, and if many of them are pulled up by the roots after the blooming season, the seedling will not be too prolific.

The Iceland, known by this name because of their abundance in that northern country, are in popularity with the Shirleys. They, too, will naturalize, but need a well drained bed, where they will give a brilliant flash of orange and yellow.

The old-fashioned peony flowered opium poppy is becoming popular again. New rose and pink varieties of this big flower are ideal for planting with delphiniums, and their blossoming season is longer than the Shirleys, although the number of blooms is somewhat smaller.

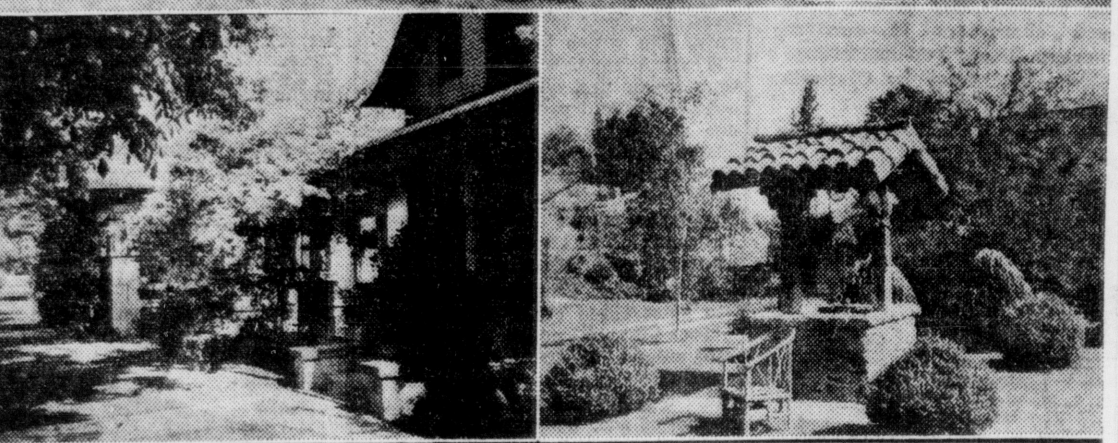

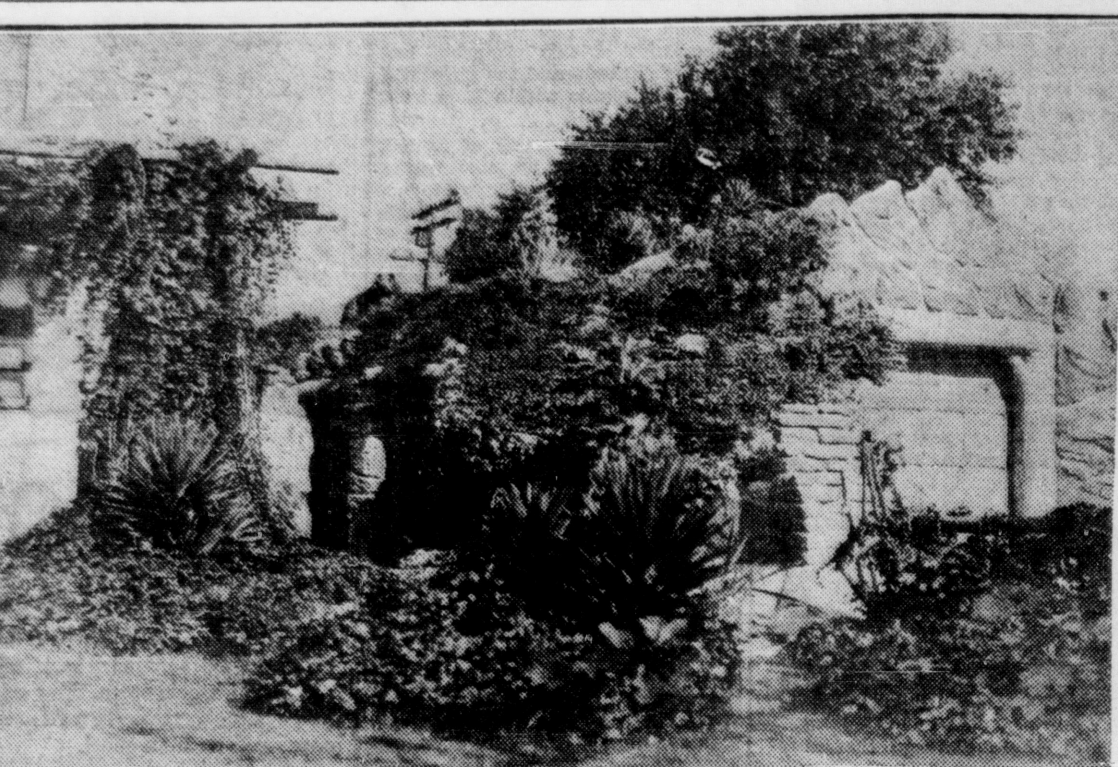

This is a good time of year to sow the poppy seed. Opium poppies should be sown among the delphiniums about a foot apart, and most of the others need about as much space. Opium poppy seed, by the way, is excellent for sprinkling on biscuits or coffee cake; it is called mohnkuchen in German.

The number of poppies in your garden will determine to a great extent the amount of color. Plant them lavishly and then thin well, as well as pull up a few to prevent too profuse growth in the spring.

Sow a row of marjoram to dry for poultry dressings. It is hard to find in the market when desired for holiday use. Likewise winter savory, and basil will come in handy.

BEAUTY SPOTS IN ORANGE COUNTY

The garage at the Peter Arnold Pinson residence, 1440 East Chapman avenue, Orange, has the appearance of a lovely rock garden and forms an attractive background for their garden, which is west and south of the home. Vines and shrubs conceal the greater part of the garage walls and on the roof is the rock garden built on a decided slope. Below at the right is the wishing well in the Pinson gardens. At the left is a shrub of the hawthorne family, pyracantha formosissima, at the home of Mrs. George Peterson, 414 East Palmyra avenue, Orange. At present the shrub, which is higher than the porch roof, is a mass of white blooms. The berries ripen at Christmas time and are a brilliant red. Mr. Peterson, an enthusiastic gardener, has more than 230 varieties of shrubs growing on a city lot, these including the Northern and Southern California wild lilac and five varieties of the holly tree.

Orange County Gardening

By Mrs. H. Cardoza Sloan, Corona Del Mar
Being sound advice and interesting comment on what to plant and how to care for Orange county gardens.

May Gardening: Right in the midst of spring-time gardening I have had to spend a week pinned to my bed by a "crick" in my back. I always try to get as much pleasure as possible out of every experience in life, and while it is difficult to extract much joy from an attack of lumbago, still even that has its points when it gives a hard-working person an enforced rest. And I cannot count as lost the hours I spent looking across the fields of waving grass, blue, grey, or white with moonlight, according to the hour and the weather. There was always a breeze and the tall grasses rippled and swayed, the light reflecting from their rippling heads. I thought of Swinburne's lovely lines—

Or where the wind's feet shine along the sea."

Some days the wind's feet were dancing so merrily on the sea that the blue water was flecked with white caps. And always the tides of grass ebbed and flowed in lovely, liquid movement. The linnet filled all the sunny morning hours with their rippling song, the larks fluted clear and sweet, the mocking bird, down in the ravine, poured forth his exuberant joy. While, for the undertone of poignant wistfulness which sounds through so much of life's music, there was the plaintive, reiterated call of the mourning dove and the faint ringing of the bell buoy at the harbor entrance. To tell the honest truth, I don't half mind being bedridden—though it did most woefully retard the gardening.

May Garden
There is ever so much to do in the May garden. All the warm loving annuals should be planted along toward the middle of the month, asters, marigolds, zinnias, verbenas, portulaca, phlox drummondii, tithonia. And the annual vines, morning glories, balloon vine, cypress and so on. Best to sow these annuals where they are to grow and thin if necessary. If you have unattractive spots where spring bulbs are ripening off, or have already done so, leaving the ground bare, sow vicia, a quick and easy annual. Grows about a foot high and blooms freely over a long period. "Red, white and blue" only feebly suggest the pleasing colors of the pretty little flowers.

Plant dahlias, tubers. Set out chrysanthemums. Keep on planting gladioli bulbs. Divide violets. Aphis are in fine fettle this time of the year. Keep busy with the spray gun and a nicotine spray. Thrips, too, need prompt suppression. Don't let these little devils get headway. If you get after them early enough a nicotine spray will soon finish them off. Otherwise try an oil spray or one of the new sprays with pyrethrum. Among all the garden pests I especially detest thrips. If you have fuchsias, for which thrips have an especial fondness, you might as well give a careful spraying every two weeks. Lead arsenate is the old standby for caterpillars and leaf choppers—1/2 pound to 15 gallons of water. Spread plenty of poison bait for snails and slugs. No matter how carefully you garden, it will be love's labor lost if you let the garden pests get headway. So get after them early and show them you mean business.

Encourage all plants and shrubs with fertilizer and ample watering. Same goes for your lawn, too.

And if, after all this you have time to think of next year's garden, start seeds of polyanthus primroses and columbine.

Perennial Borders
Mr. Sidney B. Mitchell, in his monthly garden chat in the May "Sunset" says, "Phlox, the standby of eastern summer perennial borders, is equally as good on the North Pacific coast, but not widely successful in California, where I have found pentstemon a satisfactory substitute, raising them from seed and selecting the best colors for propagation by cuttings. They are good perennials here."

The perennial phlox, I am happy to say, is being more grown in our coast region and sometimes quite successfully. I believe we shall see this splendid perennial doing quite well in our gardens along the coast when we learn a little more about its requirements.

But what I want to emphasize today is Mr. Mitchell's recommendation of the pentstemon, a fine perennial which grows for us with such ease and is so handsome that I wonder we do not see it more extensively used. It comes easily from seed and it planted early will bloom same year. Indeed, they are sometimes treated

Grow Beets For Leaves And Roots

Economy is the stock and trade of the garden best. It is grown for 100 per cent consumption, for the leaf, the root and the skin are all eaten, and are exceptionally healthy, too. Along with the radish, it is one of the earliest plants, and can be sown in the garden as soon as the ground is workable.

Thin sowing is not so important with the beet, in fact it is almost impossible to do this as the seeds, so-called, are really collections of seeds in a single husk and will result in bunches in spite of anything the planter might do to prevent it. Thinning can be done after the plants have reached a growth large enough to be pulled for greens.

Where baby beets are wanted to cook leaves and all, the plants should be left two or three inches apart in the rows. When the larger beet for buttering or pickling is desired this distance should be increased to six inches. It is a good idea to pull every other plant, using them for greens. The remaining ones will develop into baby beets, when they may be pulled, every other one again, and those still remaining in the ground will grow into the larger varieties.

A help to germination when planting is to tread the soil firmly around the seeds. The date of planting is to tread the soil firmly will admit of cultivation, and the beets may be grown the whole season long from the first of April to the first of August. It has become such a staple, in fact, that greenhouses have taken up their culture, making them available in the winter time as well.

Roots two inches in diameter are considered the best for home use. Those that grow larger are often times earthy tasting and somewhat woody. Select only the best seed possible, produced by a recognized seedsmen, to obviate the danger of poor quality plants.

Two or three varieties received awards in the All-America trials for 1934. They are Asgrow Wonder and Perfected Detroit, both early varieties bred for fine texture, rich and even color and uniform size.

As annuals, But they make good perennial plants, by trimming may be kept shapely and blooming over a long period. They like a good deep garden soil, full sun, and appreciate fertilizer and water in generous quantities.

Pentstemon make bushy plants 2 to 3 feet tall, amply foliaged, with many terminal spikes of lovely flowers, somewhat resembling foxglove spikes. "Gloxinia flowered," the garden hybrids are sometimes called. The colors are attractive, white, shades of pink, rose and crimson, mauve and purple.

There are many species of pentstemon, native largely to Western North America. We have a number of them in Southern California, of which the most beautiful is undoubtedly P. spectabilis, a noble plant up to 4 feet tall, full of vigor in branch, leaf and flower, with long spikes of blossoms, one to two inches long, of rich rose purple coloring. I have seen acres of this pentstemon on dry, burned-over hillsides near Idyllwild, a gorgeous sight.

Pentstemon is handsome enough for any garden, however exclusive, and easy enough for any, however humble. Try it, and prove its many excellencies.

CAPISTRANO SHOW TO BE CONTINUED

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, May 7.—Continuation of the Capistrano Flower show as an annual event was assured Saturday with the success of the second annual show sponsored by the Woman's club of San Juan Capistrano with the cooperation of the Future Farmers of America organization of the Capistrano union high school.

The 1937 event held in the auditorium of the high school drew into competition many of the local gardeners whose interest and enthusiasm in the annual meet was evidenced in the quality of the blooms, interesting arrangements and unusual plants entered in the show. Marked improvement in the various arrangements was particularly noticeable in comparison with the arrangements displayed in last year's show. This was found to be especially true in the school groups.

The auditorium filled with tables on which the many entries were placed was a veritable garden and a real enjoyment for everyone who attended. For those with an appreciation for the value of color and arrangement it was an especial pleasure. An interesting feature of the affair was the Orange County Library exhibit which filled one corner of the room. At the exhibit free pamphlets were available for anyone attending the show and books dealing with flowers, plants and gardening available through the county library were on display. Two interesting booklets, "Rock Gardening" and "Hobbies in Gardening," made up by WPA workers in Santa Ana were included in the exhibit.

The doors of the auditorium were opened to contestants at 7 o'clock Saturday morning. Visitors were admitted shortly after 10 o'clock, following the judging of the entries. To Mrs. Charles Petty and Mr. Hosmer of Laguna Beach went the difficult task of choosing the winners was made especially difficult. Mrs. Hosmer of Laguna Beach who was to have assisted in the judging was unable to be present. The selection of ribbon winners was made especially difficult due to the entry of a great number of arrangements and fine blooms of outstanding merit. A particularly fine arrangement done by the sisters of the mission convent drew many exclamations of those viewing the displays. A highlight of the show was the flowering cactus with its large crimson blooms entered by Mrs. Fred Stoffel.

An arrangement entered into by Lester Wandell and George Placentia of the seventh and eighth grades of the mission school drew the attention of many and gave the judges many moments of indecision. The judges declared the arrangement to be a perfect one and was unusual in that it was arranged by such youthful contestants. The two boys had combined blue verbenas as a base with dark blue petunias, light blue iris, and crowned these with white snapdragons, using a dead white vase as a container. The entry was finally judged winner of grand sweepstakes for the schools.

Grand sweepstakes prize for the entire show went to the business English class of the Capistrano union high school whose striking and unusual entry won for them the coveted prize. Placed against a royal blue background centering one end of the long auditorium, palm blossoms and palm leaves alternating were placed in a fan-shaped green, blue vase shot with gold. The arrangement followed the line of the vase in its arc shape arrangement. The palm blossoms and leaves were secured by Thelma Pierce and the vase by Helen Abel, both of the business English class. The arrangement was done by James Cook, instructor, with the assistance of the class.

Other awards made by the judges were: best single rose was won by Mrs. J. Roy Smith with a Johanna Hill bud; best bowl of roses, 1st prize, Mrs. A. W. Speer; and prize, Mrs. J. Roy Smith; honorable mention, Mrs. Charles

Hileman, Mrs. J. Roy Smith, Mrs. Frank Forster (two), and Mrs. Fred Stroehlein; Amarillas, 1st prize, Mrs. Louise Rios arranged by Mrs. Carl Romer; 2nd prize, James Cook; Gerbera, 1st prize, Mrs. Charles Crafts; 2nd prize, English, department of the Capistrano union high school; Iris, 1st prize, Mrs. Ruth Stewart; 2nd prize, Mrs. Ruth Stewart; honorable mention, Mrs. Buddy Forster; Cacti, 1st prize, Mrs. Fred Stoffel; 2nd prize, Mrs. J. Roy Smith; Charles Belardes; best bouquet other than bulbous flowers and roses, 1st prize, Mrs. William Babbage; 2nd prize, Mrs. J. Roy Smith; 3rd prize, Mrs. J. Roy Smith; 4th prize, Mrs. J. # ACT CALLS FOR STAFF OF 4,500

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The Social Security Act is administered by a staff of 4,500 in seven buildings in Washington and one in Baltimore.

Although the 2,500 clerks employed to set up account numbers and a wage record system in Baltimore are on a "temporary" basis, officials estimate that eventually a staff of 7,500 will be necessary.

It is expected that the wage record division will be transferred to Washington when building space is available or decentralized among the 12 regional offices in order to handle more conveniently the thousands of claims.

Employees of the Social Security board administer only the old age benefits, unemployment compensation and public assistance provisions of the act. Public health, child health and vocational rehabilitation work are in charge, respectively, of the Treasury, Labor and Interior departments.

The Treasury department acts as financial agent for the board collecting all taxes and making all disbursements.

In addition to 12 regional offices in key cities, the board has set up 116 field offices to handle claims and in the near future to handle applications for old age benefit cards, which has been the work of the Post Office department.

As claims for monthly old age payments and lump-sum retirement and death payments mount during future years, the number of field offices probably will increase to 400.

GOOD RECIPES

No matter how you may have been disappointed in your pie crust achievements, there is a way that goodness, making pie crust every time. That's the Honey Maid Graham Cracker way, and here is a complete Hawaiian Pie recipe that is one of the nicest, yet easiest pies in the world to make.

Hawaiian Pie

Crust: 2 1/2 cups Honey Maid Graham Crackers 1/2 cup butter 2 tablespoons sugar

Filling: 3-4 cup flour 2-4 cup sugar 1/2 teaspoon salt 2 eggs crushed pineapple with juice 1 tablespoon butter 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice

Crumble the crackers fine and mix with soft butter and 2 tablespoons sugar. Line buttered pie plate with two thirds of the mixture, pressing firmly against bottom and sides. Reserve remainder for top crust.

Mix flour, 3-4 cup sugar and salt. Add to pineapple, cook over hot water until mixture is thick. Then add butter and lemon juice. Cool, burn into crumb-like pan and top with remainder of crust, sprinkled over top. Bake in a hot oven (325 F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Six portions.

Strawberries On Shredded Wheat

Prepare berries as for ordinary serving. Crush an oblong cavity in the top of the biscuits, and fill the bowl of a teaspoon, removing the inside shreds from the basket of berries. Shell, then the biscuits thoroughly in the oven, then fill with the strawberries in their own juice, and serve with milk, cream, or sugar.

Asparagus Shredded Wheat Patties

2 bunches fresh asparagus, or 3 can of canned asparagus 1 cup milk 2 level teaspoons butter 1 level teaspoon flour 1/2 level teaspoon salt 1/2 cup parmesan cheese 8 Shredded wheat biscuits

Wash and cut the asparagus into small pieces, boil in salted water till tender. Drain and all one tablespoon butter. Salt and pepper to taste, and your own oil.

Quick Fudge

1/2 cup butter 1/2 cup sugar 1/2 cup milk 1/2 cup cocoa 1/2 cup nuts 1/2 cup raisins

Melt butter and sugar in a saucepan. Add milk and cocoa. Stir until thick. Add nuts and raisins. Pour into a greased pan. Cut into squares.

Quick, Delicious Cake Icing

1/2 cup butter 1/2 cup sugar 1/2 cup milk 1/2 cup cocoa 1/2 cup nuts 1/2 cup raisins

SOVIET BOOSTS SUNFLOWER USE

MOSCOW—(UP)—The spring sowing plan of the Soviet Union as fixed by the Council of Peoples Commissars calls for the sowing of a total of 234,045,000 acres of a total of 234,045,000 acres of sunflower seed.

The Council of Peoples Commissars of the union and autonomous republics, province executive committees and respective commissariats have been ordered to supply sowing plans to each state farm and tractor station, collective farm and individual peasant during February.

Of the total area to be sown, 16,735,300 acres are in state farms, 16,735,300 acres in collective farms and 1,966,750 in individual farms. Additionally 2,300,000 acres of virgin soil in the northern provinces will be broken and sown.

More than 47,000,000 acres will be sown to selected grain seeds, 7,000,000 to sunflower seed and 2,475,500 acres to selected flax seed and 2,750,000 to selected potatoes. Each state and collective farm is ordered to set aside a fixed percentage for the raising of seeds.

Specific directions are given for the sowing of land in given areas to crops which flourish best, such as sugar beets in sugar beet areas and cotton in cotton areas.

Large quantities of fertilizer are being delivered to the farms this spring.

Creamed Dried Beef on Shredded Wheat Biscuits

1 lb. dried beef chopped fine 4 level teaspoon wheat flour 4 level teaspoon butter 1 pint hot milk 1/2 cup cream 8 shredded wheat biscuits

Melt the butter in a saucepan, add beef, cayenne and flour, stir well and add hot milk, a little at a time, cooking till thick and smooth. Serve in biscuit baskets or on moistened biscuits.

Shredded Wheat Biscuits

Split the biscuits lengthwise, dip the bottom half quickly into cold milk, and place on plate on which it is to be served. Spread lightly with current, crab-apple, or grape jelly. Dip the top half in the milk, drain off all the milk possible, and cover the jelly. Spread the top in the same manner and decorate with little mounds of whipped cream, part of which may be colored with a little oil of saffron. Whipped into the cream: place in alternate mounds, topped with a little cube of the jelly. Nuts and dates, or nuts and figs, chopped together, may be substituted for the jelly, or the cream with the nuts and fruit.

VEGERONI IS AID TO FAMILY BUDGET TODAY

"Is it hard to make that food budget stretch over the entire month?" asks Nancy Baker of the Vegeroni Food Service. "The Register cooking school, 'yet the family experts just as delicious and satisfying meals at the end of the month as they did at the beginning when the budget wasn't the family skeleton. Well, then, buy a package, or two or three, of Vegeroni, and give the family and budget both a treat. This delightful food is truly one of those 'around the clock' lifesavers that can be served at every meal, in an infinite variety of ways, all delicious and all healthful."

"Try it for breakfast, make into little noodle cups, with an egg baked in each dairy cup. Even the teenage daughter with the 'finicky' appetite will ask for it, while the man of the family will be delighted to find that his breakfast was substantial enough to carry him through until lunch time."

"Or perhaps you want a lunch that is appetizing and delicious, yet warm and nourishing at the same time. For those hungry children rushing home from school. Then try Vegeroni and cheese, made in the usual manner, for the Vegeroni gives this old standby ever so much more flavor, and at the same time provides a vegetable, with their minerals and vitamins, that the children need."

"For dinner, try a one-dish meal, and there is no end to the delightful one-dish meals that can be prepared with Vegeroni. Here is a dish that the smaller members of the family can have, and at the same time will be acclaimed by the older ones—slice and cook until tender three medium sized onions in a little fat in a frying pan, add a pound of ground veal or beef, and stir and cook until browned. Then add No. 2 1/2 can of solid pack tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoon chili powder, salt and pepper to taste. Mix thoroughly and hot to a boil, and add a package of Vegeroni noodles or bow ties, cover the dish tightly, and allow to simmer slowly, without further stirring, for 10 or 15 minutes. Turn out on a large platter for serving, garnish with barley or pepper rings, and watch it disappear! A whole meal in itself, as good as it is 'good for you.'"

"In addition to hot dishes, Vegeroni makes the grandest salads imaginable. For picnics, try salad of Vegeroni small bow ties, sliced celery, mushrooms, with tuna or chicken, all mixed together with mayonnaise and served from the large jar in which it is packed. And for that buffet supper next Sunday evening, try a mold of salad with Vegeroni as the ingredient—you will be delighted at the exclamations of pleasure from your guests. Vegeroni is indeed a perfect food for every occasion, and more than deserving of the welcome it is receiving from home makers everywhere."

"There is only one vegetable macaroni for perfect results in recipes such as those given above, insist upon Vegeroni."

RELIQS OF 1904 FAIR FOUND

87. JOLITE—(UP)—Reminders of the almost forgotten World's Fair days of 1904 were churned up here by giant excavators working on great reparation projects. Masses of wooden pilings, buried in a little fat in a frying pan, add a pound of ground veal or beef, and stir and cook until browned. Then add No. 2 1/2 can of solid pack tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoon chili powder, salt and pepper to taste. Mix thoroughly and hot to a boil, and add a package of Vegeroni noodles or bow ties, cover the dish tightly, and allow to simmer slowly, without further stirring, for 10 or 15 minutes. ## OIL WELL PUT ON ADMISSION BASIS AT FAIR

FORT WORTH, Tex., (UP)—E. G. Wallace, Fort Worth oil man, wants operators of this city's Frontier Fiesta to take a lesson from the builders of the Empire State Building in New York City.

Owners of that huge building found revenue from renting space was low, but they made hundreds of dollars a day in admission charges from sightseers, Wallace wants to do the same thing with an oil well.

The city council granted Wallace a permit to drill a well on property adjoining the show grounds. If

Taming the Destructive Colorado River

With this massive wall of concrete and steel, forming the Buchanan dam northwest of Austin, Tex., the government is building a halter for the life destroying lower Colorado river. The 10,200-foot dam, shown in an upstream view, will create a reservoir for a million acre-feet of water, and will permit restoration of large areas devastated by flood waters. When the entire reclamation project is completed, there will be three other dams downstream from Buchanan dam to Austin. PWA and Bureau of Reclamation allotments totaling $20,000,000 were available for the work.

Schilling

he strikes oil, the city gets a 25 per cent share in the revenues.

But if the test is unsuccessful, as most geologists believe it will be, Wallace still would make money because he plans to charge 25 cents to all persons who want to see the well in operation. The Fiesta would get half of the gate receipts.

"If a gusher blows in, we might make some extra cash renting umbrellas," said James Pollock, business manager of the show.

KEN Murray

SAYS:

HOLLYWOOD, May 7.—Secretary Frances Perkins is out with the gladstone guesswork that unemployment in the U. S. may have vanished by the first of next year. Well, that'll be the best trick since Houdini made the elephant disappear. But I was just wondering, if everybody has a job by January 1, who are they going to get to watch the steam shovels excavating office building cellars and look at safes being hoisted to the 27th floor? And who's going to stand in front of the bird and animal store windows? The outlook's a little disturbing, on second thought.

And I see the Duke of Windsor is suing a London publisher for criticism of his reign. Imagine royalty having to go into court to prove the King can do no wrong—and then maybe getting an adverse decision, with costs.

Two Contenders for U. S. Post

R. Walton Moore

Sumner Welles

Congress considered establishing a new State Department post when a controversy arose over whether Sumner Welles or R. Walton Moore, assistant secretary, should be named under-secretary of state. Welles, who won recognition for Latin diplomacy, was said to have threatened retirement unless appointed. Moore was said to be favored by Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

PARTY TO HUNT ANTARCTIC GOLD

LONDON, (UP)—While Great Britain is celebrating the Coronation, 30 young men will quit the gayety and sail into the unknown.

They are the Walker Antarctic Expedition, who, after a year of hard planning, are to sail to the regions of the South Pole in a three-masted schooner on a survey expedition. With the aid of a plane, they also will search for gold and other precious metals.

All members of the expedition are young men under 30. They are being led by Commander E. W. Walker, who went to the Arctic in 1930 and 1931.

For 15 months this group of young men will brave all the worst rigors of the uncharted world. Accompanied by geologists, they will set up a base at Wood Bay and a sub-base at Ross Island, and, using a 200 m.p.h. plane, will fly over vast stretches of Iceland in an endeavor to trace the uncharted coastline of Oates Land—named after the heroic Captain Oates, who, rather than be a burden to his harassed companions, walked out into the ceaseless blizzard 25 years ago and died.

Risks To Be Great

"All of us know all the dangers in advance, and there will be no squealing once we have started," Commander Walker said. "Exploration, after all, is essentially a business for young men. Risks must be taken in dealing with the unknown, and they are surely better taken by young men who are unattached, and whose deaths would not cause sorrow to dependents. Only three of our members are married, and they have made ample provision for their wives and children."

"The aerial survey, a particularly hazardous business, is being undertaken by Robert Dickett, a brilliant 23-year-old pilot, who will have to fly over 1,000 miles of icy stretch."

"He will fly 300 miles from the main base to a fueling station, and from the fueling bases out and back again for a distance of 1,000 miles altogether. If anything goes wrong with his plane, and he has to come down on the ice it will not be a happy prospect for him, for even if there were any relief parties, we would not know where to find him."

Visions Vast Wealth
"The charting of Oates Land is important in itself, but we are going to the Antarctic well prepared for surprises, and it may turn out to be a treasure hunt as well. There is good reason to suppose that the Antarctic conceals fabulous wealth in gold, silver and radium."

"I have long had a theory, which is shared and partly proved by other specialists, that as the earth moves on its axis, the poles constantly change in position—which may account for the fact that some explorers claim that parts of the Arctic which were much colder years ago are becoming warmer—and that parts of the world, which, centuries ago, might have been ocean or mountainland now constitute the North and South Poles. "If that is so, there must be unlimited supplies of precious minerals awaiting exploitation. Prof. Albert Brammell, of the Royal College of Mines, will make researches in this direction."

Fifty Canadian huskies will be taken to draw the expeditions sledges, but no women are allowed, despite hundreds of offers from well-meaning women and girls.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., (UP)—A 50,000-pound vulcanizing kettle—believed the largest in the world—is used by the Simplex Wire and Cable company. The huge kettle issued to vulcanize electrical cables.

DOGS BARRED IN CITY HALL
PASADENA, Cal., (UP)—Pasadena's new $1,000,000 city hall is rapidly taking on the airs of an European royal palace. Following original restrictions against the entrance of bicycles and roller skates, dogs now are barred.

ESKIMOS PRIZE CANOES
SEWARD, Alaska, (UP)—Eskimos dance away their possessions in annual potlaches that last for days. They will put their wives on the block before losing their kayaks, or sealskin canoes, which are their most prized property.

BAKING POWDER RULES TOLD BY NANCY BAKER

Knowing that baking powder leavens cake, it is natural to assume that adding an extra half teaspoon to the amount specified in a recipe will give a cake greater lightness. The fact is that too much baking powder may cause sinking in the center, tough, gummy crust, coarse dry crumb, or cake that runs over the pan.

For best results, it is a good plan to follow two simple rules: First, always use the amount recommended on your baking powder can. With K. C. one level teaspoonful to a cup of flour is sufficient. This proportion has been worked out as best for that particular type baking powder. Second, measure carefully—an excess amount of baking powder does not produce best results. A level teaspoonful means that you must level off with a knife.

K. C. Baking Powder, which is used by Nancy Baker in The Register cooking school, is manufactured by baking powder specialists who make nothing but baking powder, under supervision of chemists of national reputation. The quality is always uniform—K. C. is dependable. Used according to directions, it will produce the finest of baked goods.

Method—Cut veal into serving pieces, season with salt and pepper and dredge with flour. Brown on both sides in hot Crisco in skillet. Add onions, chili sauce and water. Cover and bring to steam with unit on high. Turn to off and let cook on free heat for 30 minutes. Lift cover, sprinkle in grated cheese, replace cover and let cook 10 minutes longer. Remove meat to platter and stir Vegeroni into gravy. Add A-1 sauce. Serve around meat as border.

Ben Hur Spice Cake
1/2 cup Crisco
1 cup sugar
1 egg
2 cups sifted Globe A-1 family flour
2 teaspoons KC baking powder
1 teaspoon Ben Hur cinnamon
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon Ben Hur nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon Ben Hur cloves
1/4 teaspoon Ben Hur pastry spice
1 cup milk.
Method—Cream Crisco and sugar, add egg and mix well. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with milk. Pour into greased loaf pan. Set temperature control at 350 degrees and bake 50-60 minutes or until done. Frost with caramel frosting or powdered sugar frosting.

Apple Pie
1 recipe pie crust
5-6 large tart apples
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon Ben Hur cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon Ben Hur vanilla
1 tablespoon Crisco.
Method—Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry rolled to 1/8 inch thickness. Fill half full of apples. Sprinkle with half of the sugar mixed with cinnamon. Add remaining apples and sugar and moisten edges with water. Adjust top crust and seal edges tightly. Brush with milk or beaten egg white. Place in cold oven. Set temperature control at 375 to 400 degrees. Bake 40 to 60 minutes or with oven meal 1 1/2 hours.

Pompeian Fruit Dressing
1-3 cup vinegar
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Ben Hur mustard
1 teaspoon Ben Hur paprika
Mix well and bring to boil. Cool and add:
1 cup Pompeian olive oil
1 teaspoon Ben Hur celery seed
2 cloves garlic.

Popovers
2 eggs
1 cup Globe A-1 family flour
1 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon melted Crisco
Method: Beat eggs, add all other ingredients and beat vigorously. Pour into well greased popover cups and place in cold electric oven. Set temperature control at 375 degrees. Bake 1 1/2 hours with oven meal.

Ben Hur Spice Cake
1/2 cup Crisco
1 cup sugar
1 egg
2 cups sifted Globe A-1 family flour
2 teaspoons KC baking powder
1 teaspoon Ben Hur cinnamon
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon Ben Hur nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon Ben Hur cloves
1/4 teaspoon Ben Hur pastry spice
1 cup milk.
Method—Cream Crisco and sugar, add egg and mix well. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with milk. Pour into greased loaf pan. Set temperature control at 350 degrees and bake 50-60 minutes or until done. Frost with caramel frosting or powdered sugar frosting.

Vegeroni Loaf
2 cups cooked Vegeroni
1 cup dry Weber bread crumbs
2 eggs
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper.
1 cup grated or shredded cheese.
1 1/4 cup Iria solid pack tomatoes.
1/2 teaspoon Ben Hur mustard
1/2 teaspoon Ben Hur celery salt
1/2 teaspoon Ben Hur onion salt
1/2 teaspoon Ben Hur garlic salt
1/2 teaspoon Ben Hur paprika
1/2 teaspoon Ben Hur chili powder
2 drops Tabasco sauce.
Method: Combine all ingredients and place in buttered loaf pan. Put in cold oven, bake at 400 until brown.

SPARKLING STRAWBERRY JELLY
4 cups (2 lbs.) berry juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice, 8 cups (3-1/2 lbs.) sugar, 1 bottle Certo
Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add Certo, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1-2 minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin at once. Makes about 12 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

STRAWBERRY JELLY AND JAM
To prepare fruit, place 5 quarts uncrushed strawberries in kettle. Mix 1-2 cup sugar with fruit. This sugar is in addition to that specified below. Cover kettle and heat gently until juice starts to flow, then bring just to the simmering point. Separate juice from pulp by placing hot fruit in colander or sieve. For jelly: Run enough juice through a double layer of cheesecloth held in a small sieve to give 4 cups of strawberry juice. Squeeze and strain juice from 1 medium lemon. For jam: Use strawberries from which the juice has been drained. Use the excess juice to fill up last cup.

WHOLE STRAWBERRY JAM
4 cups (2 lbs.) strawberries
7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar, 1-2 bottle Certo
Measure sugar and strawberries into large kettle, mix well and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 3 minutes. Remove from fire and stir in Certo. Pour quickly. Paraffin at once. Makes about 12 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

Seafood LIKE FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

TASTES FAR BETTER WITH fresh MAYONNAISE

Nothing sets off the flavor of seafood like really fresh mayonnaise!

And here for the first time is genuine mayonnaise that's actually sold fresh—always. Nu Made is mixed fresh daily from finest ingredients and rushed direct to stores by auto. Every jar is dated. Unsold jars are picked up quickly and replaced with a fresh supply. The result is—Nu Made comes to your table with a wholesome, delicate freshness of taste never to be had before. Try it!

If you don't agree that this fresh mayonnaise is better, your money will be gladly refunded.

I NEVER DREAMED FRESH MAYONNAISE COULD MAKE SUCH A DIFFERENCE!

STORIES IN STAMPS

BY I. S. KLEIN

BUILT UP FROM A DISCARDED FORT

PRACTICAL, hard-headed naval officers of old objected to a school for midshipmen, other than the haphazard classes held aboard ship. For years efforts were made to get congressional approval of a land school, but not until 1845 was a way found regardless of action by Congress.

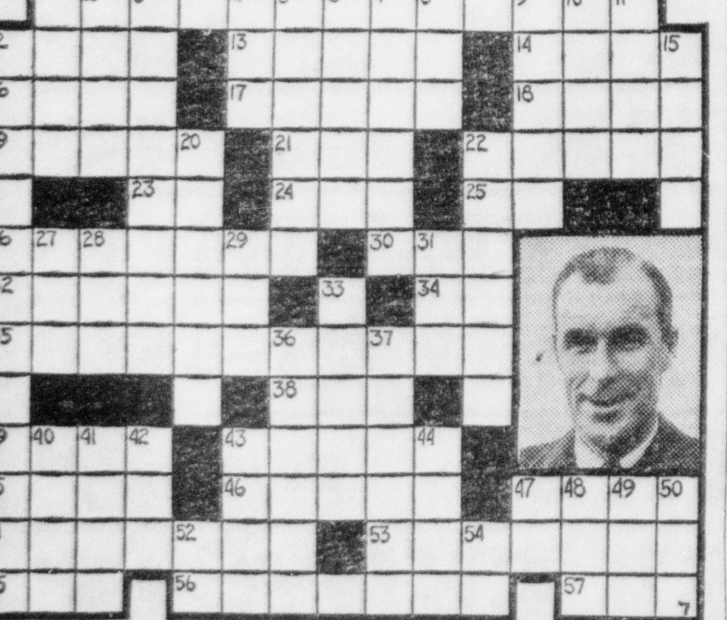

In that year, Secretary of the Navy George Bancroft had the abandoned army post of Fort Severn, at Annapolis, Md., transferred to the Navy Department, and there he applied some of the funds appropriated for instruction aboard ships to development of the first U. S. naval school on land.

By 1851, this makeshift school became the United States Naval Academy, now one of the largest and most efficient in the world. For four years, during the Civil War, the academy had to be moved to Newport, R. I., but it gained a vigorous lease on life with its return in 1865 and the appointment of Rear Admiral, later Vice Admiral, David D. Porter. A view of the academy appears on the new 5-cent navy stamp.

WARN SMALL SPECULATORS
ST. LOUIS (UP)—No. 1 troublemaker in the stock exchange is the little fellow who wants to plunge when he can't afford it. Or, as Thaddeus R. Benson, president of the Chicago Stock Exchange, politely put it while in St. Louis: "customers who want to speculate regardless of whether they can afford to do so, and who use little intelligent judgment."

LAW CRAMPS ANGLERS
DETROIT (UP)—Fishermen of Michigan will no longer be able to buy the fish they "caught." The law forbids the purchase or sale of game fish, which are listed as brook, brown and rainbow trout, sunfish, black bass, bluegills, graylings, perch, northern or grass pike, landlocked salmon, walleyes, muskellunge and warmouth bass.

OHIO COUNTY PROSPEROUS
FREEMONT, O. (UP)—Sandusky County attests prosperity according to the recruiting returns of the ACC. For the second consecutive time the county was unable to send a single applicant to Toledo for the physical examinations. Only youths from families eligible for relief are accepted for the ACC.

TELEPHOTO SHOWS BLAZING DIRIGIBLE SETTLING ON GROUND

This Acme telephoto transmitted from New York, shows the giant dirigible Hindenburg, blazing as a result of the explosive, settling to the ground at Lakehurst, N. J., the port it was to reach on its first trans-Atlantic trip of the season. Below, Capt. Ernst Lehmann, veteran commander of the Hindenburg, and aboard in an advisory capacity on her fatal trip, injured in the blast and flames which destroyed the world's largest airship. Photo shows Lehmann in the navigator's gondola of the dirigible.

ITALY SLOGAN BECOMES "WED AND LIVE LONG"

ROME, May 6.—(UP)—A new slogan designed to give Mussolini's "more babies" campaign another lease on life has been invented by Italian doctors.

"Marry, rear children and you will live longer," is their advice to Italian women and men.

Bachelors and old maids, they warn, have a shorter life-span. They cite Italian statistics to prove that married men and women live longer.

Dr. Giuseppe Alberti, writing in Piccolo, of Rome, declared the death-rate for bachelors is 11.3 per thousand and for married men 9.6 per thousand. He bases his conclusions on Italian figures for 1930-32.

Cites Effect on Old Age

Dr. Bruno Imbasciati, writing in the Corriere del Tirreno, Leghorn, said that four out of every thousand married women die at the age of 30 while five unmarried women lose their lives. The ratio, he asserted, increases with old age and there are many more married women than unmarried who pass the 90 mark.

Dr. Alberti's statistics for men were more complete. He said that from the ages of 25 to 34 bachelors die at the rate of 5.1 per thousand while married men only die at the rate of 4.2 per thousand. Between the ages of 45-54 the ratio is 10 and 7.6 respectively, while above 65 the ratio is 7.41 compared to 5.02.

The census of 1931, Dr. Alberti said, revealed there were 3559 married men over 90 while there were only 2997 bachelors.

The statistics for women, he added, were even more astonishing. In the same census (which he said was typical) there were only 792 unmarried women over 90 while there were 1150 married women and widows.

The same doctors also argued that marriage increased the physical beauty and attraction of both men and women. They denied statements that child-bearing aged or detracted from the beauty of women. Proper body care, they said, was all that is necessary for a mother to guard and even increase her physical beauty.

Aid Mussolini's Plan

These articles (and others have appeared in other newspapers) would seem inspired to encourage Italian men and women to marry.

In short that is what Mussolini wants them to do. But once married Mussolini wants them to start rearing babies. His campaign for a greater birth rate has, according to his own admission in his newspaper, Popolo d'Italia, virtually failed because of the luxury-loving and idle habits of the middle class.

The government has launched a new campaign to make larger families attractive. Special financial and tax concessions are being granted. Bachelors and spinsters are being penalized.

The statements of Italian doctors that married men and women have greater chances of living longer is being widely publicized to boost the birth-rate.

IRAN BUYS TRUCKS

CLEVELAND (UP)—The Society Anonyme Centrale, government transportation monopoly at Teheran, Iran, has purchased 130 heavy duty trucks from the White Motor Company, at a cost of $400,000. It is the largest single export order for trucks received by the company since the end of the World war.

ROOTS CROSSED KANSAS MINTS TO CURB FOES 2-MILL DISCS OF PEACH TREE FOR SALES TAX

WASHINGTON (UP)—Through a triumph of tree budding and grafting, the Department of Agriculture has developed a peach tree said to be immune from root-knot.

Root-knot, a disease which causes extensive damage to trees in the light sandy soils of the South and Southwest, is caused by the nematode, which lives in the soil and attacks the roots of the trees.

Two rootstocks for peaches, both so resistant to root-knot that they are virtually immune, have been introduced and tested by the department. Both promote vigorous growth of peach trees budded on them—also normal bloom and fruit.

Seedlings of the Shaili peach, a variety grown in the extreme northwestern part of Indiana, were reported resistant in 1934. Further tests have confirmed its desirability, the department said.

The second rootstock, a hybrid, is from a cross between the Quetta peach. The Shaili may be propagated from seed. The hybrid propagator and the Bolivian cling agates readily from root cuttings.

BERRY APPOINTED TENNESSEE SENATOR

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 7.—(UP)—Gov. Gordon Browning mailed to the United States senate today notice of the appointment of Major George L. Berry, federal industrial co-ordinator, as junior senator from Tennessee to succeed the late Nathan L. Bachman. Bachman died in Washington two weeks ago.

Berry, president of the International Printing Pressman's union, was endorsed by the state federation of labor and other groups.

In Major Berry, political observers said, the New Deal will gain another recruit in the battle over the president's judiciary plan and the $1,500,000,000 relief bill.

LIFE SAVING CHEMICAL
PITTSBURGH, May 7.—(UP)—Science has discovered a life saving chemical that may reduce by one-half the number of deaths from pneumonia. It was revealed here today by Dr. W. W. G. MacLachlan, Pittsburgh physician. The chemical is hydroxyethylapocine, a quinine derivative.

SCIENCE GAINS NEW INSTITUTE AND FACILITIES

PITTSBURGH (UP)—A "temple of science," given by the late Richard B. Mellon and his brother, Andrew W. Mellon, to advance the application of science for the benefit of mankind, will be dedicated here May 5 to 9 in elaborate ceremonies.

Visitors from many parts of the world are expected to attend ceremonies at the Mellon Institute's new building, which has been under construction for the last six years. The structure, whose rows of 62 stately monolithic columns give a simplicity and dignity of ancient Grecian times, will be dedicated in honor of the two Mellon brothers who founded the institute in 1913.

The new building replaces the institute building which was opened in 1915. Because Andrew Mellon has encouraged the institute in the type of research work which seeks fundamental knowledge in the realm of pure sciences, the new institute home will have a greatly expanded department in pure sciences such as chemistry, physics and biology.

In co-operation with the University of Pittsburgh and under the directorship of the late Dr. Robert Kennedy Duncan, the Mellons established the institute because of their conviction that the happiness of mankind depended on the progress of science. They believed that an independent non-profit scientific institution whose sole aim would be the search for truth, would be a useful gift to humanity.

Many Fellowships Offered
Since its founding, the institute has had 1150 industrial fellowships on 279 subjects of technology, on which as many scientists and engineers have been employed. About 650 novel processes and products have been invented or developed by fellows of the institute, and in 10 instances, fellow-ship inventions have created new industries. In this most advanced scientific workshop, research will be continued.

Dr. Edward B. Weidlein, director of the institute, said the task of piloting several thousand visitors through the new building will be done by members of the R.K.D. club, composed of fellows of the institute's research organization. The probability that one or more important scientific pronouncements will come from the dedication program was indicated by Dr. Weidlein in announcing subjects chosen by 10 of the noted scientists who will be guest speakers. Three Nobel laureates are among the guest speakers. They are Dr. Irving Langmuir, associate director of the research laboratory of General Electric company, Schenectady, N. Y.; Dr. H. C. Urey, editor of Chemical Physics, and distinguished for his co-discovery of "heavy" hydrogen, and Dr. W. P. Murphy, co-discoverer with Dr. G. R. Minot, of the liver extract treatment for pernicious anemia.

Mellon to Speak
Andrew W. Mellon was one of the speakers at the dedication exercises held on May 6. A. V. Davis, chairman of the board of the Aluminum Company of America, was the toastmaster at the institute's trustees' dinner held the evening of May 6. Speakers at that dinner were Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Dr. Benjamin T. Brooks, widely known for his work in petroleum chemistry, and Dr. F. C. Whitmore of Pennsylvania State college, president elect of the American Chemical society, succeeding Dr. Weidlein in 1938.

Two Divorce Suits Filed In Court

Charging cruelty, Mrs. Winnifred L. Lucas has filed suit in superior court for divorce from Philip S. Lucas.

The complaint, filed through Attorney H. Z. McKinney, of West and McKinney, recites that the couple married at Whittier in 1913, and separated last December 13. They have a daughter, aged 18.

Another divorce action was filed by Mrs. Audra H. Brown against Clark E. Brown, whom she charged with non-support. The Browns married in Santa Ana in 1931 and separated February 25, this year. Attorney Loren H. Smith represents Mrs. Brown.

PRO-ROOSEVELT WRITERS

We know of but three columnists in the United States who are pro-Roosevelt. They are Heywood Broun and Hugh Johnson, and Jay Franklin who writes, "We, The People".

The Register will run columns of all three of these writers.

While the publisher of The Register believes that the principles of spending more than the government is able to collect and centralization of control of business in the hands of the politicians can only lead to a lower and lower standard of living, it is believed fair and advisable to buy the best brains in the country to defend the Administration's policy.

These three writers of national reputation should be able to present the best word picture of the Administration policy.

The Register, as the readers well know, believes that these principles eventually will mean lower real wages and poor jobs for all. We believe, however, that our readers want both sides of every story and that they will understand, more quickly, the consequences of extravagant spending and government centralization of power by reading these writers' interpretations and then having their statements challenged and their inconsistencies pointed out.

The successful man always wants to know what those opposed to his ideas believe, and their method of reasoning. These three writers will give The Register readers a complete picture of the Administration's plans and ideas, so far as it is possible to get them.

We know of no other paper in the United States that is printing the writings of all three of these pro-Roosevelt columnists. There probably is no other publisher in the country who is more alarmed about the eventual results of these policies than the publisher of The Register. We believe that a fearless and honest presentation and discussion can result, in the long run, only in a better understanding by all.

IMPORTS UP

In the first quarter of 1937, America imported $113,959,000 more merchandise than exported.

This unfavorable trade balance is really much greater when imports of precious metals are included, as they should be. When the amount of money spent by United States citizens in traveling abroad is added to this, one need not get so excited about America being a debtor nation. She will again become a creditor nation if this continues.

It is pointed out that the gold imported for the present at least does not result in the importers buying American commodities. Instead of doing this, they have purchased American securities and deposited their money in American banks rather than increase their purchase of American agricultural and industrial products. These securities and bank deposits hang over us as a due-bill which we eventually will have to export.

TWENTY-SIX PERCENT MORE ACCIDENTS

The National Safety Council reports 8,500 traffic deaths in the first quarter of 1937. This is an increase of 26 per cent over the same period last year.

It is an alarming increase, with all the efforts made to curtail accidents.

A little peaceful home
Bounds all my wants and wishes;
add to this
My book and friend, and this is happiness.

—Francesco di Rioja.

INCREASE IN EMPLOYMENT

The Bureau of Labor Statistics has just estimated that there were 34,138,000 persons employed on non-agricultural industries in March, a gain of 8,241,000 in the four-year period since the low point of March, 1933.

The bureau's figure was 1,239,000 below the estimate for March, 1929.

The bureau points out, however, that there has been a large increase in number of employables since that date, accounted for by the natural increase in population in eight years.

In manufacturing, the gain in employment was the greatest, being practically the same as in 1929. Employment in construction, however, is nearly 30 per cent below the 1929 level; transportation 24 per cent below; public utilities, 16 per cent below.

These facts are of paramount importance, when it is remembered that half of the unemployed people in the world are found in the United States, much of which has lasted for seven long years, in a country that is supposed to be well governed.

WORTH MORE

In Ford's radio hour, he brings out a very interesting point that is overlooked by many employers and by many employees.

Ford says, the only way of increasing wages is to train men to be worth more, put into their hands the means to earn more, and wages will not depend on anyone's whim or be an additional burden to the public.

It is evidently the duty of every employer not only to furnish tools but to direct—to intelligently educate—to teach employees how to do more, and thereby earn more. When an employee refuses to learn, refuses to improve, refuses to try to do better, then there is little hope for an employer to raise the wages of a man of this type. The employee, of course, has to learn how to do things better. Wages cannot be artificial; they must be produced.

COMPARATIVE LIVING STANDARDS

The average per capita consumption of copper, lead and zinc for citizens of United States, Great Britain, France and Germany is 15½ pounds per year. The average per capita for the remainder of the world is 1.3 pounds per year. The same countries consume 22 pounds of steel per capita, while the United States consumes 244 pounds of steel per year per capita, or better than ten times as much.

There is wonderful market for the comforts of life if the rest of the world can be taught how to produce something that the more advanced nations want.

A comparison of consumption of these items very largely reflects the real standard of living—the amount of goods a people can consume.

AIRPLANES VS. BATTLESHIPS

Heywood Broun, in his article, has a very interesting discussion as to the effect the sinking of the battleship Espana by airplane will have on future wars.

If it is possible for an airplane to sink battleships, it might be extremely serious for a nation like Great Britain. It might change the whole face of Europe.

Broun's article is worth reading.

Carrying The Good News

Better Jobs FOR ALL

—By R. C. HOILES

Yesterday, we explained that in order to attempt to discuss a means of continuously bringing about better jobs for all, as a starting point, we would assume certain principles to be true and then see if any exceptions could be found. If not, we would use them as a starting point—as axioms. That is, as a guide for all other actions depending upon these principles.

Because we never found any exception to the statement that any man sooner or later will die, we conclude that "all men will die." We conclude that the statement is an axiom. So, then our theory as to what will make BETTER JOBS POSSIBLE FOR ALL, if we can find no exception to the assumptions, will lead us safely to the deduction that everything which is in harmony with these principles is right and things which are not in harmony with them are wrong.

The assumption with which we will start is as follows: We can think of only one way the wealthy continuously can raise the standard of living of all the workers in a country.

It is: By making their wealth constantly increase as rapidly as possible; that is, by making as much profit as possible on an honest competitive basis. In order to do this, intelligent education is necessary.

We might conversely state our hypothesis as follows: The only way the wealthy seriously and permanently can lower real wages of all workers is by not making their wealth constantly increase as rapidly as possible; that is, constantly making as much profit as possible on an honest competitive basis.

Now, if these statements are true, and there are no exceptions to them, we have a starting point with which to measure what will make BETTER JOBS FOR ALL.

Remember, if you accept these statements as true, then you will be inconsistent if you believe in many of the laws now on our statute books. Think hard before you finally accept them. If you can think of no exception, you then of necessity must accept them.

The part which we think the things in which God has placed them over us, and esteem them as a precious gift of God.

That is our idea of patriotism, loyalty and allegiance to our country and its government. We may not approve of their policies, we may criticize their actions, we may be of the opposing party and have worked hard for their defeat, but when elected and placed over us by the people, we recognize, honor, respect and obey them as representatives of God; God has placed them over us; they are instruments of God. We teach our children, and train them, to obey their government, not only as long as it happens to please them, not only when they can get something out of it for themselves, but at all times. They are to serve their country as in the presence of the all-knowing God. If that is not true loyalty and patriotism, then there is no such thing as patriotism.

For Mr. Weeks to intimate, that average reader has not considered is that there never has been any way of penalizing the wealthy individual who did not continuously attempt to make his wealth increase as rapidly as possible.

The reason combinations for restraint of trade lowers the real wages of all workers is that instead of increasing production to get what is wanted, it simply transfers wealth from one group to another. The group the wealth is prevented from reaching must thus do without many things they are entitled to. If the wealthy continuously increase the wealth of the country, it of necessity makes it easier to secure; that is, it reduces the real price to the consumer. The real price of anything and the only price that is of any importance is the human energy required by the individual to secure the desired wealth.

To illustrate, the more oranges produced in a country, the less the real price will be to the customer. The more milk, the more automobiles, in fact the more of anything produced, the lower the price will be to the consumer. The greater the quantity of anything produced, the less profit there will be to the man who furnishes the capital. The greater the percentage the worker receives, the smaller the percentage the owner of capital retains.

So, unfortunately for the worker, many of our laws have been based on the theory that we should protect capital and make a profit on capital whether it really serves the customer or not. This lowers the real wages of the worker. If we are thus to protect capital which makes a profit because of monopoly, we can have no real progress. Capital must be dissipated; that is, used in experiment. The old obsolete machinery and equipment which cannot produce enough to pay high wages must be discarded for new machinery and equipment that will enable the worker to produce more with a given amount of energy. This is the only way there can be continuously BETTER JOBS FOR ALL.

Education, of course, as to proper human relations—that no one has a right to consume excessively and make little if any self denial when others are in great need—is necessary in order to bring about a condition that will permit capital to rapidly increase so that there can be BETTER JOBS FOR ALL.

Can anyone think of any exceptions to our first major premise, or assumption?

Religious schools are unpatriotic, and point to the public schools as the only fountains of true Americanism, loyalty and allegiance to our State, when it is an open secret that the state schools are honeycombed with socialistic and communistic doctrines that have as their ultimate goal the destruction of our form of government, would be amusing if it were not so unjust.

We Lutherans are willing to finance our own schools beside paying taxes to support our state schools; under our form of government, which is still the best form of government, we need them both. But we Lutherans are not willing to be branded as unpatriotic, or have our schools denied the standing of educational institutions, because we consider, and teach, religion as essential to true education.

Ma went out to do the marketing and I went with her by request to help carry things, and I had my stick and I was hitting different things with it on my way passed, especially iron fences, sounding like machine gun fire, and Ma said, Now that's enough, throw that stick away.

Aw G, Ma, haley smokes good nite, that's my favorite stick, look at the handle I carved on it. I said, and Ma said, Then carry it in a gentlemanly manner.

Well G winners, Ma, what are sticks for? I said, and she said, That one will be for throwing away if you don't keep it quiet.

Well jimmie, Ma, it don't hurt the trees and things, does it? I said, and Ma said, It hurts my nerves, and it doesn't matter what it hurts, I told you not to do it and that should be sufficient without any whys and wherefores.

And we kept on going, me thinking, I'm going to hit one more thing, and if she don't say anything I'll hit a fireplug without Ma seeming to notice it, me thinking, Heck, I hit it so easy she probably didn't even hear it, so that don't count, I'm going to hit just one more thing.

Wich I did, being a mailbox, and Ma said, Now that's twice after I told you, you've had fair warning, give me that stick, and I said, Aw G, Ma, that was the last one. If I hit one more thing I'll throw it away by myself, honest and true, Ma, I said.

All rite, you'll throw it away, but not before I use it first, Ma said.

Meaning on me, wich she didn't get a chance, proving everybody has to obey the law sooner or later.

GOOD TOOLS

Tony was making a box for his wagon. He was trying to nail it together and making a poor job of it. His hammer landed anywhere but on the head of the nail. With a muttered impatience he let go the handle and grasped the hammer head by the claws and beat the nails home.

"That's a funny way to hammer nails, Tony."

"Isn't it? But this hammer is no good. You can't hit a nail with it."

"That's right," said the teacher. "It is badly balanced. It should carry downward on its own weight, but it doesn't. Try another one Tony."

Poor tools are expensive things. They teach children the wrong idea. Tony's hammer gave him the wrong feeling in his hand and arm. Unless he gets a good hammer at once and this feeling that has been registered in his muscular memory regarding hammers is corrected speedily, he will use a hammer the wrong way. Even when he gets a good one he will use it badly because he has been trained wrong.

It is customary to buy the cheapest possible materials for school children's use. That is necessary in one way. Public money for schools is scarce and must be made to go as far as possible. But there is a grade of cheapness that spells expense, and it has been reached when we buy paper that tears under the pencil, blots under the pen, blisters under color wash. It has been passed when we get chalk that cuts the blackboards and fails to make clear marks.

Aside from the fact that little service can be had out of such tools there is the more important fact that children get wrong impressions by using poor materials. "Please give me a paper of needles," said a child to the millinery teacher in a big trade school. "A whole package?"

"Yes, Some won't have points."

some will break, some will have eyes that cut threads, so I need a whole package to start with so as to save time coming after them."

"You won't find these needles like that. They are good ones. One of them ought to last you for six weeks or more."

"A needle? For six weeks? I never had such a needle. Where I came from we had to bring our own needles from home if we wanted good ones. My that's fine to have a good needle."

"You don't need to push on that saw son. Just shove it along gently and it will do the cutting. Don't put your weight on it like that. Here, lightly, just enough pressure to let the teeth catch."

"I can't saw that way. I have to push the saw or it won't cut for me." The boy had been used to handling a poor saw, one that had not been set right, or that could not be set right. He had learned to saw the wrong way, and it would take a lot of doing to teach him the right way now.

Buying books for children is another investment that calls for care. Don't buy the books that have poor paper, poor type, narrow margins. Such books strain the eyes and form bad reading habits. The eye habits that a child learns while reading are what make reading easy for him or a strain on him. Buy books that have good paper, not shiny. See that the type is clear and is large enough. If you buy one with the name of a good publishing house on it you are very likely to get the right kind. There is a cheapness that is too costly.

Mr. Patri has prepared a leaflet entitled, "Crying Children," in which he tells parents how to cope with the crying habit in children. Send for it. Address your request to Mr. Angelo Patri, Child Psychology Department of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope.

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

ECONOMY

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The millennium arrived last Monday. On that day, the house of representatives declined to pass a pension bill. Lobbyists, old-timers and insiders may not believe it, but the congressional record shows the house then refused to consider a bill appropriating $5,000,000 a year more for soldiers, sailors and nurses of the Spanish-American war.

When legislators decline to vote for pension bills, you may be reasonably certain that something is wrong with the world. In this instance, it is a fairly good indication that the appropriators are downright serious about setting President Roosevelt's budget aright.

In fact, those who have joined the house and senate appropriations committees in their corner sessions lately have it on top authority that Mr. Roosevelt's recommendation for a one and a half billion dollar relief appropriation would be cut to a flat billion.

A majority of the two committees are agreed on it. Their decision will be made public eventually.

CURTAILMENT

The committee men also have some bad news in store for Interior Secretary Ickes. The subcommittee of the house appropriations committee has decided to trim his PWA expenditures down to a point approaching abolition. What the subcommittee says usually goes, which means that the Ickes era of PWA spending is probably nearing an end, by congressional edict.

PWA expires June 30. A resolution extending it for two years has been under consideration by the subcommittee. Mr. Ickes has obligated the federal government for expenditures during this two-year extension period. In addition, he has $145,000,000 revolving fund, which amounts to a drawing account on the treasury.

The subcommittee has decided to let Mr. Ickes spend his $282,000,000 of obligations, but to cancel his drawing account. His $145,000,000 revolving fund is to be abolished. The money automatically is applied to curtailing the national debt.

In a word, this would be the end of the far-flung PWA, pet child of Mr. Ickes.

SENSE

If these things work out, you will have to thank it to congress. The workings of this democracy down the ages have created the general supposition that congress is the irresponsible spending agency and the executive is the sound retrenchment force. Now you have a situation in which congress, under able and quiet leadership, is taking the budget in hand to do an effective job on it. You have serious-minded legislators bent on a common sense revision of federal expenditures instead of trying to hog all they can from the federal treasury for their local districts.

It may seem to be too good to be true, and it probably is, but if the current drive is carried through, a lot of legislators who have just been ordinary congressmen for the last few years, will earn justifiable renown as statesmen.

PAPA WINS

What papa said, went. The Farley candidate for the secretaryship of the federal communications commission still is with the democratic national committee, hoping for a job in the commerce department. The successful candidate for the post was Thomas J. Slowie, secretary to Representative William S. Jacobsen of Iowa. His selection was dictated by the president's son and secretary, James Roosevelt. He was papa's candidate.

DE VALERA'S PLANS

Mr. De Valera's new Irish state proposal impressed authorities here far less than the headline writers. As they see it here, even if Mr. De Valera can achieve his goal, he does not intend to remove himself from the British commonwealth. He wants a status like that of Canada and Australia, but the big guns of the British royal navy are too comforting to be abandoned.

COURT

The latest check indicates Mr. Roosevelt cannot get six justices, no matter what he does. Even the house is against this. Many think the best he can get there is two justices and a constitutional amendment providing automatic retirement of judges over 70 or 75. The President, however, has given no indication that he would compromise even to the extent of half an eyelash of the sixth justice.

The truth is most legislators wish the court packing plan had never been offered. They would like to forget about it. They feel that it is only a personal issue with the President, and less important than he seems to believe it. Rumor also persists at the Capitol that two court members intend to resign after the present term ends. If that should develop, then all the hard feeling engendered by the court fight would have accomplished minus zero.

OUTLET

The demagogue club is growing rapidly. Legislators find it an excellent outlet for objections they do not care to voice in public. It has become so well organized now that groups of members are being assigned subjects upon which to debate. One group has the power trust, which is always a superbly denounceable subject. To another group is assigned war, etc.

One member strolled in the other day and spent 20 minutes denouncing a bill. After having aired these conscientious objections from his chest, he announced he would go out and vote for the bill—and he did.

Another member pointed out that the lobbyists of a veterans' organization were sitting in the gallery to keep a check on the votes of members. He denounced them in forthright terms, but decided that, after all, perhaps he had better keep on the right side of the veterans. Said he:

"It will show the head of that organization that he can be as demagogic as he can."

He proved his point.

REGISTER CLEARING HOUSE

(The articles under the Clearing House are published for the purpose of an exchange of ideas and are not necessarily the opinion of this newspaper. Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.)

Editor Register: In the issue of May 4th Henry Weeks takes a very decided stand against Assembly Bills Nos. 2340 and 2342, which would enable private schools to receive State tax money for their own text books, etc. I heartily agree with Mr. Weeks, that these bills should not pass. Private schools should be financed by the parties operating them.

However, in his letter Mr. Weeks has made statements that I cannot pass unchallenged and uncorrected. He says, "It is a misnomer to call these 'private schools' educational institutions. They are 'religious institutions.'" Since when is religion a foe to education? Ten years ago Roger Babson investigated 70 leaders in industry and business. All of these 70 men had praying fathers and mothers. He adds, "And that, I believe, was the secret of these men's power." "Religion makes men strong, at least stronger than they would have been without it." Washington, Lincoln, Coolidge, both the Roosevelts were religious men. Many of the world's most highly educated men and women have been deeply religious; aye, many of our foremost men have received their education in religious schools, colleges and universities.

St. Paul's Lutheran church in Olive has operated a parochial school for the past thirty years and is not ashamed to place its educational achievements, also in its regular branches, alongside of any other school. Our graduates have been a credit to the high schools into which they have entered without a special examination. Mr. Weeks should examine the lists of honor students of the Orange Union

High school; he will be surprised to find that so many of them have come from 'private,' religious schools. Religious schools (I am speaking for the Lutheran Parochial Schools) are educational in the highest sense of the term, because they do not only train the mind but also the heart. Lutheran schools too "educate the children of American citizens in the duties, responsibilities, privileges, and loyalties of their national heritage. It trains them to provide for themselves and their families in a competitive business and industrial world," and it does this efficiently, because it teaches and trains them to do so in the fear of God and not with an eye only to their own profit and advantage.

Mr. Weeks says, "If the personally directed 'conscience'—is to be the measure of their allegiance to the state, they thereby classify themselves as owing an allegiance to something or someone higher and above the state." "If it is RELIGION with its loyalty firstly, to a directed conscience, and secondarily to their country, then they must suffer the conditions they themselves have created." These words insinuate, if not actually declare, that religious schools are unpatriotic. Again I shall answer for our Lutheran Schools. To make such a charge simply proves that Mr. Weeks knows nothing at all about the Lutheran schools of Orange County. He is making himself guilty of passing a condemning sentence without having heard the evidence.

We Lutherans do place our allegiance to God above allegiance to the State. However, this fact, far from making us disloyal to our country, is the greatest incentive and inducement to real, true loyalty to our country. Confessing our allegiance, loyalty and submission to God, we are conscience-bound to give our allegiance, loyalty and submission to that Government which rules over us, for that is what God demands of us. I dare Mr. Weeks, or anyone else, to produce a more ideal and perfect loyalty to ones country than that which God demands, and which we teach to our children, in these words: "Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: The powers that be are ordained of God. Whosoever therefore resisteth the power resisteth the ordinance of God; and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation. For rulers are not a terror to good works but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same, for he is the minister of God to thee for good." Rom. 13, 1-4. "Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience' sake. For, for this cause pay ye tribute also: for they are God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing." Rom. 13, 6. God says in His Law, "Thou shalt honor father and mother." Explaining this command our Catechism declares, "Parents and masters are all those who, according to God's ordinance, are placed over us in home, state, school and church." It furthermore declares that we honor them, "when we truly regard them as God's representatives, of our own accord do for them what we can, obey them in all things in which God has placed them over us, and esteem them as a precious gift of God."

That is our idea of patriotism, loyalty and allegiance to our country and its government. We may not approve of their policies, we may criticize their actions, we may be of the opposing party and have worked hard for their defeat, but when elected and placed over us by the people, we recognize, honor, respect and obey them as representatives of God; God has placed them over us; they are instruments of God. We teach our children, and train them, to obey their government, not only as long as it happens to please them, not only when they can get something out of it for themselves, but at all times. They are to serve their country as in the presence of the all-knowing God. If that is not true loyalty and patriotism, then there is no such thing as patriotism.

For Mr. Weeks to intimate, that
